ILANA KLOSS

COMMISSIONER, WORLD TEAMTENNIS

World TeamTennis CEO/Commissioner Ilana Kloss knows firsthand how the sport of tennis can connect and inspire. At age 11, she was a ball kid for the South African Open, a men's and women's pro tournament in Kloss' native South Africa. One of the top players hit a few balls with her and told Kloss' father Shlaim that his daughter had real potential. That was all an aspiring young tennis player needed to hear. "When I heard that I really began to dream about the possibilities and work towards being the best player I could be," said Kloss.

Four decades later, Kloss is still inspired by tennis, now as the CEO/Commissioner of World TeamTennis which was co-founded by Billie Jean King and then-husband Larry King in the 1970s. While King's current role is primarily as a spokesperson, advisor and global ambassador, it's Kloss who heads up the day-to-day efforts to secure sponsorships and grow the team tennis concept both in the U.S. and internationally. In early 2009, Kloss brought the United States Tennis Association (USTA) on board as a minority owner of World TeamTennis. The USTA works with WTT on a number of growth initiatives, including youth participation in team tennis. Kloss, who was recognized as Sports Business Woman of the Year by the Warsaw Sports Marketing Center in 2007, was recently elected to the International Jewish Sports Hall of Fame and will be inducted during the next ceremony at the Maccabiah Games in July 2013.

Kloss' passion for WTT's unique coed format and community appeal is evident when she speaks about how WTT stands out in the sports landscape. "WTT is about both men and women competing together on a level playing field. Our vision is to grow tennis and make it a true team sport. With the WTT Pro League, we are able to bring the best professional players to local communities where kids can see them working together as a team. That's an important inspirational message."

"WTT is also about giving communities a sense of ownership in tennis and a connection to our players," adds Kloss. "We provide a level of access and involvement fans generally can't get with other sports."

Kloss was just a kid herself when she became the youngest No. 1 in South African tennis history at age 17. By the time she turned 20, she was the top-ranked doubles player in the world, winning doubles titles at the U.S. Open, Italian Open, U.S. Clay Courts, German Open, British Hard Courts and Hilton Head in 1976. Kloss also added the 1976 French Open Mixed Doubles Championship with Kim Warwick.

Kloss played World TeamTennis for several years (San Francisco, Oakland, Long Beach, Miami Beach) before becoming a team coach. She guided the Chicago Fyre to the 1983 WTT title before joining the League full-time as Player Liaison in 1985. The transition from the courts to the office was a smooth one for Kloss. "I did it gradually, going from being a player to coaching a WTT team then working to recruit players for the League and eventually running the operation." Kloss took over as the WTT Vice President in 1987 and eventually succeeded Billie Jean King as WTT Executive Director in 1991. Kloss was named CEO/Commissioner in February 2001.

Kloss oversees the WTT Pro League and the nationwide grassroots WTT Rec League programs from her New York City office. Kloss' primary focus is on national sponsorships, strategic planning, media partnerships and expansion of the WTT Pro League.

WTT Glossary

WTT – IMPORTANT THINGS TO KNOW

Each year after Wimbledon, WTT takes center stage in professional tennis. Some of the world's best men and women pros team up in ten markets to play singles, doubles and mixed doubles in an exciting and unique format. The players enjoy the camaraderie of team play and the hometown support from their fans. Here are key terms to know about the WTT experience.

Coaches Challenge

The WTT Coaches Challenge allows each coach to challenge twice per set. Teams also receive an extra challenge for each tiebreaker, overtime, and/or supertiebreaker. If the call on the court stands, the challenging team will be penalized the loss of one challenge. The team that challenged will not lose a challenge if the challenge is correct and the call is overturned.

Draft

The system by which team rosters are determined. There are four or five rounds to the WTT Roster Draft, which took place March 2010. Returning franchises have the right to protect players from the previous year's roster. Each player that a team protects reduces the number of available draft selections for that team. Teams draft in reverse order of the previous year's final team standings (including playoffs), based on overall match win/loss record. The team that wins the WTT Final will draft in the last position. Expansion teams draft in the middle of the order. In the case of a tied record, order is determined using the WTT tiebreaker system. That order continues throughout the draft.

Franchises

Ten teams will compete for three weeks during the season, July 5-25. The franchises are divided into two conferences:

EASTERN CONFERENCE

Boston Lobsters

New York Buzz

New York Sportimes

Philadelphia Freedoms

Washington Kastles

WESTERN CONFERENCE

Kansas City Explorers

Newport Beach Breakers

Sacramento Capitals

St. Louis Aces

Springfield Lasers

MATCH ORDER

The home team coach determines the order of sets.

Officials

Seven roving linespersons and a head umpire comprise the officials corps at a WTT match. The head umpire, who calls the match from an umpire's box, is in charge. His/her decisions are final.

Overtime

Overtime eliminates the possibility of the final sets becoming exhibitions. If the team ahead in the cumulative score wins the final game of the last set, then that team is the winner. If, however, the trailing team wins the final set, the match is sent into Overtime and continues until, a) the leading team wins one game, or b) the trailing team ties the match score. If the score becomes tied, the match is decided by a Supertiebreaker.

Scoring

All games, sets and Supertiebreakers are won by a margin of one point.

Season

There will be 70 regular season WTT matches plus three post-season matches between July 5-25.

Set

The first team to reach five games wins a set. Should a set be tied at 4-4, a nine-point tiebreaker is played.

WORLD TEAMTENNIS FINALS presented by
GEICO and the City of Kansas City
Explorers Stadium at Barney Allis Plaza
Kansas City, Mo.

Substitution

A coach may substitute one player, per set, per gender at the conclusion of a point. If a player is substituted, he/she may not return to the match during that set.

Supertiebreaker

In the event of a tied match at the conclusion of five sets or if the trailing team ties the score in Overtime, a 13-point Supertiebreaker, involving the same fifth set event, decides the outcome of the entire match. A coin toss determines the choice of side, server and receiver. Players change sides after six points. The first team to win seven points is awarded a single game and the match.

WORLD TEAMTENNIS	MD	MXD	MS	WD	WS	TOT
NEWPORT BEACH	5	5	5	5	0	2
PHILADELPHIA	4	4	0	3	0	1

Team

Each team has a coach and four players; two men and two women (five players if there is a Marquee Player on the team). Teams may name local alternates and substitute those should a regular team member become injured during a match. Players are permitted to play in three sets per match.

Tiebreaker

If a set reaches 4-4, a nine-point tiebreaker is played to decide the winner of the set. The first team to reach five points wins the tiebreaker. Players change sides after four points. The tiebreaker counts as one game and decides the outcome of the set.

The Washington Kastles are the defending WTT Champions, defeating the Springfield Lasers in the 2009 Finals.

For the first time in World TeamTennis' 35-season history, the WTT Finals will be in Missouri.

The WTT Finals presented by GEICO and the City of Kansas City will be held at 6:35 p.m. on Sunday, July 25, at Explorers Stadium at Barney Allis Plaza in Kansas City, Mo., home of the WTT Pro League's Kansas City Explorers.

The WTT Finals presented by GEICO and the City of Kansas City will be televised by Tennis Channel and will air on July 28 at 8 p.m. EST.

The 10 coed professional tennis teams in the WTT Pro League are battling for a spot in the Finals during the 2010 regular season which runs July 5-22.

The top two teams from the regular season in both the Western and Eastern Conference will advance to the WTT Conference Championships on Friday, July 23, on the home court of the top-seeded team from each Conference. The Conference Champions face off for the King Trophy, named after League co-founder Billie Jean King, in the WTT Finals on Sunday, July 25.

The Washington Kastles are the defending WTT Champions, defeating the Springfield Lasers in the 2009 Finals. Kansas City advanced to the Finals in 2008, losing to the New York Buzz, 21-18.

2010 WTT Coaches Challenge Presented by GEICO: How It Works

Instant replay was introduced to pro tennis competition in 2005 with the WTT Coaches Challenge presented by Geico. The technology, provided by Hawk-Eye, will be featured at select 2010 regular season WTT Pro League matches as well as the WTT Finals.

RULES FOR WTT COACHES CHALLENGE PRESENTED BY GEICO

1. Each team will receive 2 challenges per set and will receive an additional challenge if the set goes to a tiebreaker. Challenges cannot be carried over from the set to set.
2. Teams receive an extra challenge for Overtime. This challenge is added to any remaining challenges from the fifth set.
3. Teams receive an extra challenge for the Supertiebreaker. This challenge is added to any remaining challenges from the fifth set and/or Overtime.
4. Teams can challenge a call up to and including the final point of the match. Play must be stopped immediately, reflex returns are acceptable.
5. A request for a Coaches Challenge of a line call or overrule by a team shall be allowed only on either a point-ending shot or when a player team stops playing the point during a rally (returns are permitted but then the player must immediately stop).
6. Challenges must be made within 10 seconds of the conclusion of the point.
7. If the challenge results in the call being overturned, the point will either be awarded to the challenging team or a let will be played. The team that challenged the call will not lose a challenge if the challenge is correct and the call is overturned. However, if the call stands, the challenging team will be penalized the loss of one challenge.
8. The Box Umpire will conduct all replay reviews on either a court-level monitor or the stadium LED screen. The umpire will review the shot (mark), and make his/her decision. All players not playing in the current set SHALL remain on their bench.
9. Once the Box Umpire has made his/her ruling, players will have 30 seconds to start the next point.
10. If the review is inconclusive, then the original call on court stands and no challenges will be lost.

WTT Turns 35

When World Team Tennis debuted in 1974, the sports world took notice. Even in the vibrant landscape of the 1970s, World Team Tennis stood out with its multi-colored court, big name stars and a very different take on tennis - showcasing the game as a team sport.

World Team Tennis has seen it all over the past 35 seasons – from spectacular tennis to team lineups that include the biggest stars with virtually every major Champion of the Open era playing WTT. Even though a few of the rules have changed over the years, the one constant has been the core value that the League was founded on – gender equity. WTT co-founder Billie Jean King simply says, “If you have ever seen a WTT match you have seen my philosophy of life in action – men and women, competing together, on a team and both genders making equal contributions to the result. From the beginning we saw a chance to take tennis to a new level and the evolution of WTT has been amazing.”

Hingis Still Fearless:

Martina Hingis returns to competitive tennis for the first time since she retired in 2007 for a full-season stint with the New York Buzz. When Hingis played WTT in 2005 (following her first retirement) she took no prisoners, dropping only one set all summer and leading the New York Sportimes to the WTT Championship. The five-time Grand Slam singles champion and nine-time Grand Slam doubles champion is still fearless after all these years, embracing a WTT schedule that includes singles showdowns with current world No. 1 Serena Williams (July 9), Venus Williams (July 7) and Kim Clijsters (July 19).
