The Asheville Orioles and the Knoxville Sox close out the 1975 Southern League schedule here at Bill Meyer Stadium this coming weekend. The Sox and the Orioles play single games Friday, and Saturday nights at 7:30, a Sunday afternoon single game at 2:30, and the final game of the four game series Monday night at 7:30.

The Sox close out the season in Asheville on September 2, 3, 4, and 5.

SOX SPOTLIGHT: Ed Wheeler

Since joining the Sox in mid-season, Ed Wheeler has led the club in hitting. Nicknamed "Duke" by his teammates, Ed can play in the outfield or infield. His outstanding speed and defensive ability along with his .333 batting average has given the Sox a tremendous in both the field and offensive attack.

In his sixth season of pro ball, the 23 year old Wheeler spent the major portion of the 1974 season at Appleton where he hit .256 with 11 home runs and 56 rbi's. Originally signed by the St. Louis Cardinal Organization, Ed was signed by the White Sox in March 1974.

Ed's home town is Sarasota, Florida.

It's the real thing. Coke.
