Ricardo Ordonez, assistant coach of the Oakland Buccaneers, the Bay Area's American Soccer League expansion team, was named General Manager of the Club.

Mr. Ordonez brings a wealth of Soccer experience to the Buccs, both in front office management, as a coach and as a former World class player.

Most recently Ordonez was with the San Antonio Thunders before joining the Buccaneers. Prior to that, Ordonez was with the Los Angeles Aztecs as assistant coach in 1974 when they led the League from start to finish, winning nine consecutive games and the NASL Championship.
