2009 Media Guide History

The Boston Breakers return to women's professional soccer under a new ownership group, Boston Women's Soccer LLC. Originally founded in 2000 as a charter member of the Women's United Soccer Association (WUSA), the Breakers were one of eight teams in the first U.S.-based women's professional soccer league that played three seasons (2001-03) before the WUSA suspended operations in September, 2003.

League founding players Kristine Lilly, Kate Sobrero (now Markgraf) and Tracy Ducar headlined the Breakers roster all three seasons, along with international stars that included Germany's Maren Meinert and Bettina Wiegmann and Norway's Dagny Mellgren and Ragnhild Gulbrandsen.

During the three-year tenure of the WUSA, the Breakers were a successful organization both on and off the field:

- In 2001, Kate Sobrero received the WUSA "Humanitarian of the Year" award and the Breakers organization hosted the WUSA Championship Game at Foxboro Stadium which drew over 23,000 fans.
- In 2002, the Breakers team received the WUSA "Community Service Award" and Joe Cummings, President and General Manager, was honored by the league as the Executive of the Year. The front office was recognized for their efforts in notching league leading attendance and total ticket revenue figures.
- In 2003, the Breakers finished the regular season in first place and moved on to the WUSA playoffs (where they eventually lost to the Washington Freedom). Other accolades achieved by the Breakers included Coach of the Year (Pia Sundhage), League MVP (Maren Meinert), WUSA All-Star Game MVP (Meinert), and for the second year in a row, Cummings was recognized as the Executive of the Year.

In April, 2007, the Boston Breakers were re-established as one of seven franchises announced in the Women's Soccer Initiative (now Women's Professional Soccer – WPS). Boston's ownership group is comprised of six individuals: Gary Loveman, Lyman Bullard, Alex Zecca, Louis Hernandez, a silent partner, and managing partner, Michael Stoller.

The front office staff is led once again by Cummings (President and General Manager), who was involved in the four-year league revival effort. Cummings also held a dual role with the Breakers and WPS as the league's COO up until October, 2008.

Head coach Tony DiCicco will lead the soccer operations and team side of the organization. As the former U.S. Women's National Team head coach, DiCicco brings an unprecedented amount of experience, achievement and knowledge to the team.

On September 16, 2008, the league allocated members of the U.S. Women's National Team to each team, and Boston received former Breakers Lilly and Angela Hucles, in addition to Heather Mitts. Subsequent drafts saw stars such as 2008 FIFA Women's World Player of the Year finalist Kelly Smith of England, as well as exciting young forwards Amy Rodriguez (first overall pick in the 2009 WPS Draft) and Brazil's Fabiana.

General Manager

Joe Cummings has been a pioneer of soccer in the United States for more than 35 years. His career has encompassed experiences on both the coaching and administrative sides, covering the youth, high school, college and professional game.

Cummings comes to the Boston Breakers from New England Soccer School and Amesbury Sports Park. As CEO and Executive Director, he was charged with developing the business plans for the soccer school, clinic and academy programs. He also oversaw all operational, financial, marketing and promotional aspects of the Amesbury Sports Park and Sports Turf International, a synthetic turf company.

Prior to that, Cummings was the Venue Manager at Gillette Stadium for the CONCACAF Gold Cup, managing all aspects of the summer competition involving teams from Canada, Costa Rica, Cuba and the United States.

During the 2004 Major League Soccer season, Cummings served as the Technical Director for the New England Revolution, where he oversaw all aspects of the Revolution Academy, team administration, player personnel, pre-season/post-season/off-season scheduling, and contract negotiations. He also served as President of the National Soccer Coaches Association in 2004, managing the 15 member board of directors.

Cummings began his foray into soccer administration at the professional level as the Director of Operations for the 1996 Summer Olympics at the Birmingham, Alabama venue, where he was responsible for all logistics pertaining to soccer competition.

Following the Olympics, Cummings returned to his native New England to become the Director of Operations for the New England Revolution during the inaugural season of MLS. He spent three seasons with the team and was promoted to Assistant General Manager in 1998. During his tenure with the Revolution, Cummings played a key role in securing and managing large-scale international soccer matches at Foxboro Stadium, including several U.S. Women's National Team events.

In 1999, Cummings was appointed the Director of Operations for the Women's World Cup matches at Foxboro Stadium, where he oversaw some of the most spectacular and best-attended soccer matches ever held in New England. He left the Revolution in July, 1999, following the Women's World Cup, to serve as the General Manager of Mass Pro Soccer. He held that post until May of 2000 when he took the helm of the Boston Breakers in the WUSA.

Cummings served as the President and General Manager of the Boston Breakers from May 2000 through the final year of play in 2003. During that time the Breakers received the Team Community Service Award, Fair Play Award, Coach of the Year Award for Pia Sundhage, MVP Award for Maren Meiner, and Cummings was twice selected Executive of the Year, the only league administrator to receive the award. The Breakers also led the WUSA in attendance for two of the three seasons and consistently ranked as the top sponsorship revenue generator.

Cummings' remarkable career and interest in soccer began over thirty years ago when he coached at the youth level and founded the Northboro Youth Soccer Association program. He went on to coach the junior varsity and varsity boys' soccer teams at Algonquin Regional High School in Northboro, Massachusetts in 1976. Cummings was inducted into the Algonquin Regional High School Hall of Fame in November, 2001. After seven years of coaching at his alma mater, Cummings became the head coach of the men's team at College of the Holy Cross, where he coached for two seasons.

Cummings is one of only two coaches in the history of the Central Mass Soccer Coaches Association to receive all four major awards: Coach of the Year, District Champions, Outstanding Contributor and the Sportsmanship Award. He was inducted into the New England Soccer Hall of Fame in 2000.

A 33-year resident of Upton, Mass., Cummings and his wife Ann Marie have two sons, Joseph and Paul.

Head Coach

Former U.S. Women's National Team head coach Tony DiCicco is one of the most recognizable names in women's soccer. DiCicco guided the USA to the 1996 Olympic Gold Medal and the historic 1999 World Cup championship, while accumulating a record of 103-8-8 – making him the all-time wins leader in U.S. National Team Soccer history.

For six years DiCicco was the head coach of the U.S. Women's National Team. His 1999 Women's World Cup squad changed the face of women's athletics forever, winning the championship over China in front of the largest crowd in women's sports history (90,185 at the Rose Bowl in Pasadena on July 10, 1999) and a worldwide television audience. He also guided the U.S. team to a third-place finish at the second FIFA Women's World Cup in Sweden in June of 1995 and championships at U.S. Women's Cups in 1995, 1996, 1997 and 1998. DiCicco and the USA Women's National Team also won the Goodwill Games Gold Medal in 1998. The 1996 Olympic Gold Medal team has recently been inducted into the United States Olympic Hall of Fame.

After the World Cup triumph, DiCicco served as the WUSA's COO in 2001 and its Commissioner in 2002 and 2003 and the Chairman of the Re-launch committee in 2004. Most recently, DiCicco served as head coach of the U.S. Under-20 Women's National Team, guiding the Americans to the 2008 FIFA U-20 Women's World Cup championship in Chile.

Before becoming the head coach of the U.S. national team, DiCicco had served as the squad's assistant coach since 1991, working with the goalkeepers during the USA's triumph at the first FIFA Women's World Cup in China in 1991. He also served as the goalkeeper and assistant coach for the 1993 Under-20 Men's National Team at the 7th FIFA World Youth Championship in Australia.

A 1970 graduate of Springfield College (Mass.), DiCicco majored in physical education. A goalkeeper, he was the captain and most valuable player his senior year, earning All-America honors. DiCicco played five years of professional soccer in the American Soccer League with the Connecticut Wildcats and Rhode Island Oceaneers, where he was team MVP and captain. In 1973, DiCicco toured and played for the U.S. National Team.

In 1981, DiCicco founded SoccerPlus Goalkeeper Schools, which has grown to over 20 camps nationwide, and started the SoccerPlus FieldPlayer Academies in the summer of 1998. He has served as the goalkeeper specialist for the National Soccer Coaches Association of America (NSCAA) and has conducted both U.S. Soccer and NSCAA national licensing camps. He holds both the U.S. Soccer "A" license and the NSCAA Premier Diploma. DiCicco founded the FSASoccerPlus Football Club in 2003 and serves as the club's Technical Director.

DiCicco, who was appointed as a member of the FIFA Panel of Instructors and Lecturers for Coaching visited Santiago, Chile to help promote the FIFA U-20 Women's Championship. He has authored three soccer DVD series, Goalkeeping, the DiCicco Method; The 3 front System 4-3-3; and Champions Soccer Series featuring Brandi Chastain and has completed a book, along with Dr. Colleen Hacker entitled "Catch them Being Good".

DiCicco started soccer programs at Bellows Falls Middle School in Bellow Falls, Vt., and South Catholic High School in Hartford, Conn. He also coached the Hartford Hellenic and the Hartford Italian Stars of the Connecticut Senior League and served as an assistant coach for intercollegiate men's programs at Central Connecticut State University and the University of Hartford. He is a 1966 graduate of Wethersfield High School in Connecticut, where he lettered in soccer, baseball and basketball.

During the 2003 and 2007 FIFA Women's World Cups he worked on the TV crew for ESPN and at the 2000 Olympics DiCicco was an analyst for NBC. DiCicco has also recently started SoccerPlus Education Center, a non-profit company that provides seminars, leadership and outreach programs for young student athletes.

Assistant Coaches

Lisa Cole, Assistant Coach

Lisa Cole brings over a decade of coaching experience at both the collegiate and semi-professional level, along with experience in soccer operations and management to the Boston Breakers. Currently, she is the President and Assistant Coach of SoccerPlus Connecticut Reds, a Women's Premier Soccer League (WPSL) team coached by DiCicco. The team played its inaugural season in 2007, capped with a USASA U-23 National Title, a USASA Bronze in the Open Cup, and a WPSL playoff run. In addition, Cole is the Director for the SoccerPlus Education Center, a non-profit organization that provides and participates in educational programs, seminars, community outreach events and individual mentoring on and off the soccer field.

Cole's collegiate coaching experience includes a year at Florida State, where she served as assistant coach under renowned head coach Mark Krikorian and advanced to the NCAA College Cup in 2005. Prior to that, she served as head coach of the University of Rhode Island (2003 and 2004), where she compiled a 19-18-4 record and a 13-6-3 record in Atlantic 10 play.

Before taking over the Rhode Island program, Cole spent three seasons ('00-'03) as an assistant at one of the most successful college soccer programs in America while working at the University of Connecticut under Head Coach Len Tsantiris. During her tenure, UConn made two appearances in the Elite Eight and one trip to the Sweet 16. Notably, Cole also developed walk-on goalkeeper Maria Yatrakis, who played for the Greek National Team in the Olympics and won 2002 BIG EAST Goalkeeper of the Year honors. Prior to UConn, Cole served as an assistant at Mississippi from 1997-2000 where she helped guide Ole Miss to its first-ever SEC Western Division Title and SEC Tournament final in 1999.

Cole is a member of the Region I Olympic Development Program (ODP) staff, a staff coach with the NSCAA, and a member of the Connecticut Junior Soccer Association Coaches Education Staff. Throughout her career she has also worked with the Washington, Mississippi, Rhode Island and Connecticut state ODP programs. She holds her USSF "A" License and her NSCAA Premier Diploma. As a college player, she had a stellar career in net at Pacific Lutheran, where she graduated with a bachelor's degree in 1997.

Katie Shields, Assistant Coach

Katie Shields was added to the Boston Breakers staff as an assistant coach for the 2009 season. Shields will continue to serve in her current positions as both the assistant women's soccer coach for Harvard University, and as Assistant Director of the SoccerPlus Goalkeeper School.

Shields was a standout goalkeeper for Harvard, garnering All-Ivy League accolades all four years, in addition to NSCAA First-Team All-Northeast Region honors in 2005 after recording a school-record 11 shutouts. She finished her career ranked second all-time at Harvard in minutes played (4,145), third in total saves (272) and fifth in save percentage (.863). She led the Crimson to an NCAA Tournament appearance in 2004, and her .908 save percentage in 2005 is the 10th-best single-season performance in NCAA history.

After graduation, Shields held assistant coaching positions at Arizona State and UC Irvine before rejoining her alma mater as goalkeeping coach in 2007. During her first season, Shields helped coach Crimson goalkeeper Lauren Mann to Second-Team All-Ivy League honors. She continued her coaching success this past year, helping the Crimson to a 10-3-5 record, an Ivy League title and a berth in the NCAA tournament.

Harvard Stadium

The Boston Breakers announced Harvard Stadium as its home venue on April 2, 2008. The Breakers will kick off play at the historic athletic facility in April of 2009.

Harvard Stadium, with a FieldTurf™ surface, is the centerpiece of the university's athletic facilities and has stood as a Boston landmark for more than a century. In addition to the Breakers, the Harvard Football team currently plays there, along with other varsity and intramural sports, as well as the Boston Cannons professional lacrosse team. The Stadium was upgraded in 2006 with the addition of the new surface, permanent lighting and a removable all-weather bubble which allows for year-round use of the facility.

"The Boston Breakers are pleased to call Harvard Stadium our home for the opening season of WPS in 2009," said Breakers President and General Manager Joe Cummings. "We are certain the passionate soccer fans of the Boston Breakers will once again support the team in league leading numbers. The stadium configuration offers our fans perfect sight lines for soccer and will provide a real home field advantage."

The size of Harvard Stadium and its scaleable seating options will easily accommodate Breakers crowds, while providing the feel of a major stadium. The stadium's proximity to public transportation on the MBTA's red line was also a contributing factor in the selection.

"We're thrilled to welcome the Breakers to Harvard and to play a role in helping grow women's soccer across the country," said Harvard University Athletic Director Bob Scalise. "Harvard Stadium has played a role in many historic sporting events over the years so it's fitting that it should play a role in the launch of this new league."

Nestled in a spectacular setting next to the Charles River and with the Boston skyline on the horizon, Harvard Stadium ranks among the nation's finest athletic facilities. Built in 1903, it is also the nation's oldest stadium. Harvard Stadium is a horseshoe containing architectural elements of a Greek stadium and Roman circus and is considered an engineering marvel, as it was the world's first massive reinforced concrete structure and the first large permanent arena for American college athletics. With a seating capacity of 30,323, Harvard Stadium is praised for its outstanding sightlines for fans.

Harvard Stadium is recognized as a National Historic Landmark and is one of just three athletic arenas to be so designated. The Yale Bowl (built in 1914) and the Rose Bowl (built in 1922) are the other two.

Marcia McDermott - General Manager

Marcia McDermott is the first General Manager of the Chicago Red Stars.

Her background as an elite player, coach and administrator has made McDermott one of the most respected leaders in American soccer. A successful career as a player with the legendary University of North Carolina teams of the late 1980s and coaching success at the collegiate and professional levels provide a strong foundation for her new position as Chicago's General Manager.

McDermott launched the women's soccer program at Northwestern in 1994 and led the Wildcats to a pair of NCAA tournament appearances. In 2001 and 2002 she coached the WUSA's Carolina Courage. In 2002, she guided the team to the regular season championship as well as post-season (Founders Cup II) title before moving into the front office as the team's Assistant General Manager and Director of Ticket Sales.

McDermott also is very active in the NSCAA, having served on the Women's Committee and Board of Directors prior to her current position as a Vice President on the Executive Committee of the National Soccer Coaches Association of America and will be the President of that organization in 2010. She has also worked as a scout for the U.S. Women's National team and is on the board of the non-profit Chicago SCORES, which helps urban children by using writing, community service and soccer as tools to better their lives.

Emma Hayes - Head Coach

Emma Hayes was named the Head Coach and Director of Soccer Operations for the Chicago Red Stars on May 15, 2008.

Since 2006, Hayes has served as first team Assistant Coach and Academy Director at the FA's Women's Premier League's top-ranked Arsenal Ladies Football Club in London, England. Hayes helped guide the Lady Gunners to an undefeated League record and won every competition England has to offer.

Prior to joining Arsenal, Hayes served as Head Women's Soccer Coach at Iona College in New Rochelle, NY. Hayes' honors at Iona included the 2004 Metro Atlantic Athletic Conference (MAAC) Coach of the Year and the 2004-2005 MAAC Conference Championships.

Hayes also served as Head Coach domestically from 2001-2003 in the W-League with the Long Island Lady Riders. The youngest female Head Coach in W-League history, Hayes was named 2002 National Coach of the Year.

Key Players

Cristiane - Forward

Caps/Goals: 38/25 (Brazil)

A silver medalist at both the 2004 & 2008 Olympics, Cristiane was selected by the Chicago Red Stars with the fifth overall pick in the WPS Initial International Draft. The Brazilian national has finished third in voting for FIFA Player of the Year each of the past two years.

Known for her ability to perform under the international spotlight, Cristiane's five goals led all scorers at the Beijing Olympics. She also scored five goals in Athens to tie for the scoring lead at the 2004 games and added five more for Brazil at the 2007 FIFA Women's World Cup.

Carli Lloyd - Midfielder

Caps/Goals: 82/19 (USA)

The 2008 U.S. Soccer Female Athlete of the Year, Carli Lloyd helped lead the Americans to a gold medal at the Beijing Olympics. Lloyd played every minute of the 2008 Olympics and scored the only goal in the gold medal match victory over Brazil.

A fixture in the U.S. midfield, Lloyd scored four goals at the 2007 Algarve Cup, becoming the tournament's top scorer and earning MVP honors. A native of New Jersey, Lloyd finished her collegiate career as Rutgers University's all-time leader in points (117) and goals (50).

Lindsay Tarpley - Forward

Caps/Goals: 116/29 (USA)

An Olympic gold medalist, Lindsay Tarpley enjoyed her best year with the U.S. Women's National Team in 2008. With 12 goals scored on the year, Tarpley moved into the top 15 all-time scorers in U.S. history.

The Michigan native has championship experience domestically as well, having led the W-League New Jersey Wildcats to a championship in 2005 and winning a NCAA championship at the University of North Carolina in 2003.

Ilisa Kessler - General Manager

Bay Area native, Ilisa Kessler was appointed as the GM of FC Gold Pride on November 1, 2008. Kessler brings an extensive body of work in soccer to the Pride front office having served as the Director of Operations for the San Jose Cyber Rays of the WUSA from 2001-2003, as well as serving as the Bay Area Staff and Accreditation Manager for the 1999 Women's World Cup.

In addition to soccer, Kessler's diverse experience with high profile sporting events includes the Modern Pentathlon World Championships and the Silicon Valley Football Classic. She has also had her hand in numerous sporting events for Stanford University Athletics and Spartan Stadium. Most recently, Kessler worked at San Francisco's, ABC7/KGO-TV, as the Business Operations Manager.

Kessler graduated from the University of California, Santa Cruz with a BA in both Economics and Theatre Arts. Additionally, she holds a Masters in Sports Management from the University of San Francisco (USF). Kessler also serves as a professor at USF, where she teaches Event Operations for the Sport Management Graduate program.

Albertin Montoya – Head Coach

Albertin Montoya is a distinguished coach, trainer and exceptional player. For the past 10 years, Montoya has been coaching and training professional, collegiate and youth players and teams in the Bay Area.

Montoya has served as an assistant coach at the collegiate level for both his alma mater (2006-2007), Santa Clara University and most recently at Stanford where he helped the Cardinal to a final four appearance in the 2009 NCAA College Cup. In 2003, Montoya served as the Assistant Trainer of the San Jose Cyber Rays of the WUSA.

In 1999, he founded the Montoya Soccer Academy, which is now part of FC Gold Pride Academy of which he serves as Director of Coaching. Since then Montoya has been lending his expertise in team and player development at the youth level. As a testament to his success, Montoya has helped the Mountain View Los Altos Girls Youth Soccer Clubs bring home seven State Cup championships in over the past five years.

Prior to coaching, Albertin was also a standout player, competing on the U-17 and U-21 US Youth National Teams and the US Olympic Team. He played collegiately at North Carolina State and Santa Clara, and was a finalist for the MACC Herman Trophy in 1996. The following year, he was a first-round draft pick of the San Jose Clash in 1997.

Key Players

Lori Chalupny - Midfielder

Country: USA

Lori Chalupny has been capped by the United States over 80 times in her career. In 2008 she was a part of the U.S. Women's National Team that won the gold medal in the Beijing Olympic Games.

In 2007 Lori was a member of the U.S. World Cup squad that would finish third in China. She is also a 6-time Algarve Cup veteran and has featured for the U.S. Youth National Teams in U-23 and U-19 World Cups.

Hope Solo - Goalkeeper

Country: USA

Hope Solo anchored the U.S. Women's Olympic team that won the gold medal in Beijing. Hope played in every minute of every game of the 2008 Olympics.

Hope Solo has been a standout performer for the United States in World Cups and annual international tournaments. She is the first choice goalkeeper for the United States and is recognized by many as the best female goalkeeper in the world.

Tina Ellertson - Forward

Country: USA

Tina Ellertson joins Saint Louis Athletica as perhaps one of the most versatile players on the club and certainly one of the most athletic. Ellertson played collegiately with Hope Solo at the University of Washington and was a member of the 2007 World Cup team.

Ellertson is the mother of two children, her youngest daughter Mya was born on May 4th of 2008. Her first child, MacKenzie was born in 2001. Tina also has a twin sister, Crystal, that played college soccer at the University of Florida.

Maureen Hendricks - Chairwoman

A passionate supporter of youth athletics and gender-equality in team sports, Hendricks played a leadership role in the public-private partnership that created the world-class Maryland SoccerPlex in Germantown, Md. and currently manages the Washington Freedom.

Hendricks served 11 years as Vice-Chairman of the Maryland Soccer Foundation, Inc., the non-profit entity that raised and managed the private sector funding for the 24-field complex. The successful financial model she helped to create functions as a national standard for community sports facilities. For her work in managing youth soccer teams, advocating for public and private support of youth soccer facilities, and helping to spearhead women's professional soccer, the National Soccer Coaches Association of America (NSCAA) named Hendricks as an Honorary All American at its 2006 meeting in Indianapolis.

Jim Gabarra – Head Coach

The original coach of the Freedom, Gabarra hopes the new version of the Freedom will be able to duplicate what he did in the final season of the WUSA – win a league championship. A member of the U.S. National Team from 1986-89 and a player for the U.S. Olympic team at the Seoul Olympics in 1988, success has followed Gabarra as he took the Freedom to the WUSA playoffs two out of three years before leading the team to a W-League championship in 2007.

Key Players

#20 Abby Wambach - Forward Caps/Goals: 127/99 (USA)

One of the top players in the world, Wambach returns to the Nation's Capitol in 2009 to once again play for the Freedom, where she was the WUSA Rookie of the Year in 2002.

Wambach has 99 goals in 127 caps for the U.S. Women's National Team and is a three-time U.S. Soccer Female Athlete of the Year. She was also a member of the 2004 gold medal winning Olympic team and the 2003 and 2007 third place finishing Women's World Cup teams.

#4 Cat Whitehill - Defender Caps/Goals: 129/19 (USA)

Cat Whitehill is one of the most experienced defenders currently on the Women's National Team (129 caps).

Hailing from Birmingham, Ala., Whitehill has been a member of the national team since 2000 and was part of the 2004 gold medal winning Olympic team and 2003 and 2007 Women's World Cup teams.

Whitehill played at North Carolina and won the M.A.C. Hermann Trophy as college soccer's top player. She helped lead UNC to a 27-0-0 record and NCAA championship as a senior, her second of her career.

#10 Homare Sawa - Midfielder Caps/Goals: 116/29 (Japan)

Arguably the best player in the history of Japan's women's national team, Sawa returns to the U.S. to play soccer after having previously played for the Atlanta Beat of the WUSA from 2001-03.

Making her debut in Japan's top domestic league at age 12, Sawa debuted internationally at age 15, scoring four goals in her debut match. Sawa scored the first goal in franchise history for the Beat and helped the team into the playoffs in each of the three seasons of the WUSA. She returned to Japan after the 2003 season and was named the Women's Player of the Year for the Asian Football Confederation in 2004 and 2008.

About WPS

Women's Professional Soccer is the highest-level women's professional soccer league in North America. Formed in September 2007 as the result of the efforts of the Women's Soccer Initiative, Inc., WPS, begins play March 29, 2009, consisting of seven teams across the country.

The markets for the 2009 season are Bay Area, Boston, Chicago, Los Angeles, New Jersey/New York, St. Louis, and Washington, D.C. WPS has finalized Philadelphia as its eighth franchise for 2010, and expects to expand to Atlanta while continuing to explore additional potential franchises for 2010 and beyond. More markets will be announced as they are added to the League.

Franchises are individually owned and operated by a group of investors in each market. These include AEG-L.A. Women's Soccer LLC, Bay Area Women's Soccer LLC, Boston Women's Soccer LLC, Chicago Professional Women's Soccer LLC, Hendricks Investment Holdings LLC (Washington D.C.), St. Louis United Soccer LLC and Sky Blue Women's Soccer, Inc. (New Jersey/New York).

In addition, two-time NBA MVP Steve Nash and former Yahoo! President and COO Jeff Mallett are investors and part owners in the league.

Among the firms retained by WPS to provide professional services are:

- Cypress Consulting for Web Design
- McCann Erickson for Marketing
- Shearman & Sterling LLP for League Counsel
- Soccer United Marketing (SUM) for National Sponsorship Sales & Licensing

WPS Logo

The WPS logo, developed by branding agency Adrenalin, Inc., features a deep navy, red and gold color scheme and showcases a familiar silhouette – FIFA World Cup champion, Olympic Gold Medal winner and Hall of Fame player Mia Hamm, renowned as a pioneer for women's soccer.

2009 Media Guide About WPS

League Timeline

September 2003: Following the suspension of operations of the Women's United Soccer Association (WUSA), the WUSA Reorganization Committee is formed to determine the best method to re-launch a women's professional soccer league in the United States.

July 2004: The WUSA Reorganization Committee, the Women's Sports Foundation, and business executives Bob Greenberg and Chris Markgraf (both of whom go on to create WSII with Julie Foudy and Tonya Antonucci), hold a Summit in New York City to identify and examine the lessons learned from the WUSA's failure and to determine the best path forward toward the launch of a viable new league.

November 2004: As a result of the Summit, the not-for-profit Women's Soccer Initiative, Inc. (WSII) is formed with the support of the WUSA Players Association to promote and support all aspects of women's soccer in the United States chiefly by encouraging and enabling the creation of a world-class professional women's soccer league.

February 2005: The U.S. Soccer Federation and U.S. Soccer Foundation each provide operational grants to WSII to assist in supporting WSII's efforts to develop a viable business model and bring back women's professional soccer.

Feb. 27, 2007: WSII CEO Tonya Antonucci announces that AEG; John Hendricks of Freedom Soccer LLC; Jeff Cooper of St. Louis United Soccer LLC; Soccer Initiative, LLC have signed letters of intent to become charter members of the new women's professional league.

April 18, 2007: WSII CEO Tonya Antonucci announces that Sky Blue Soccer and Boston Women's Soccer LLC have agreed to join the previously announced groups as charter members of the new women's professional league.

Sept. 4, 2007: A new North American women's professional soccer league, under the temporary working title of Women's Soccer LLC, is formally established in the United States by seven investor groups, with play beginning in the spring of 2009. Initial teams will be based in Boston, Chicago, Los Angeles, New Jersey/New York, St. Louis, and Washington D.C. Tonya Antonucci is named the league's commissioner. Soccer United Marketing (SUM), the commercial arm of MLS, is named the league's representative for national sponsorship sales and licensing.

Oct. 15, 2007: The League sets up temporary offices in downtown San Francisco, Calif. and hires Aaron Burch as League Relationships/Development Manager.

Jan. 17, 2008: The League's brand name, logo and website are launched at the National Soccer Coaches Association Convention in Baltimore, Md. Joe Cummings is named Senior COO Consultant and Vicki Veenker is named General Counsel.

Feb. 5, 2008: Two-time NBA MVP Steve Nash and former Yahoo! President and Chief Operating Officer Jeff Mallett become investors and part owners of the league.

Feb. 15, 2008: Women's Professional Soccer (WPS) receives provisional Division 1 status at U.S. Soccer's Annual General Meeting (AGM). The league will receive full Division 1 status just prior to its inaugural season at the 2009 U.S. Soccer AGM in Orlando, Fla.

Feb. 28, 2008: The League moves into its permanent offices at 1000 Brannan St., San Francisco, Calif.

May 27, 2008: Philadelphia investors sign a letter of intent with the League regarding an expansion team for the 2010 season.

July 8, 2008: Women's Professional Soccer (WPS) announces the post-Olympics timeline for National Team player allocation, drafts and team tryouts.

March 29, 2009: The WPS Inaugural Match between Washington Freedom and Los Angeles Sol kicks-off at the Home Depot Center in Carson, Calif.

2009 Media Guide About WPS

Tonya Antonucci, Commissioner

For over two decades, Tonya Antonucci has expressed her passion for women's soccer as a player, coach, executive and fan. Now her dedication to the game continues as she serves as WPS's first commissioner.

Antonucci was named WPS Commissioner on Sept. 4, 2007 after working as the CEO of Women's Soccer Initiative, Inc. (WSII) for two and a half years. At WSII, she successfully engineered the launch of a women's professional soccer league in the United States by developing a viable business model, determining the demographics of the fan base, cultivating investor support and identifying team markets.

Prior to joining WSII, Antonucci spent more than seven years with Yahoo, Inc., where she launched Yahoo! Sports and Yahoo! Fantasy Sports, and served as Director of those properties. Subsequently, she was named General Manager of Yahoo's partnership with FIFA and oversaw the commercialization of the official, global web sites for the 2002 FIFA Men's and 2003 Women's World Cups.

In addition, Antonucci has worked as a product manager at Starwave, a software company funded by Microsoft's Paul Allen; as a content producer on a precursor to ESPN.com; and as an assistant women's soccer coach at Stanford University and Santa Clara University while working on an M.B.A. degree

A native of Everett, Wash. and a H.S. All-American and 1984 U.S. Jr. National Team member while at Mariner High School, Antonucci is a political science and economics graduate of Stanford University, where she played collegiate soccer, was named to the All-Far West team, and co-captained the Stanford team her senior year. Antonucci resides in the Bay Area.

Vicki Veenker, League General Counsel

Vicki Veenker brings a strong and diverse legal background to the office of General Counsel. In addition to working with the League, she is Of Counsel to Shearman & Sterling LLP in its Menlo Park, California office. The founding partner of the firm's Silicon Valley Intellectual Property Group, she has extensive experience in intellectual property-related matters and is also a member of the firm's Sports Group. Veenker has been lead counsel to industry leaders in fields ranging from telecommunications to entertainment to biotechnology in patent, trademark, trade secret, and copyright cases. She also counsels clients on licensing and other transactions.

Veenker is a federal court mediator, sitting on the mediation panel for the Northern District of California. Previously, Veenker served as adjunct faculty member at the University of California's Hastings College of the Law and at Santa Clara University School of Law. Currently, she is a Director of the Law Foundation of Silicon Valley.

In 2002, Veenker was selected as one of the "Top 20 Lawyers Under 40" by California Law Business. She has been listed each year since 2001 as a "highly recommended" intellectual property attorney in Silicon Valley by the publisher of Global Counsel magazine in conjunction with Pricewaterhouse Coopers. Ms. Veenker has also been recognized for several years as a Northern California Super Lawyer by Law & Politics and San Francisco magazine.

Veenker earned her J.D. degree at the Georgetown University Law Center where she was editor-in-chief of the Journal of Law & Technology. Prior to attending law school, Ms. Veenker was an Associate at the Kettering Foundation. She holds a B.S. in Biochemistry and a B.A. in Political Science from Indiana University.

2009 Media Guide About WPS

Mary Harvey, Chief Operating Officer

Mary Harvey brings her experience as a international soccer executive and Olympic Gold medalist to Women's Professional Soccer, where she was named Chief Operating Officer on Nov. 10, 2008.

Harvey was most recently the Director of Development at the Federation Internationale de Football Association (FIFA) in Zurich, Switzerland. When she signed on to join FIFA in 2003, Harvey became the first woman and first American to run a business division as a member of senior management at the international governing body. At FIFA, Harvey oversaw a team of 20 staff and 50 consultants globally to deliver programs and projects to develop the sport worldwide. Harvey also initiated the launch of several important projects for the development of women's soccer in particular including a project that identified best practices in the development of the women's game globally, staging nearly a dozen seminars involving over 150 countries. The findings from this project were presented at the 4th FIFA Women's Football Symposium, a two-day event attended by 500 senior football executives from 200 countries.

Prior to her position at FIFA, Harvey worked for global consulting powerhouses, Deloitte and Accenture, and was a consultant to the CEO of the 1999 Women's World Cup on issues related to ticketing, pricing and marketing strategies.

On the field, Harvey enjoyed an eight-year career with the U.S. Women's National Team, playing from 1989-1996. She was the starting goalkeeper for the U.S. in the inaugural 1991 Women's World Cup and a member of the 1996 Olympic gold medal-winning team in Atlanta. She graduated with a Bachelor of Science from the University of California at Berkeley's Walter A. Haas School of Business and received her MBA from the Anderson School of Business at UCLA. She resides in San Francisco.

Schedule Overview

The 2009 WPS Regular Season will consist of 70 games among the seven WPS franchises from March 29-August 9, 2009 in a single table format conforming to FIFA and US Soccer rules. That will be followed by a three-game playoff [see post-season format] including the WPS Final on August 22 and a WPS All-Star Game at the end of the season.

Teams will play a 20-game regular season schedule with 10 home games and 10 away games. Each team will play the other teams in the league three times with a fourth game against two regional rivals to round out the 20-game schedule. Games will be played mostly on weekends with 14 games scheduled for weeknights, primarily on Wednesdays. Weeknight games will not begin until midway through the season on June 3.

WPS Sunday on FSC

Women's Professional Soccer and Fox Soccer Channel, America's premier soccer network, have a multi-year partnership to televise a live national Sunday night WPS game of the week, beginning the 2009 inaugural season called "WPS Sunday on FSC".

The agreement covers a minimum of 20 games over the course of the regular season and three playoff games. One postseason match on Aug. 18/19 and the WPS All-Star Game will be broadcast on Fox Soccer Channel, while one post-season match on August 15 and the WPS Final on August 22 will reach over 80 million homes on Fox Sports Net's owned and affiliated regional sports networks. Fox Soccer Channel's coverage features WPS pre-game and post-game shows and WPS round-up segments on Fox Soccer Report, plus content sharing across womensprosoccer.com and foxsoccer.com.

Fox Soccer Channel offers the most comprehensive coverage of world-class soccer available in the United States, including Major League Soccer, England's Barclays Premier League, Italy's Serie A, the Argentine First Division and Australian Hyundai A-League, as well as such global tournaments as the UEFA Cup, English FA Cup, FIFA Club World Cup, CONCACAF Champions League™, CONCACAF Gold Cup™ and 2010 FIFA World Cup™ qualifiers. As the Official Broadcast Partner of the United States Youth Soccer Association, Fox Soccer Channel also televises the United Soccer Leagues and NCAA Division I college men's and women's soccer.

The Nielsen-rated channel reaches more than 34 million cable and satellite households in the U.S. and Caribbean. To subscribe to Fox Soccer Channel, contact your local cable or satellite provider, or visit <http://www.foxsoccer.channelfinder.net/start.asp>.

WPS Playoffs

Women's Professional Soccer (WPS) has blended traditional soccer culture and American playoff tradition to create a unique post-season format. Approved by the Board of Governors at the NSCAA Convention on January 15, 2009, the playoffs are expected to air in 80 million homes nationally on Fox Sports Net's owned and affiliated regional sports networks.

The playoff format will feature four teams and heavily reward the WPS team finishing atop the 2009 regular season schedule, titling them WPS Regular Season Champions and automatically placing them as host and participant in the WPS Final, the league's championship game.

Teams finishing the regular season as No. 3 and No. 4 will face each other at No. 3's stadium on August 15 for the First Round. The second place team in the regular season will receive a bye into the Super Semifinal and host the winner of the First Round on August 18/19. The winner of the Super Semifinal will then travel to the top-seeded team for the WPS Final on August 22.

Unique league trophies will recognize the teams that win the regular season and WPS Final.

WPS Camps

Women's Professional Soccer (WPS) and UK Soccer Camps (UKISC) have an exclusive multi-year partnership making UKISC the official camp provider of WPS with a maximum of 22 locations in 2009 to be designated as "WPS Camps."

WPS Camps will feature a variety of weekly camp options for various age groups in over 20 markets across the country with the mission of providing "The Best Possible Soccer Experience." The camps will include challenging and dynamic training environments, while allowing players to personally experience what it takes to play in the pros from the pros. Camps will include player appearances from the stars of the new league at every camp.

In areas where WPS does not have franchises, the league will partner with UK International to bring the WPS experience to neighborhood soccer fields and communities with a variety of camp options.

About WPS

WPS Rules

Condensed Rules and Regulations of the Game

Rule 1: The Field of Play

WPS fields will have a minimum width of 68 yards and a minimum length of 110 yards.

Rule 2: Number of Players

Each team consists of 11 players, including a goalkeeper.

Rule 3: Player Equipment

A player's uniform consists of a shirt, shorts, socks, shin guards and shoes. The goalkeeper wears colors that distinguish them from the other players and referees.

Rule 4: Referees

One referee, two referee assistants and a fourth official are appointed by US Soccer for each match. The referee maintains control of the game and his/her decisions regarding facts connected to play are final.

Rule 5: Duration of Play

The matches consist of two 45-minute periods. If a regular season match is tied after 90 minutes, the game is declared a tie. Allowance for time lost by substitutions, assessment of injured players, removal of injured players, or any other cause is at the sole discretion of the referee.

Rule 6: The Start of Play

A coin toss decides which team will kick off. Each team must be in its own half and the defending players must be at least 10 yards from the ball until it is played. After a goal, the team scored upon restarts play by kicking off. After halftime, the teams change ends and the opposite team to that which started the game kicks off.

Rule 7: Ball In and Out of Play

The ball is out of play when it has wholly crossed over the goal line, touchline, or if the referee has stopped the game. At all other times, the ball is in play.

Rule 8: Throw In

When the ball has wholly crossed the touchline, it is put back in play by a throw-in from the spot it went out and by a player from the opposing team to the player who last touched the ball.

Rule 9: Method of Scoring

A goal occurs when the whole of the ball has passed over the goal line, between the goal posts and under the crossbar, whether on the ground or in the air.

Rule 10: Offside

A player is offside if she is nearer to her opponent's goal line than both the ball and the second last opponent.

Red Card and Yellow Card Suspension Policy

Red card and yellow card accumulation suspensions collected during WPS Season Games will be served in the team's next WPS Season Game. Suspensions for red cards and accumulated yellow cards will carry over to Playoff Games. Suspensions earned in an Exhibition Game will be served in the next Exhibition Game. Any suspension for a red card during Playoff Games that would otherwise be served after the team's last WPS Season Game will carry over to the first game of the next WPS Season. For any suspension due to a red card or yellow card, the Player will continue to receive her pay, notwithstanding any fine which may be imposed in connection with such infraction.

Red Card

Infractions for which a player will receive a Red Card:

- a. Is guilty of a serious foul play. (SFP)
- b. Is guilty of violent conduct. (VC)
- c. Spits at an opponent or any other person. (S)
- d. Denies an opponent a goal or an obvious goal-scoring opportunity by deliberately handling the ball. (DGH)

2009 Media Guide About WPS

- e. Denies an obvious goal-scoring opportunity to an opponent moving towards the player's goal by an offense punishable by a free kick or penalty kick. (DGF)
- f. Uses offensive, insulting or abusive language. (AL)
- g. Receives a second caution (yellow card) in the same match. (2CT)

Red Card Accumulation

Red cards and suspensions will be levied for all WPS Games (including exhibitions). Players who receive a second yellow card in any single game are deemed to have received a red card. Any Player who receives a red card during any WPS Game will also be subject to the following:

- a. For a first offense: Suspension for the remainder of the game in which the infraction occurred and, at least, the next WPS season (or exhibition) game;
- b. For a second offense in any WPS Season (or in the case of exhibition games in any calendar year): A fine of $250 and suspension for the remainder of the game in which the infraction occurred and, at least, the next WPS Season (or exhibition) game;
- c. For the third offense in any WPS Season, (or in the case of exhibition games in any calendar year): A fine of $500, suspension for the remainder of the game in which the infraction occurred and, at least, the next WPS Season (or exhibition) game, plus additional sanctions at the discretion of the League.

Yellow Card

Infractions for which a player will receive a Yellow Card:

- a. Unsporting Behavior (UB)
- b. Shows dissent by word or action (DT)
- c. Persistently infringes the Laws of the Game. (PI)
- d. Delays the restart of play (DR)
- e. Fails to respect the required distance when play is restarted with a corner kick of free kick or throw-in. (FRD)
- f. Enters or re-enters the field of play without the referee's permission. (E)
- g. Deliberately leaves the field of play without the referee's permission. (L)

Yellow Card Accumulation

WPS has developed a yellow card accumulations system to determine suspensions by yellow card infractions, otherwise known as cautionable infractions, with the first one (1) game suspension occurring after a Player has accumulated 2 yellow cards in the same game resulting in one (1) red and a game dismissal. For Players accumulating yellow cards the following action is in place:

1. Three yellow cards to a single Player in three consecutive games played will result in that Player being suspended for the next match.
2. Four yellow cards to a single Player (nonconsecutive) accumulated will result in that Player being suspended for the next match.
3. A subsequent three cards (total of 7) by the same Player accumulated throughout the season will result in three matches suspension and fine (TBD).
4. If there is an third incident of three cards (10) by the same Player that Player will sit out a total of five matches and be imposed a fine (TBD).

Yellow Card Accumulation for Playoff Games

A list of Players in jeopardy of not being able to participate in the Playoffs due to the maximum number yellow cards earned will be available throughout the season. This list will be presented to Teams in advance of the Playoffs.

1. Players that accumulate their fourth (4) yellow card and/or are awarded their third yellow card in three consecutive games will be subject to a one game suspension during the playoffs.
2. Players that receive red cards during the playoffs may be assessed a fine and serve at least a one game suspension from their next playoff game.
3. Players that play any length of time in four (4) games without a yellow or red card will be cleared from accumulated list and recorded at zero (0), including going from seasonal games to playoff games.

2009 Media Guide

Media Information

The Boston Breakers welcome coverage of the team by accredited writers, broadcasters and photographers.

Practice

The Breakers train at Harvard University – either at Harvard Stadium or on one of the nearby fields within the complex. Practices are open to the media, provided the outlet makes prior arrangements with the Breakers Communications Department, and will normally be held from 10 a.m. to Noon each day. All practice times are subject to change. Please check with the Breakers Communications Department to receive an updated schedule and to set up interviews.

Interviews

Interviews with players and/or coaches, other than those immediately following a contest, must be arranged through the Breakers Communications Department. Game-day interviews will not be granted until the conclusion of the contest.

Media Credentials

To inquire about a season-long media credential, contact the Breakers Communications Department. All single-game credential requests to cover the Boston Breakers should be directed to Kevin Hassett, Communications Manager, at least 24 hours in advance of the game. Requests may be made via phone or e-mail. Credential pickup on game day will be at Will Call. Credentials can also be picked up at the Breakers office in Westwood one week prior to the game. The Boston Breakers reserve the right to accept or reject credential requests for any reason. Credentials will be issued to working media only.

Press Box Services

Access to the press box level is at Gate M, which is located at the open end of Harvard Stadium, adjacent to Section 37. There are six phone lines available to working media only. Members of the media who must file stories may do so in the press box.

The Breakers Communications Department will provide game notes and pre-game statistics prior to the game. Information will be available on the second level of the press box. Working press are assigned space in the press box. Seating charts will be located throughout the facility. Wireless internet access is available in the press box.

Postgame Procedures

Following each home game, a postgame press conference will be held. Please ask a member of the Breakers Communication Department for assistance as the location may change from game to game. The press conference is open only to credentialed media members.

A member of the Breakers coaching staff as well as up to three players will be made available for the press conference. The Breakers Communications Department will make efforts to fulfill any visiting team coach/player requests – at the will of the visiting team.

If a special request is needed, please contact the Breakers Communications Department before the end of the game and we will make our best efforts to fulfill the request.

Arrangements should be made with the Boston Breakers Communications Department for anyone who wishes to shoot Breakers games. Sideline passes will be mailed if time permits or left at the Will Call window on game day. Only credentialed media members will be permitted on the sideline.

Photographers and video crews may shoot from the sideline during pre-game for team photos and line-up photos, but must be positioned behind the field boards at the end line approximately one field board away from the edge of the goal, or on the non-player side up to the 18-yard line extended behind a field board at kick-off.

ENG television crews and approved news outlets may record game footage on video for the purposes of news and player features.

For television games on Fox Soccer Channel, a maximum of three minutes of game footage can be shown within the 48-hour exclusive broadcast window after the game.

For non-television games, there are no time limits on video usage for news & reporting purposes. But if an outlet would like to replay a game in its entirety (most likely online), they must receive permission in advance from the WPS home team.

Non-news video cameras, such as documentary/feature film crews or commercial videographers, may shoot on-site only with prior written permission from the Breakers Communications Department.

Parking

Parking is extremely limited in the vicinity of Harvard Stadium. Season parking passes are available for season-long media credential holders. Single-game requests will be put on a parking list at the gate. Media members will be given access through Gate 6 via North Harvard Street, and spaces are available on a first-come, first-serve basis.

2009 Media Guide Team Website

BostonBreakers.com

The new Breakers website fulfills our goal in better connecting fans and media to our team through more dynamic written and visual content. The site features unique, real-time content, including the WPS Match Tracker, live score updates, rich photo and video components, player and coach interviews, and an e-commerce area: ShopWPS.com. Throughout the season, more features will be integrated into the site including a more pronounced focus on statistics and interactive elements such as the ability to comment on and rate content. A WPS Fantasy Game will be incorporated for the 2010 season.
