VS.

ALBUQUERQUE SIX GUNS

EXHIBITION GAME

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1973 / SALT PALACE / SALT LAKE CITY / 7:30 P.M. / 25¢

TONIGHT'S PROGRAM . . .

. . . is a special one just for this evening's exhibition game vs. the Albuquerque Six-Guns, one of two expansion clubs in the Central Hockey League (the other being Oklahoma City). The Golden Eagles wish the Six-Guns luck and success in their new venture.

Beginning Tuesday night, programs will again be full-sized featuring Golden Eagles' players and action on the cover. Tonight's cover was designed by Paul Hasegawa.

Gordon Wilson, A&R Sponsor 'Shoot'

The Eagles are again happy to announce that Gordon Wilson Chevrolet will be sponsoring the popular "Puck Shoot," with three lucky fans each game having an opportunity to shoot the puck to win a 1974 Vega and the prize from A&R Meats. Tonight the three fans will be chosen by their reserved seat ticket stub, but beginning next Tuesday and through the regular season they'll again be selected by the Lucky Number in their game program. Good luck!

ver victory in Phoenix in the final game of the season) of reaching the post-season activities last year in an unusual campaign. A torrid start, a frigid mid-season and a blazing finish left Totems fans, and players, with chills. During the off-season the Totes lost Bobby Walton, leading scorer and All-Star center, and most valuable defenseman Dave Dunn will probably stay with Vancouver. Larry McNabb, as noted above, is gone but several of last year's maintains will be returning All-Star left-winger Danny Seguin is one and another prolific point-getter, Brian McSheffrey, is another. Plus, and this is a big "plus" for the Totems, they have a wealth of available goaltending talent: Dan Brady, Bruce Bullock, Ed Dyck are all possibilities.

The Denver Spurs, the Eagles' opponents next Tuesday, made it to the playoffs last season, and fell before the Golden Eagles in a swift, well-played five-game series. Their new coach, former ace defenseman Bob McCord, figures to have a talented crew: so confident is McCord that he let outstanding center Murray Keogan drift away to Phoenix, several other young skaters went to San Diego, and Chuck Hamilton and Claude LaForge were released. To replace proven pros such as those, the Spurs figure to have an abundance of good young talent. Jack Borotsik, a good scorer, is back and the Spurs might retain Mike Lampman, a leftwinger who had the best goals/games ratio. If goalie Bob Johnson returns to his champion form of two years ago, the Spurs could be plenty sharp.

Plus, and this is a big "plus" for the Totems, they have a wealth of available goaltending talent: Dan Brady, Bruce Bullock, Ed Dyck are all possibilities.

The San Diego Gulls, third-place finishers last year, have to make up the loss of MVP and All-Star goalie Ken Broderick, but with the tough defensive corps in front of whomever is manning the nets, they may very well get away with it. Newcomer John Adams (from the Boston organization) joins vet Bobby Champoux between the pipes. Just in front of them will be veteran defenseman John Miszuk, Al Lebrun, Jim Graham, Roger Lafreniere (obtained from Denver) and Connie Madigan. The forwards show classy vets and speedy youngsters: the former include Gerry Goyer, Bob Courcy, Willie O'Ree, George Swarbrick and Jim Stanfield; some new youngsters include Mike Bloom, Al Genovy and Laurie Yaworski. Coach Jack "Tex" Evans promises another tough squad this season.

The Phoenix Roadrunners, playing what promises to be their final season in the W.H.L., are hoping to repeat their twin championship successes of last season. The big hole to plug may be in the nets, with

Gofton

All-Star goalie Don Caley still maintaining his retirement is real. All-Star Andre Hinse has been making threatening noises about leaving and versatile Brent Meeke is now in a Salt Lake uniform. However, the Runners picked up Keogan, Dale Yutsyk and Andre Aubry from Denver (St. Louis) and with scrappy John Gofton, Bob Barlow, Wayne Hicks, Howie Young, et al from last year's club returning still have plenty of firepower.

All in all, the W.H.L. race commencing this weekend promises to be one of the most bitterly contested in its 26-year history.
