STAR-GAZING, 1979-80: BETTER & BRIGHTER

The new, exciting world of women's professional basketball heads into its second season featuring 14 teams in three divisions stretched across the country, including the flashy Stars of New York.

The Stars gained a playoff berth last year with a 19-15 record; better and brighter things loom ahead as the Stars shoot into their new home, Madison Square Garden, under a new head coach, Dean "The Dream" Meminger, and a revamped, recharged line-up.

Meminger, the New York favorite who played on the Knicks' championship squad of 1971-72, will devise his strategy around 6'2" All-Pro center Althea Gwyn, a Queens College stand-out who led the WBL in rebounding last year and ranked third in scoring.

Joining Gwyn upcourt will be newly-acquired Denise Craig, the league's second-leading rebounder last year, Olympian Gail Marquis, and the identical blondes from North Carolina, Faye and Kaye Young. Back-court performers include shake-and-bake artists Janice Thomas, Pearl Moore, and the #1 draft pick of 1979, Sharon Farrah.

Get in on sports history and watch the Stars come out in Madison Square Garden for the first time ever! The 18-game home schedule, featuring several charity games at the Main Arena and eleven contests at the Felt Forum, kicks off on Saturday, November 17, against the San Francisco Pioneers. Season and individual game tickets are on sale now!
