MEDIA GUIDELINES

On behalf of the entire Phoenix Mercury organization, welcome to the 2017 Women's National Basketball Association season. History will be made this summer, as Diana Taurasi enters this season 178 points shy of becoming the league's all-time leading scorer. As the league enters into its 21st season, the Mercury Basketball Communications Department is here to serve and will accommodate your needs as quickly and thoroughly as possible. In an effort to continue to provide a professional working environment, please note the following guidelines.

CREDENTIALS

All media working at Talking Stick Resort Arena are required to be credentialed. Season credentials will be made available to writers and broadcasters regularly assigned to the club. All single-game credential requests must be made to the Mercury communications department before noon the day before a weeknight game and by 4:00 p.m. on Friday for a Saturday or Sunday game. All single-game passes are distributed the day of the game and are available for pick up at media will call located at guest relations in the Casino Arizona Pavilion.

PRESS ENTRANCE

The designated press entrance at Talking Stick Resort Arena is located at Guest Relations in the Casino Arizona Pavilion. All members of the media must use this entrance, accessible from the street level of the attached parking garage through the double doors on the south side of the building.

PRESS PARKING

The Mercury provides a limited number of press parking spaces in the Talking Stick Resort Arena garage, located on the east side of the arena on 1st Street. Members of the media with season credentials will be allowed entrance to the garage by showing their passes. All single-game parkers must be on the parking list and receive approval from the Mercury communications department to park in the garage.

PRESS SEATING

Media seating on press row at Talking Stick Resort Arena is restricted to accredited working media representatives. All seating requests, including photographers, are filled on a first come, first served basis and must be submitted to the Mercury communications department. Press seating is located courtside between the team benches and in sections 102 and 103 (approximately 20 rows off the floor). All live broadcasters will be seated courtside.

TELEVISION CAMERA LOCATIONS

Television camera locations are available in approximately 16 different areas in the building. For more information, contact Dan Siekmann at (602) 379-7673.

PRACTICES

All Mercury practices are open to the media for the final 30 minutes. It is advisable to check with the Mercury communications department for all practice times and locations. Please be aware that all times are approximate and practices do run long or end early on any given day.

Media are not allowed on the court during practice, nor are the media allowed to talk with players or coaches during practice.

GAMES

Mercury players and coaches are available for pregame interviews, per WNBA guidelines, from 4:30 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. for a 6:00 p.m. game and from 5:30 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. for 7:00 p.m. games. The Mercury locker room will be closed for a maximum of 10 minutes following a game. Assistance will be provided in arranging interviews for visiting players and coaches.

WORKING AREAS

Phones and working space for the media will be provided in the Al McCoy Media Center prior to, during and following all Mercury games. Workspace is available during games on press row.

WIRELESS INTERNET

Wireless internet access is provided throughout the arena. For the wireless login information, please see a member of the Basketball Communications staff in the Al McCoy Media Center on game day.

Thank you for your continued coverage of the Phoenix Mercury. We look forward to an exciting 2017 season. Please don't hesitate to contact me if you need anything.

ROBERT G. SARVER

Robert Sarver is the managing partner of Arizona's original sports franchise. The Tucson native and Valley resident is a successful businessman and a committed philanthropist, husband and father with a lifelong passion for basketball, the Suns, the state of Arizona, and—above all—winning.

THE OWNER

As an 8-year-old boy, Robert Sarver attended his first Phoenix Suns basketball game after receiving tickets as a birthday gift from Donald Diamond, one of the franchise's original owners. Thirty-five years later in 2004, Sarver became the majority owner of one of the NBA's model franchises, assembling a group of investors that purchased the Suns, the WNBA's Phoenix Mercury, and the operating rights to US Airways Center, since renamed Talking Stick Resort Arena

In 11 years under Sarver's leadership, the Suns and Mercury have enjoyed virtually unparalleled success on the court. The Suns own the 11-best record in the NBA since the start of the 2004-05 season (564-486, .537). His tenure includes three appearances in the Western Conference Finals and two of the three 60-win seasons in the franchise's 47-year history.

Sarver's passion for winning extends beyond the men's game. His continued commitment to the WNBA in Phoenix has resulted in the Mercury winning three league championships in 2007, 2009 and 2014, with the team winning a WNBA-record 29 games in the 2014 regular season. The Mercury have made eight WNBA Semifinals (formerly the Western Conference Finals) appearances in the last 10 seasons. Over the last 12 seasons, the Mercury's record of 221-187 ranks third in the league in wins.

Guided by his stated mission, the Suns and Mercury organizations are industry leaders in business innovation and community outreach and involvement.

Sarver is a member of the NBA's Board of Governors, Advisory Finance Committee, and Audit and Compensation Committee.

THE BUSINESSMAN

Sarver is the Chairman and CEO of Western Alliance Bancorporation, which has more than $13 billion in assets. Western Alliance is the largest financial institution headquartered in Arizona. The bank continues to be one of the most active small business lenders in Arizona. The bank also financed the retail component of CityScape, demonstrating his commitment to the continued renaissance of downtown Phoenix.

Sarver is the co-founder of Southwest Value Partners, a 25-year-old contrarian real estate fund. He has served as a director of SkyWest Airlines since 2000 and Phoenix-based Meritage Corporation since 1996.

THE PHILANTHROPIST

Sarver's philanthropic efforts focus not simply on worthy causes but also giving back to Arizona and its local communities, both through Phoenix Suns Charities and his own personal contributions.

Under Sarver's leadership, The Suns and Phoenix Suns Charities have given over $16 million in donations to local non-profits. And, most notably, Sarver has spear-headed SunsCentral, the team's 'adoption' of an inner-city high school in an effort to dramatically affect the graduation rate of the neighborhood school.

Among his proudest accomplishments, Sarver helped to build the Sarver Heart Center at the University of Arizona in memory of his late father, who was among the first to undergo heart bypass surgery. The center is composed of more than 150 physicians and scientists and aims to prevent and cure cardiovascular diseases through the three pillars of research, education and patient care. Pioneering doctors at the center have spearheaded the development of the SynCardia temporary Total Artificial Heart, an award-winning project that became the world's first and only total artificial heart to win FDA approval as a bridge to human heart transplant in patients near death from heart failure.

MEDIA/

Doctors and researchers at the center developed a hands-only CPR method called Continuous Chest Compression CPR that doubles a person's chance of surviving cardiac arrest. This method was adopted by the American Heart Association and is now internationally recognized. In addition to a focus on resuscitation science, the center focuses on stroke research, heart disease in women, sudden cardiac death, minority-specific cardiovascular problems, and electrophysiology.

The Sarvers were also instrumental in helping to build the Children's Museum of Phoenix, located in downtown Phoenix. A $1 million donation from the Penny and Robert Sarver Charitable Foundation aided in the completion of the 70,000-square-foot facility.

Sarver is on the board of directors for the Weil Foundation, established by Dr. Andrew Weil, an internationally recognized leader in integrative medicine.

THE PERSON

Sarver is a 1979 graduate of Sabino High School in Tucson and a 1982 graduate of the University of Arizona. Sarver earned his bachelor's degree in business administration, and became a certified public accountant in 1983.

Sarver and wife Penny have three sons, Max, Jake and Zach. On their first date, Robert invited Penny to watch the NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament at his house. Sarver is a "soccer dad," who can regularly be found at one of his three boys' soccer games.

TEAM PERSONNEL

JASON ROWLEY President

Jason Rowley enters his fourth season as president of both the Phoenix Mercury and Phoenix Suns after assuming the role of Suns president in 2012. Rowley is in his tenth season overall with the organization and is responsible for managing all business operations of the teams and overseeing the club's interest in the management of US Airways Center, the Legends Entertainment District, and affiliated entities. Rowley previously served as the team's Chief Operating Officer, as well as its Senior Vice President and General Counsel.

Rowley began his career in 2001 with the law firm of Snell & Wilmer in Phoenix, and while there he represented the Suns' current ownership group in their acquisition of the club in 2004. At Snell, his practice included private and public mergers and acquisitions, complex real estate transactions, securities regulation, entity formation, commercial contracts and general business law.

After leaving Snell, Rowley served two years as corporate counsel for The Van Tuyl Group, the nation's largest privately held automotive retailer. While at Van Tuyl, his practice focused on real estate and dealership acquisitions and development, as well as general corporate and contract law.

Rowley earned his bachelor's degree in 1994 from the University of Arizona. After graduation, Rowley joined the United States Navy, an experience he considers one of the proudest and most formative of his life. He worked as an intelligence analyst with the Commander 3rd Fleet Intelligence Division until his honorable discharge in 1998. He then returned to the University of Arizona to pursue his law degree, graduating in 2001.

Rowley is involved in a number of charitable and civic organizations. He serves on the Greater Phoenix Economic Council, the ASU Walter Cronkite School of Journalism Endowment Board, the Thunderbirds, the Board of Phoenix Suns Charities, and the Board of Downtown Phoenix Inc. He also served as the 2015 American Heart Association Phoenix Heart Walk Chairman, and was named the 2011 Phoenix Father of the Year by the Phoenix Father's Day Council.

JIM PITMAN Executive Vice President, Finance & Administration

A 25-year member of the Phoenix Suns and Mercury organization, Executive Vice President/Chief Financial Officer and Mercury General Manager Jim Pitman was in a New York City conference room in 1996 when then-NBA Commissioner David Stern first presented the idea of a WNBA team to the Phoenix scene. Pitman has overseen all player contracts and salary cap management for the three-time champion Mercury since its inception in 1997. He enters his fourth season as the team's general manager.

Named the fifth general manager in franchise history on December 13, 2013, Pitman's first move was the hiring of longtime WNBA assistant Sandy Brondello to the post of head coach and vice president of player personnel. In three seasons together, the duo has built teams that have compiled a 65-37 regular season mark (11-6 postseason mark), the second best record in the WNBA in that span. It includes a WNBA-record 29-win regular season, the first consecutive 20-win seasons in franchise history, three WNBA Semifinals appearances (formerly Western Conference Finals), one Finals berth, and the 2014 WNBA Championship.

In the most recent offseason, Pitman reconstructed the Phoenix Mercury roster, making several moves to put together a championship caliber team for 2017. With one of the greatest players to play the game, Diana Taurasi, under contract, Pitman re-signed 2014 WNBA Champion and two-time WNBA Defensive Player of the Year Brittney Griner to a multi-year deal, assuring she would continue her career in Phoenix. Additionally, Pitman made trades to acquire three-time WNBA all-star Danielle Robinson from San Antonio and 2010 WNBA Champion Camille Little from Connecticut.

As the organization's executive vice president and chief financial officer, Pitman oversees all financial aspects of the Phoenix Suns, Phoenix Mercury and Talking Stick Resort Arena, including all accounting, finance, budgeting, and insurance aspects of the organization. He is in his 18th season in his current role and also assists with salary cap and player contract management on the Suns' side.

In the community, Pitman serves as treasurer of Phoenix Suns Charities, as treasurer of Special Olympics Arizona and as a board member of the Valley of the Sun YMCA. He also serves on the Finance Committee for the Valley of the Sun United Way.

Coming to the Suns in 1992 as assistant controller, he moved up to corporate controller and vice president of finance before his most recent promotion. Prior to the Suns, he spent nearly five years in the audit division of the Phoenix office of Arthur Andersen with client responsibility in the professional sports, hospitality, and wholesale distribution industries.

A native of Rio, Ill., Pitman is a 1987 graduate of the University of Illinois where he earned a degree in accountancy. Pitman and his wife Linda live in Phoenix. He has two children, Amy (24) and Kyle (22), and lists basketball and golf as his favorite out-of-office activities.

ANN MEYERS DRYSDALE Vice President, Phoenix Mercury Vice President, Phoenix Suns

One of the true pioneers in women's basketball, Hall of Famer and award-winning broadcaster Ann Meyers Drysdale enters her third season as Vice President of both the Phoenix Mercury and the Phoenix Suns. The role follows five successful seasons as General Manager for the Mercury where she constructed the franchise's first two WNBA championship teams in 2007 and 2009. As Vice President of the Mercury in 2014, she saw the team win the third WNBA title in franchise history. She enters her fourth season as a television broadcaster for the Mercury and just recently completed her fourth season on the Suns television broadcast team alongside Steve Albert.

Enshrined in the Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, Mass., as a player in 1993, Meyers Drysdale's basketball resume enters its fifth decade, which she documented in her autobiography "You Let Some Girl Beat You?" released in conjunction with the 40th anniversary of Title IX in the summer of 2012.

Meyers Drysdale's storied basketball life began when she became the first-ever high school player to make a United States National Team in 1974 and later was the first woman to receive a full athletic scholarship from UCLA. The UCLA basketball legend was a four-time Kodak All-American, the first male or female to achieve that honor. Upon graduation, she held 12 of 13 school records and led the Bruins to a national championship in 1978. Meyers Drysdale became the first female to be named in the school's athletics Hall of Fame and had her jersey No. 15 retired. In addition to her basketball accomplishments, Meyers Drysdale competed in volleyball and won a national championship title in track in 1975.

As a standout player, the 5-9, 140-pound guard represented the United States in the 1976 Olympics, 1975 and '79 Pan American Games, and the 1975 and '79 World Championships. As part of the first women's US Olympic Basketball team, Meyers Drysdale earned a silver medal at the Montreal Games in 1976.

Meyers Drysdale remains the only female to sign a free-agent contract with an NBA team when she signed with the Indiana Pacers in 1979. After being released by the Pacers, she served as a color commentator for the Pacers broadcasts and was the first woman to broadcast an NBA game.

In 1978 she became the first player drafted in the Women's Professional Basketball League (WBL) and resumed her playing career with the New Jersey Gems, where she was named MVP after leading the league in steals and averaging 22.2 points. She also took home the title as one of only two women to win the ABC Sports Superstars competition three years in a row from 1981-1983 and was the only woman to participate in the men's competition.

Meyers Drysdale has established herself as an expert analyst on ESPN, NBC, ABC, FOX Sports, and CBS and has done commentary for men's and women's basketball, softball, tennis, volleyball, and baseball since 1979. Her illustrious broadcasting resume includes the 1984, 2000, 2004, 2008 and 2012 Summer Olympics. She will also handle broadcasting duties for the 2016 Summer Olympics in Rio de Janeiro. She also had a stint as a broadcaster for the 1988-89 Loyola Marymount men's basketball team, coached by former Mercury Head Coach Paul Westhead and featuring former Mercury General Manager and Head Coach Corey Gaines, a guard on the team.

In June of 2014, Meyers Drysdale was awarded the Dick Enberg Award by the College Sports Information Directors of America. The Dick Enberg Award, named for the world renowned and legendary Hall of Fame broadcaster, is presented annually to a person whose actions and commitment have furthered the meaning and reach of the Academic All-America Teams Program and/or the student-athlete while promoting the values of education and academics.

The U.S. Basketball Writers Association renamed its Women's National Player of the Year Award, the Ann Meyers Drysdale National Player of the Year Award in 2012 to honor her impact in the sport. Current Mercury center Brittney Griner won the award in 2012 and 2013.

In 2006, her incredible sports journalism contributions were honored as the winner of the United States Sports Academy's (USSA) Ronald Reagan Media Award, joining an elite group of winners that includes Howard Cosell, Bob Costas, Keith Jackson, Frank Deford and Rupert Murdoch.

The NCAA Honors Committee honored her in 2003 with the NCAA Silver Anniversary award. The Silver Anniversary Award recognizes former student-athletes who have distinguished themselves since completing their college athletics careers 25 years ago.

Meyers Drysdale was a member of the inaugural class of inductees into the Women's Basketball Hall of Fame in 1999 and she became the first American woman to be inducted into the FIBA (International Basketball Association) Hall of Fame when she was enshrined in 2007.

In January of 2017, Meyers Drysdale was named the recipient for the Naismith Outstanding Contributor to Women's Basketball award, which is presented annually to an individual whose extraordinary efforts have made contributions of outstanding significance and have created a long-lasting positive impact on the game of basketball. She was presented with the award at the annual Naismith Awards brunch during the men's Final Four weekend in Phoenix.

In honor and recognition of her standout collegiate career, UCLA Athletics announced in March that they would be naming the practice court for the women's basketball team the 'Ann Meyers Drysdale Court.' Additionally, UCLA named Meyers Drysdale the winner for this year's Professional Achievement for the UCLA Alumni Awards, which is awarded to honor the very best of UCLA and pay tribute to alumni and friends in their professions and service to UCLA and the community,

Meyers Drysdale has five sisters and five brothers, including brother Dave Meyers, who played college basketball at UCLA under legendary coach John Wooden and won two NCAA Championships with teammate Bill Walton. He played five seasons (1975-80) for the Milwaukee Bucks after being one of four players traded from the Los Angeles Lakers for Kareem Abdul-Jabbar in 1975.

In 1986, Annie married former Los Angeles Dodgers Hall of Famer pitcher Don Drysdale and took the name Ann Meyers Drysdale. It was the first time that a married couple was members of their respective sports' Hall of Fame. The Southern California native and Drysdale, who passed away in 1993, have three children together: sons Don Jr. (D.J.) and Darren, and daughter Drew.

SANDY BRONDELLO Head Coach and Vice President of Player Personnel

Veteran WNBA player, coach and former Australian Olympian Sandy Brondello (braun-DELL-oh) was named the ninth head coach in franchise history on November 15, 2013. Brondello also serves as the team's vice president of player personnel. On October 13, 2016, the Mercury signed Brondello to a multi-year contract extension.

Known for her intense preparation for each opponent, Brondello has compiled an overall regular season record of 65-37 in her first three seasons with the Mercury, ranking her third on the all-time wins list as a Mercury coach. She was named the 2014 WNBA Coach of the Year marking the first time a Mercury coach picked up the honor. She led the team to a WNBA regular season-record 29 wins and capped the season with a WNBA Championship.

An 12-year veteran of the WNBA coaching ranks, Brondello has been affiliated with the league for 18 of the league's 21 seasons, including her time as a player. A proven winner internationally and in the WNBA, her 12 total years as an assistant coach and head coach have featured nine playoff appearances, including six semifinals round berths (formerly conference finals), the 2014 WNBA Championship and a spot in the 2008 WNBA Finals. Brondello joins the Mercury after serving as lead assistant coach for the Los Angeles Sparks (2011-13) under 2012 WNBA Coach of the Year Carol Ross. Brondello led the San Antonio Silver Stars to a 2010 playoff berth in her lone season at the helm following five seasons on the Silver Stars bench as an assistant under Dan Hughes (2005-09), the third-winningest coach in league history.

A 2010 inductee into the Australian Basketball Hall of Fame, Brondello was named the 11th head coach for the Australian Women's National Basketball team on April 17, 2017. While she will continue to serve in her role as head coach for the Mercury, Brondello will spend her off seasons preparing the Aussies for a trip to the 2020 Summer Olympics in Tokyo.

During the WNBA offseason, Brondello serves an assistant coach with Russian League team UMMC Ekaterinburg. Now the Mercury's head of player personnel, Phoenix's pro scouting efforts are buoyed by Brondello's knowledge of and exposure to overseas talent.

Brondello finished a stellar 17-year professional playing career with a five-year run in the WNBA in which she played for Detroit (1998-99), Miami (2001-02) and Seattle (2003), and was named a 2001 WNBA All-Star. She began her career with the Women's National Basketball League (WNBL) in Australia (1986-96), and was named the league MVP in 1995. The 5-7 guard was a 10-time German Cup champion while playing with BTU Wuppertal (1992-2002), a three-time European Cup All-Star selection (1994, 1996, 1997), and the 1996 European Cup MVP when she led her team to the title.

An 18-year member of the Australian National Team, Brondello is a four-time Olympian, a two-time silver medalist (2000, 2004) and was named the 1992 Australian International Player of the Year. In her time with the national team, she was a teammate of former Mercury forward, and current Director of Player Performance for Phoenix, Penny Taylor.

Brondello is married to Olaf Lange, who is the head coach of UMMC Ekaterinburg, and the couple has two children, Brody and Jayda.

JULIE HAIRGROVE Assistant Coach

Top assistant Julie Hairgrove enters her 13th season with the Phoenix Mercury. In 2014, she won her third title with the team as she was on the bench as an assistant coach for the 2007 and 2009 Championship runs. In her 12 years as assistant coach with the Mercury, Phoenix has made eight playoff appearances. Prior to joining the WNBA, she spent two seasons as an assistant coach at Loyola Marymount University.

As a college athlete, Hairgrove was a key contributor as a four-year starter at the University of Arizona, helping lead the Wildcats to the NCAA tournament in each of her four seasons. Hairgrove also served as team captain for three seasons.

In addition to playing basketball, Hairgrove worked as an assistant coach at Lute Olson's basketball camps and served on the Student-Athlete Advisory Board. She completed her bachelor's degree in social and behavioral sciences in communication and minored in business.

Hairgrove is the granddaughter of NCAA Hall of Famer and former University of Arizona coach Lute Olson. She and her husband Mike are the proud parents of three daughters, Madison (11), Hailey (9) and Grace (7).

TODD TROXEL Assistant Coach

Todd Troxel enters his fourth season as an assistant coach on Sandy Brondello's staff. Troxel spent the last four offseasons as an assistant coach with UMMC Ekaterinburg, the team for which Brondello coaches in Russia during the WNBA offseason.

A former point guard and four-year performer at Doane College (1995-99), Troxel was a two-time team captain and helped lead the program to a conference championship and the national tournament for just the second time in school history. Troxel's post-playing career began with noted sports representation firm BDA Sports, where he served as a player development coach for the agency's clients beginning in 2002. Troxel became the basketball director at Velocity Sports in 2006, where he trained and prepared more than 50 professional players for the NBA, WNBA, NCAA and Euroleague.

Troxel has been a player development coach and consultant for a number of NBA players, including former No. 1 pick Yao Ming, former No. 3 pick OJ Mayo, No. 9 pick Joel Pryzbilla and No. 16 pick Luke Babbitt. Additionally, he has worked with WNBA stars like former MVP Diana Taurasi and former Defensive Player of the Year Sylvia Fowles. He has served as a development consultant for the Houston Rockets, Chinese Men's National Team, Spartak Moscow, the Russian Women's National Team, and the Shanghai Sharks.

PENNY TAYLOR

Director of Player Development and Performance

Following a 13-year playing career, 10 of which were spent in a Phoenix uniform, Mercury legend Penny Taylor joins the Mercury coaching staff in 2017 as the team's Director of Player Development and Performance. Taylor, who retired from playing after the 2016 season, oversees the on-court development and skill-training of Mercury players, and works in concert with head coach Sandy Brondello and assistant coaches Julie Hairgrove and Todd Troxel.

A member of the Mercury's "Mount Rushmore," Taylor and Diana Taurasi, are the only two players to have played on all three of Phoenix's WNBA championship squads (2007, 2009, 2014). Originally selected by Phoenix with the first overall pick of the Cleveland dispersal draft in 2004, Taylor's time in Phoenix featured three WNBA All-Star appearances and two All-WNBA First Team selections. With her native of Australia, she is a three-time Olympian, a two-time Olympic silver medalist, and in 2006 was named MVP of the World Championships after leading the Opals to a gold medal. Taylor finished her WNBA days having appeared in the third-most games (259) in Mercury franchise history, ranked third in total points (3,597), second in both assists (861) and steals (370), and fourth in rebounding (1,141).

Prior to her WNBA career, Taylor was a standout player in Australia's Women's National Basketball League (WNBL), and her time with the Dandenong Rangers (1999-2002) featured a 2000-01 WNBL MVP season. Her stellar playing career in the WNBL landed her a spot on the Australian Women's National team beginning in 2002, where she's been a driving force to multiple appearances on the medal stand in both the Olympics and World Championships.

Taylor was born in Melbourne, Victoria, Australia, to the late Michael Taylor and Denna Noble. She has one brother (Phillip) and one sister (Heather).

2017 PHOENIX MERCURY MEDIA GUIDE

SEASON IN REVIEW

WE WILL
BE HEARD

2016 SEASON IN REVIEW

The 2016 season could be summed up as a rocky summer for the Phoenix Mercury. With the starting five that cruised to a WNBA-record 29 wins and a WNBA title in 2014 back, expectations were high not only among the franchise, but the league as well.

Voted to win the 2016 WNBA Championship by the league's GM's, due in part to the return of three-time WNBA champion's Diana Taurasi and Penny Taylor, Phoenix opened the season losing its first four games to begin the year, marking just the second time in franchise history the Mercury started a season 0-4. Behind Taurasi and 2014 WNBA champion Brittney Griner, the Mercury bounced back from its four-game losing skid with back-to-back wins in the Mercury's next two games. Just as it appeared Phoenix was playing like the team everyone expected, two more losses against Seattle and Minnesota dropped the Mercury to 2-6 on the season. Winning one or two games, followed by losing a pair became a common trend throughout the remainder of the season. After recording win streaks of at least five in each of the past three seasons, Phoenix's best win streak topped at out just three in 2016, a feat they did twice during the year.

Despite the losing record, Phoenix had no problem putting up points, as the team boasted one of the most potent offenses in the league. Averaging 84.6 points per game, the Mercury recorded its highest scoring output since averaging 89 points a contest in 2011. What came as Phoenix's Achilles heel was its defense. After allowing only 72.3 points per game in 2015, the Mercury gave up just over 83 points per night in 2016, ranking them in the bottom four of the league defensively and marking the most points Phoenix has given up since the 2012 season.

The struggles seemed all but forgotten once the playoffs rolled around. After qualifying as the eighth and final seed for the postseason, Phoenix took to the road in the league's new playoff format. Gone were the Eastern and Western conference playoffs, as well as best-of-three game series'. In were one game, winner take all, rounds in the first two rounds. Despite the struggles all season, Phoenix won two-straight road games - an 89-78 win in the first round at Indiana and a 101-94 victory in New York - to find itself in the WNBA Semifinals (formerly the Western Conference Finals) for the seventh time in eight seasons. Despite the two-game win streak, the Mercury was swept by the Minnesota Lynx, a team they've faced with a trip to the WNBA Finals on the line in four straight seasons

While the overall season was up and down, the Mercury experienced many moments throughout the summer worth celebrating. After Taurasi missed the 2015 season, one of the league's all-time greats returned to the court to lead Phoenix in scoring (17.8 ppg) for the 11th time in her 12-year career. On June 24 in Washington, she became the third player in WNBA history to reach 7,000 career points, doing so in the fewest amount of games (348 games). Taurasi continued to add to her impressive 2916 campaign by claiming her fourth Olympic gold medal at the 2016 Rio Olympics alongside Mercury teammate, Brittney Griner, who earned her first gold medal with Team USA. Joining Taurasi and Griner in Rio were Taylor, Sonja Petrovic, Marta Xargay and Lindsey Harding, giving the Mercury a WNBA-high six players in the 2016 Summer Games. Additionally, Xargay won the silver medal with Spain and Petrovic earned the bronze with Serbia. Following the Olympics, the production from Griner grew, as her scoring, rebounding and blocking all improved during the final 10 games of the season. What came as more impressive were the milestones and company Griner reached and put herself in. She became the fastest player in WNBA history to reach 400 career blocks (115 games), joining Manute Bol, David Robinson and Mark Eaton as the only WNBA/ NBA players to reach 400 career blocks in 115 career games or fewer. Additionally, Griner also became just the second player in league history to record 100+ blocks in three consecutive seasons.

2017 PHOENIX MERCURY MEDIA GUIDE

HISTORY

BE HEARD

MERCURY IN THE RAFTERS

In a unique ceremony at halftime of the club's nationally televised matchup with the Sacramento Monarchs on June 6, 2006, the Phoenix Mercury unveiled a tribute to four of the organization's pillars since its inception in 1997. The banner features photographs of the first three players ever to join the organization—forward Jennifer Gillom and guards Michele Timms and Bridget Pettis—and the original coach and general manager, Cheryl Miller. It hangs permanently in the northeast corner of the Talking Stick Resort Arena rafters.

"To celebrate the tenth anniversary of our league and our franchise without creating a lasting tribute to the four most important individuals in our team's history would have been a mistake. In honoring our past, we use these individuals as an example to our current and future players because they exemplify the will and spirit of Mercury basketball on the court and in our community. We look forward to the day when we will raise a championship banner alongside this tribute to Bridget Pettis, Jennifer Gillom, Michele Timms and Cheryl Miller."

— Jay Parry, June 6, 2006

Former President and Chief Operating Officer, Phoenix Mercury

JENNIFER GILLOM - 22

First player allocated to the Mercury in team history... played six seasons in Phoenix from 1997-2002... 1999 WNBA All-Star... 1998 All-WNBA First Team... 1997 All-WNBA Second Team... winner of the 2002 Kim Perrot Sportsmanship Award... two-time WNBA Player of the Week... averaged 15.3 points per game while in the Valley of the Sun... averaged 20.8 points per game in 1998 for the Mercury, a franchise-record which stood until 2006.

MICHELE TIMMS - 7

Second player allocated to the Mercury in team history... played five seasons in Phoenix from 1997-2001... 1999 WNBA All-Star... Owns career averages of 7.5 points and a franchise-record 4.8 assists per game... Owns Mercury records for assists in a season (158), assists per game in a single season (5.3), steals in a season (71) and steals per game in a single season (2.6).

BRIDGET PETTIS - 32

Selected by the Mercury in the 1997 Elite Draft (seventh overall), becoming the third player in franchise history... played in Phoenix from 1997-2001 and in 2006... made the first basket in franchise history, a three-pointer against Charlotte on June 22, 1997... played in 154 consecutive games, still a franchise record... owns career averages of 6.2 points, 2.0 rebounds and 1.4 assists... named a Mercury assistant coach on June 29, 2006.

CHERYL MILLER

First coach and general manager in team history... served in that position from 1997-2000... led the Mercury to three postseason appearances (1997, 1998, 2000), including a berth in the 1998 WNBA Finals... owns a 70-52 (.574) record as Mercury head coach, the second most wins and third-highest winning percentage in team history.

1997 SEASON

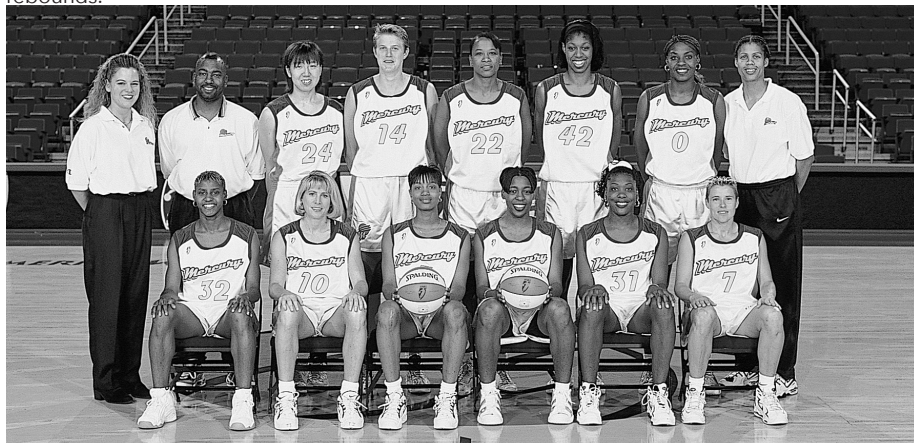

When Phoenix became one of eight cities (Charlotte, Cleveland, Houston, Los Angeles, New York, Sacramento and Utah) awarded a women's professional basketball team, the organization was not aware of the overwhelming amount of support the team would receive. The city of Phoenix welcomed the women's team with open arms and showed their support by making Phoenix one of the top cities in attendance averaging 13,000 plus fans the first season. The spark was lit when one of the greatest pioneers of women's basketball, Cheryl Miller, was named Head Coach/General Manager of the Phoenix Mercury. With the allocation of Jennifer Gillom and Michele Timms, Miller led the Mercury to a winning record of 16-12, the Western Conference title and a playoff birth.

In the elite draft, two more key players were drafted by the Mercury, Bridget Pettis and Nancy Lieberman-Cline who added depth to the Mercury roster. The final roster included 10 active players and two developmental players. The Phoenix Mercury played their inaugural game on June 22, 1997 and defeated the Charlotte Sting 79-59 at America West Arena in front of a crowd of 16,102 fans. Gillom stepped it up and took control of the Mercury leading the team in scoring averaging 15.7 ppg for the season and ended the season being tied for fifth in the league in scoring and being named to the All-WNBA second team. Timms led the team in assists (5.1 apg); while, Foster led the team in rebounding (6.1 rpg). Pettis was second on the team in scoring (12.6 ppg) and ranked 12th in the league.

It didn't take long for Phoenix to make their mark in the WNBA. The first ever WNBA player trade was made on July 31, with the Mercury obtaining Mikiko Hagiwara from Sacramento for future considerations. Phoenix led the league in forcing their opponents to turn the ball over, with opponents averaging 21.4 turnovers per game. At the same time, the Mercury had the fewest turnovers in the league, averaging 17.0 turnovers per game. The Mercury also led the league in rebounding percentage with .508, as well as holding their opponents to a scoring low, an average of 65.2 points per game. Phoenix was tied with Los Angeles for the most steals in a single game (20) and was second behind Cleveland, for the most offensive rebounds in a single game (22).

There was one team that the Mercury fought against all season, the Los Angeles Sparks. In three meetings, the Mercury went into overtime twice and had a buzzer beater victory once. Toni Foster hit the only buzzer beater shot of the season on July 13 at Los Angeles in a 57-56 victory. In the final game of the season on August 24, the Mercury had a sellout crowd for an overtime victory of 73-68 against Los Angeles, which advanced Phoenix into the playoffs.

Phoenix made the playoffs and faced the New York Liberty in the semi-final game (single elimination game). Phoenix fell to New York, 59-41, in front of their home crowd of 16,751 at America West Arena. Gillom and reserve Marlies Askamp each posted 9 points and Gillom grabbed 7 rebounds.

The second WNBA season got even hotter for the Phoenix Mercury. With the expansion of the league from 8 to 10 teams (Washington and Detroit) and a longer playoff series, Phoenix took their game all the way to the WNBA finals. Under the guidance of head coach Cheryl Miller, the team posted a 19-11 record and a second trip to the playoffs. The Mercury ended the regular season on a positive note posting a 7-2 record for the month of August, with a 4-0 record at home. Jennifer Gillom made two buzzer beater shots that not only led Phoenix into overtime victories, but also helped the Mercury advance to the playoffs. In June and July the Mercury posted a winning record of 12-9 with Gillom leading the way in scoring and rebounding. She was also named Player of the Week for the week of July 12th.

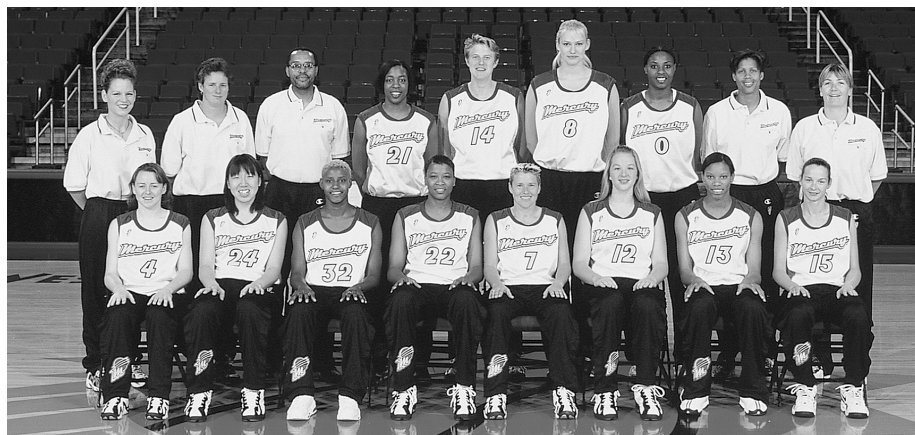

The 1998 Phoenix squad featured seven international players. The Mercury drafted the talented 6'8", 19 year old Russian, Maria Stepanova, in the first round (8th pick) of the 1998 draft. Three players were from Australia (Michelle Griffiths, Kristi Harrower, Michele Timms), one from Slovakia (Andrea Kuklova), Germany (Marlies Askamp) and Japan (Mikiko Hagiwara). Hagiwara, Kuklova and Stepanova all had traveling interpreters during the season.

Gillom became the second player in WNBA history (behind Cynthia Cooper) to surpass the 1,000 point mark in her career and ended the season with 1,064 points. She finished the season ranked second in the league in scoring, fifth in rebounding, sixth in three-point field goal percentage and tenth in steals. Gillom was named to the All-WNBA first team and led the team in scoring for the second straight season, averaging 20.8 ppg.

Phoenix faced the Cleveland Rockers in the first round of the WNBA playoffs. The Mercury finished the semi-final series with a 2-1 record. The Mercury defeated the Rockers in game one of the semi-finals in front of their home crowd (78-68). Phoenix had a heart breaking loss in game two in Cleveland by one point (67-66). In game three, Bridget Pettis led all scorers recording 27 points and 11 rebounds and helped secure the Mercury win (71-60). Gillom led the series against Cleveland averaging 19.7 ppg and 7.3 rpg. The Mercury advanced to the WNBA Finals where they faced the defending World Champion Houston Comets. The Mercury were victorious in game one at America West Arena (54-51). Michele Timms turned up the heat in game two of the Finals at Houston and led the team with 21 points (7-18 FG, 2-8 3-pt FG, 5-5 FT). The two teams went into overtime but the Comets came away with the win (74-69). The Comets won game three (80-71) and walked away with the WNBA Championship title. Gillom led the team in scoring and rebounding in the playoffs, posting an average of 17.0 ppg and 7.8 rpg.

The Mercury had arguably the best bench around the league. Phoenix was 11-2 when their bench scored 20+ points in a game. The bench posted an all-time high 47 points in an 88-59 victory vs. Washington on 8/4. Marlies Askamp led the bench during the season in scoring and rebounding, averaging 5.3 ppg and 3.3 rpg.

The Mercury fans filled the stands and kept Phoenix ranked in the top three in the league for attendance, averaging 13,765.

1999 SEASON

Whitney Houston sang the national anthem as all the stars came out in New York for the Inaugural WNBA All-Star game at Madison Square Garden. Jennifer Gillom and Michele Timms were selected to play in the inaugural WNBA All-Star game on the Western Conference team on July 14 in New York. With Van Chancellor coaching the Western Conference team, the West defeated the Eastern Conference team, which was coached by Linda Hill-MacDonald, 79-61.

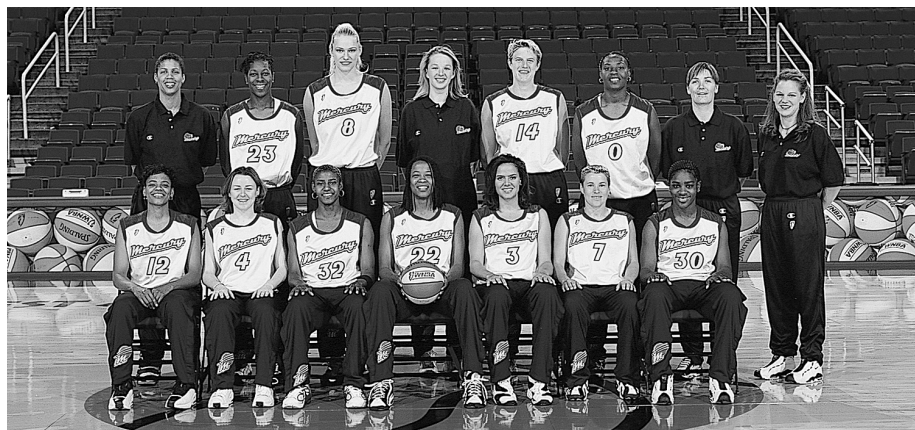

With an overall record of 15-17 and Cheryl Miller re-signing a multi-year contract, the Mercury heated things up in the second half of the season. If the season had been decided on second half performance alone, Phoenix would have fared much better than their fourth place Western Conference finish. Based on the last 18 games of the season, the Mercury would have ended the season with an 11-7 record placing themselves in second place in the Western Conference. In the last 18 games the Mercury averaged 68.1 ppg, 39.6 rpg, 16.4 apg and 7.7 spg while in the first half of the season they averaged 67.6 ppg, 32.2 rpg, 15.3 apg and 6.5 spg and a record of 4-10. Phoenix also ended the season holding three WNBA single game records. They had the most field goal attempts (79), the most three-point field goal attempts (29) and the fewest free throw attempts (4). The Mercury won 11 consecutive home games, from 7/17 through 8/17, which set a new franchise record and ranked Phoenix second in the WNBA record books (behind the Houston Comets) for the most consecutive home games won.

Gillom became one of two players in the league to record 1,500 career points (behind Cynthia Cooper) and led the team in scoring for the third straight season (15.2 ppg). Gillom also scored in double figures 82 out of 90 regular season games in the last three seasons. She also recorded her 550th career rebound vs. Utah on 8/20. Gillom became the only Mercury player to have started and played in every game (90 games) in the last three years. Timms was a close second, having not played in three games and not starting in one game.

Maria Stepanova stepped it up off the bench and recorded career-high numbers. Her 62 total blocks landed her ranked second in league for blocks per game (1.94 bpg). She had a streak of at least one blocked shot (41 total blocks) in 18 straight games from 7/17 through 8/20. Her career-high six blocks on 6/26 at Detroit was a Mercury franchise record for the most blocks in a single game. Stepanova recorded four consecutive double-doubles and ended the season with six double-doubles.

With the Mercury bench having so much depth, they outscored their opponents bench 19 out of 32 times and 12 out of 16 times at home. Maria Stepanova led the bench in scoring (7.8 ppg) and rebounding (5.1 rpg).

Once the American Basketball League (ABL) closed its doors, many of those talented players joined the WNBA and heated up the competition. With the competition fierce, America West Arena had no problem packing the house and maintaining Phoenix's top three ranking in the league for attendance.

2000 SEASON

Phoenix hosted the second annual WNBA All-Star Game on July 17, and Brandy Reed represented the Mercury on the Western Conference team that bested the East, 73-61.

The Mercury finished the season with a franchise-best 20-12 record and their third playoff berth in four seasons.

At the start of the season, the Mercury put together a franchise-record four-game road winning streak (6/13-6/24), and the team continued its winning ways by tying a franchise record with four consecutive overall wins from July 7-13. In August, the Mercury shot a scorching WNBA-record 63.6 percent from the field vs. the Seattle Storm.

Phoenix also secured a mention in the record books by holding the Miami Sol to a 2000 WNBA season-low and Mercury franchise-low 44 points, while limiting the Sol to a franchise-low 22.6 percent from the field.

Despite the injuries the team faced, many Mercury players excelled individually as well. Reed finished the season ranked third in the league and first on the team in scoring (19.0 ppg), while Jennifer Gillom (12.5 ppg) had the second-best scoring average for Phoenix. Reed (5.8 rpg) and Michelle Griffiths (4.0 rpg) were the top Mercury rebounders. The Mercury accomplished these milestones in spite of the numerous injuries to key players. Michelle Cleary, Maria Stepanova and Michele Timms all suffered season-ending knee injuries, while Gillom and Griffiths each missed time due to sprained ankles. To compensate for these injuries, Phoenix signed guards Dena Head and Nicole Kubik mid-season.

The 2000 season was one which saw Reed return to Phoenix through a trade after spending one season in Minnesota, and finish the year ranked third in the WNBA in free throw percentage, third in scoring, fifth in steals and tied for 15th in rebounding. Also, Michelle Cleary set a new franchise record for individual assists in a game with 12 assists on 7/19 vs. Utah, and Tonya Edwards was nominated for the second annual American Express Small Business Services WNBA Entrepreneurial Award. Edwards has a snack vending business out of Columbus, Ohio. In addition, Gillom set a new career high and also tied the Mercury's all-time record for most free throws in a game by shooting 12-12 from the line on 6/14 vs. Portland, and Lisa Harrison finished second in the league with a 1.36 steals-to-turnovers ratio. "The Sparkplug" Bridget Pettis kept her streak alive of consecutive games played with 122. Finally, rookie Adrain Williams was one of only two Mercury players (Reed is the other) to record a double-double this season.

Phoenix's impressive finish led the team to the playoffs for the third time in its four-year existence. In the First Round of the 2000 Playoffs, the Mercury faced the league's top team, the Los Angeles Sparks, and fought hard, but lost both games to their Western Conference foe.

The WNBA welcomed four new teams (Indiana Fever, Miami Sol, Portland Fire and Seattle Storm) to the league and the Mercury won all nine games against the 2000 expansion teams.

The 2000 season also featured the 2000 Olympics in Sydney, Australia. Four Mercury players joined their national teams in Sydney for the Games. Trisha Fallon, Michelle Griffiths and Michele Timms suited up for the host Australian National Team, and won a silver medal, and Maria Stepanova played for the Russian National Team.

2001 SEASON

The 2001 season marked the fifth anniversary of the Phoenix Mercury and the WNBA. One of eight inaugural members of the league, the Mercury has seen the league raise the level of competition and expand to 16 teams over the years. Phoenix boasts an 83-71 overall record and captured a Western Conference title in 1997 and a trip to the WNBA finals in 1998.

On January 8, 2001, the Phoenix Mercury named Cynthia Cooper the second head coach in franchise history. Cooper, winner of four straight WNBA titles with the Houston Comets and two-time league MVP, took over for Cheryl Miller, who resigned following the 2000 season. Cooper guided the Mercury to a 13-19 record and a fifth-place finish in the Western Conference.

As a team, the Mercury enjoyed the longest winning streak in franchise history from July 14-27, where they won five games in a row. This included two game-winning shots by fifth-year veteran Jennifer Gillom, who hit buzzer-beaters to defeat Detroit and Seattle during that streak. Another highlight saw all five starters score in double figures for the first time in Mercury history as Phoenix downed Minnesota on 7/14/01. Eight different players led the team in scoring throughout the year while ten different players led in rebounds.

Individually, Maria Stepanova (.507) and Trisha Fallon (.490) ranked among league leaders in field goal percentage while point guards Kristen Veal (4.3) and Michele Timms (4.1) finished fifth and sixth, respectively, among assist leaders. Veal also ranked first among WNBA rookies in the assist category. Lisa Harrison ranked eighth among WNBA free throw shooters with a .864 percentage.

Three of the original Mercury members, continued to make headlines in 2001. Bridget Pettis saw action in all 32 games in 2001, extending her streak to 154 games played over five seasons in the WNBA. She joins a select group of just six players who have appeared in every game in WNBA history. Jennifer Gillom notched her 2,000th career point on 6/10/01, becoming only the third player in WNBA history to reach this milestone. Michele Timms capped off her professional career and the 2001 season on 'Michele Timms Night' by hitting a three pointer with 7.5 seconds left in the 56-38 victory over Houston on 8/14/01.

Off the court, the Mercury continued their strong showing in the community with various appearances and programs. Mercury players volunteered their time at events such as spaghetti dinners, hospital visits, book drives, kid's clinics and Boys and Girls Club visits. For the month of July, Michele Timms was named the WNBA's Hometown Hero, honoring a player who donates time and energy to their local community. A $5,000 check was presented in her name to the Mary Cobb 'Building Dream' Foundation, a program created by Cynthia Cooper that raises funds for breast cancer patients.

The 2002 season marked the sixth year for both the WNBA and one of its original eight teams, the Phoenix Mercury. In six seasons, Phoenix owns an overall record of 94-92. The "Mighty Mercury" won the Western Conference Title in 1997 and earned a trip to the WNBA Finals in 1998.

2002 could only be described as a frustrating year for the Mercury. In the first few days of training camp, the club learned that 6'8" Russian center Maria Stepanova would miss the season due to pregnancy. Rebounding from the loss of Stepanova, the team came out of the gate quickly, winning four out of the first five games. Soon after the hot start, things began to change. On June 26, Head Coach Cynthia Cooper resigned from her position to spend more time with her family and Assistant Coach Linda Sharp was named Interim Coach for the remainder of the season. When Cooper left, the team held a 6-4 record. The Mercury responded by winning their first game under Sharp, knocking off the Seattle Storm 62-53. After a home loss to the defending champion LA Sparks, the team embarked on a five-game road swing.

The road would prove to be a thorn in the Mercury's side all season, as they endured a 15-game losing streak on the road. The team finally earned a win in Portland on August 11, the last road game of the year, beating the Fire 73-70 to finish the season 1-15 away from America West Arena.

On August 7, the Mercury honored an original member of the team by retiring Michele Timms' jersey. "Timmsy's" #7 was sent to the rafters in front of 10,286 Mercury fans, the largest crowd of the season. After the halftime ceremony, the X-Factor was treated to a 59-57 Mercury victory.

The 2002 Mercury finished with a record of 11-21, missing the playoffs for the second consecutive season. On October 23, 2002, the Mercury announced the hiring of John Shumate as the club's third head coach in franchise history. Shumate joined the Mercury with a wealth of basketball knowledge having played in the NBA for several seasons before joining the Toronto Raptors coaching staff as an assistant and then the Phoenix Suns scouting staff.

2003 SEASON

The 2003 season marked the seventh anniversary for the WNBA, and one of its charter franchises, the Phoenix Mercury. Under the direction of first-year head coach John Shumate, the 2003 Mercury finished the season with an 8-26 record. Although not the season they had hoped for, the record was certainly not indicative of the effort put forth both on and off the court by the Mercury.

The Mercury had the fourth pick in the 2003 Draft, the club's highest draft pick to date, and selected 6'2" forward Plenette Pierson from Texas Tech. The Mercury also added veteran leadership at the point guard position by selecting Tamicha Jackson in the WNBA's Dispersal Draft. After all their preseason moves, the Mercury found themselves with one of the youngest rosters in the WNBA.

With a new coach in place, and just four players returning from the 2002 squad, the 2003 Mercury spent the majority of the season trying to implement a new defensive style, as well as jell together as a team during the short 34-game season. Not an easy task for such a young squad.

On July 2, 2002 veteran forward Adrian Williams was named to the 2003 WNBA All-Star Team, the first Mercury player to be named to an All-Star Team since 2000. Williams joins Michele Timms, Jennifer Gillom and Brandy Reed as representatives of Phoenix in the All-Star Game. In her All-Star debut, the 6'4" Williams saw 19 minutes of action en route to nine points, six rebounds and two steals as the West defeated the East 84-75.

Signed by the Mercury as a free agent in April, Anna DeForge quickly stepped up as the Mercury's on-court leader. Returning to the league after a two-year absence, DeForge finished the season as the Mercury's leading scorer (11.9 ppg) and finished among the league's top ten in three-point shooting (.412). A strong candidate for the WNBA's Most Improved Player Award, DeForge led the Mercury in scoring on 14 occasions.

While the Mercury managed eight victories on the season, the club lost 17 games by nine points or less and eight games by less than five points. On July 15, the Mercury battled the two-time defending champion Los Angeles Sparks to double-overtime before falling one point shy of the victory. Phoenix would see another double-overtime contest August 3 at Washington, this time emerging victorious in the extra sessions.

Off the court, the Mercury continued their strong support within the community by making numerous appearances through team and league programs. Mercury players volunteered their time to assist Valley children in the WNBA's Read to Achieve Program and also visited numerous schools, YMCAs and other venues for basketball clinics and camps. For her off-season dedication to the community, forward Kayte Christensen won the WNBA's Community Assist Award in May for all of her efforts across the Valley.

2004 SEASON

The 2004 season marked a new era in Mercury history with a new coach, new owners and the number one pick in both the draft and the dispersal draft. While the Mercury fell a game short of making the playoffs, the Mercury more than doubled their win total from the previous season and established themselves as an improved team and contender for the upcoming seasons.

In February 2004, as the WNBA entered its eighth season, the Phoenix Mercury became the first team in WNBA history to have individual owners invest in the team as Anne Mariucci and Kathy Munro paid 1 million for an initial 10 percent stake in the Mercury.

Two months later, the Phoenix Mercury announced the hiring of Carrie Graf as their head coach. Graf was no stranger to the Mercury, having spent four seasons as an assistant coach with the Mercury (1998, 1999, 2001 and 2003). Graf became the fifth head coach in Mercury history and led the Mercury to a 17-17 record in her first season.

Joining Graf on the sidelines was former Minnesota Lynx head coach Brian Agler and a familiar face in the Mercury organization, former guard/forward Lisa Harrison who retired in the offseason.

On April 17, 2004, history was made as the Mercury selected UCONN sensation Diana Taurasi with the first pick. Mercury joined Penny Taylor who was selected first overall in the dispersal draft.

With a new coach and new players, the Mercury started the season slow, falling to 8-12 after a home loss to Minnesota on July 19. However, after acquiring Gwen Jackson from the San Antonio Silver Stars for 2003 All-Star Adrian Williams, the Mercury went on to win eight of their next nine games.

The Mercury and the rest of the WNBA took a break from action during the month of August to let their players compete in the 2004 Olympics in Greece. The Mercury sent two players to the Olympics. Taurasi represented the United States and forward Taylor represented Australia. The two met face to face in the gold medal game, where the United States prevailed 73-63 and took home the gold medal. Taurasi scored eight points in that game and Taylor led Australia with 16 points in that game.

The Mercury returned to action on September 1, and won their first four games and improved to 16-13, but the Mercury dropped their next four games and fell one game short of making the playoffs.

Individually, the 2004 season was led by three players, Taurasi, Taylor and veteran guard Anna DeForge. The trio scored 1,500 of the Mercury's 2,300 points, or 65 percent of the team's offense (Taurasi 578, DeForge 488 and Taylor 434).

Taurasi became the first player in WNBA history to start her career with three consecutive 20+ point games. She went on to average 17.0 ppg and won the Rookie of the Year award and also was named to the All-WNBA First Team. DeForge finished the season averaging 14.4 points a game and was named to the WNBA select team that played the US Olympic team before they traveled to Greece. She also was named WNBA Player of the Week for the week of July 5.

Off the court, the Mercury continued their strong showing in the community with various appearances and team and league programs. Mercury players volunteered their time to assist Valley children in the WNBA's Read to Achieve and Mind, Body, Spirit programs and also visited numerous schools, YMCAs and other venues for basketball clinics and camps.

The story of the 2005 Phoenix Mercury was one of peaks and valleys that left the team headed-in the right direction for 2006, hungry for the postseason play that barely escaped its grasp for the second straight year.

Shorthanded to begin the season, the Mercury opened the 2005 campaign with a 3-10 record. Phoenix played the first several weeks of the season without what would become three-fifths of their starting line-up: Penny Taylor, Kamila Vodichkova and Maria Stepanova, who would all join the team at various points during the season. Stepanova, the final piece of the puzzle, returned to the club for the first time since the 2001 season, and helped to trigger one of the largest in-season turnarounds in WNBA history.

The 3-10 Mercury went 11-4 once Maria joined the squad, improbably climbing back into the hunt in the West. At one point from June 15 to August 25, Phoenix won eight straight home contests with the West. However, for the second straight season, Phoenix lost four of the team's pivotal final six games and was beaten out of the final Western Conference playoff spot.

In the process, though, Phoenix played an entertaining brand of basketball, especially at America West Arena. The Mercury scored 70+ points in 14 of the team's final 20 games after doing it just three times in the first 14. The Mercury were 11-6 when reaching the 70-point plateau, including 10-3 at home. Phoenix was also 15-4 when holding the opponent under 70 (1-14 when failing to do so).

It was a season of honors for Mercury guard and league icon Diana Taurasi. Taurasi became just the second player in Mercury history to reach 1,000 career points in just her second season in the league, joining Jennifer Gillom. Taurasi made her first trip to the All-Star game, becoming the first Mercury player to be voted-in as a starter since Michele Timms in 1999. Hosted by the Connecticut Sun, Taurasi was no doubt a crowd favorite, returning to the state of her collegiate glory. In addition, the 6-foot guard was named the WNBA's Player of the Week for the first time in her career for the week of August 1, 2005, after leading the team to a 2-0 record against conference foes in the playoff hunt, and nearly recording a triple-double on August 5th against Houston. Taurasi finished the season fourth in the league in scoring (16.0), fifth in assists (4.5) and scored 20 or more points seven different times, including a career-high 31 point effort in the season finale in Seattle.

It was a season of firsts for Phoenix against the rival Los Angeles Sparks. The Mercury won the season series (2-1) for the first time in franchise history, and won at Staples Center for the first ever. Phoenix enters the 2006 season having won three of the last four meetings against Los Angeles after losing the previous 18.

The Mercury hopes to capitalize on this, other momentum and renewed confidence, and return to the playoffs in their tenth-anniversary season.

2006 SEASON

As the heat rose in the desert during the 2006 WNBA season, league and franchise records were topped by the high-powered offense of the 10th anniversary Phoenix Mercury and its dominant backcourt of Diana Taurasi and rookie Cappie Pondexter.

The Mercury entered 2006 with just four returning players, newly built for the run-and-gun style of first-year head coach Paul Westhead. Joining All-Star Taurasi was collegiate standout Pondexter, who the Mercury selected with the second overall pick in the draft, a selection that helped the Phoenix assemble one of the most prolific scoring duos in league history. Guard Kelly Miller was brought in via trade to help push the tempo and Penny Taylor joined the team late.

With high expectations to begin the season, the young Mercury, still adapting to a new system and players, were humbled in a 27-point season-opening loss to the defending champion Sacramento Monarchs. Phoenix would drop its first four games of the season. Despite being slowed by foul trouble in the season-opening loss, the rookie made herself at home in the league quickly. Pondexter scored 30 points in back-to-back games (the fourth and fifth overall games of her career) to become the third player all-time to accomplish the feat. It was a sign of things to come for the Mercury and its powerful offense.

In Pondexter's second 30-point effort on June 6 against Sacramento, Mercury All-Star Diana Taurasi posted her first 30-point game of the year, the first time in league history teammates scored 30 or more in the same game. Pondexter, named to the All-Rookie team at the season's conclusion, garnered one Player of the Week honor (June 5-11) while All-WNBA First Team member Taurasi won two (July 3-9, August 7-13).

Taurasi captured the attention of the entire league with the most productive offensive season in WNBA history. Dee now holds the league records for scoring average (25.3), points in a season (860) and points in a single game (47). She took ahold of league records for field goals made and attempted in a season and three-point field goals made and attempted in both a season and a game. Taurasi tied former Comets guard Cynthia Cooper's WNBA record with eight 30-point games in 2006 and joined current Shock guard Katie Smith as the only players to score 40 or more points multiple times in a single season. She scored 30 or more in back-to-back games twice, joining Cooper as the only players ever to do so.

Taurasi and Pondexter helped the Mercury find its mojo and become the most powerful offense in league history, averaging a WNBA-record 87.1 points per game, reaching triple digits twice, including a franchise-record 112-point explosion on August 3 vs. Charlotte.

Clicking on all cylinders, the Mercury closed the season by winning a franchise-record seven consecutive games, posting a perfect 7-0 August and finishing the season 18-16. It marked the Mercury's first winning season since 2000 and gave Phoenix the same record as three playoff teams, but unfortunately the club missed a postseason berth for the third consecutive season by the narrowest of margins. Missing the playoffs automatically qualified the Mercury for the draft lottery, where, despite a 2.5 percent chance (25 out of 1000), Phoenix won the No. 1 pick in the 2007 WNBA Draft.

The Mercury is rising in Phoenix and the future is bright.

The 2007 WNBA season saw a unique start. Despite a 2.5 percent chance (25 out of 1,000), Phoenix won the lottery for the No. 1 pick in the WNBA Draft. With this pick, General Manager Ann Meyers Drysdale made the groundbreaking decision to trade the draft rights to No. 1 pick Lindsey Harding to Minnesota for veteran post player Tangelia Smith. The Mercury had closed out the 2006 season on a franchise-record seven game win-streak, and with the addition of Smith along with the return of its dominant backcourt of Diana Taurasi and rookie Cappie Pondexter, the team looked to pick up where they left off with the fast-paced offense of Head Coach Paul Westhead.

Phoenix started the season off that way with an opening day victory at home versus the conference rival San Antonio Silver Stars on May 19, 2007 in front of an electric home crowd, the "X-Factor", of over 10,000 fans. Phoenix would see continued early success, finishing the month of May with a 4-1 record. Taurasi scored a Mercury season-high 37 points on May 25 as Phoenix defeated Houston, 111-85, tied for the third-highest point-scoring game by one team in WNBA history.

The 2007 Mercury shattered league scoring records for the second consecutive season, averaging a league-high 89.0 points per game. Phoenix became just the second team in WNBA history to lead the league in scoring in back-to-back seasons, joining the 2001 and 2002 Los Angeles Sparks, who won back-to-back WNBA Championships. The squad also increased their all-time number of 100-point games from two to 12, all of which have come under coach Westhead.

The offensive guru became the second-winningest coach in franchise history, passing Carrie Graf. In his two seasons with the club, Westhead compiled a 41-27 record and a .603 winning percentage, the highest in franchise history. Westhead also owns the best 68-game record in team history and was the fastest Mercury coach to 40 wins.

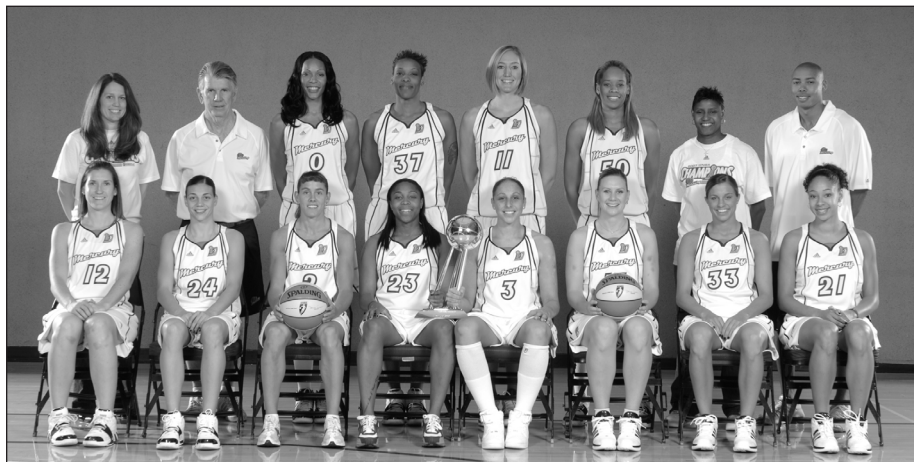

After back-to-back home losses on June 20 to Washington and June 22 to Detroit dropped the Mercury to .500 at 7-7, Phoenix won sixteen of its last twenty games and turned the season around. Through those final 20 games Penny Taylor, a strong candidate for 2007 WNBA MVP, caught fire and averaged 20.8 points per game to end the season. Taylor also scored at least 25 points in four consecutive games (all victories) from June 30-July 6, tying the WNBA record for consecutive games of 25 or more points.

Phoenix would finish the season with a franchise-record 23 victories and finish a franchise-record 12 games over .500. Entering the 2007 season, no Mercury team had ever been 10 games above .500.

The Mighty Mercury entered the 2007 Playoffs as the No. 1 seed in the Western Conference. The team ended the longest postseason drought in WNBA history, clinching a playoff berth for the first time since the 2000 season on August 17. The Mercury would face 2007 WNBA MVP Lauren Jackson and the Seattle Storm in the first round.

In Game One of the series, the Mercury won their first postseason game in almost nine years as they defeated the Storm 101-84. In Game Two, Phoenix jumped out to an early 27-14 lead at the end of the first quarter and never looked back. "The Storm was over" as Phoenix ended Seattle's playoff run, winning the series 2-0. Cappie Pondexter led the team in the series, scoring 23.0 points per game. Phoenix now faced the powerhouse San Antonio Silver Stars in the Western Conference Finals.

Game One against the Silver Stars was a different story, with the two teams tied, 20-20, at the end of the first period. The rest of the game was much the same, with Becky Hammon hitting a three-pointer to tie the game at 100. On the inbound, Pondexter was fouled and sent to the charity stripe, where she hit both shots to go up 1-0 in the series. The Mercury trailed, 47-42, at halftime in Game Two. Late in the game, Phoenix used a 12-2 run to go up, 96-86, in the last minute. The Mercury went on to defeat the Silver Stars, and won the series 2-0. Phoenix advanced to the WNBA Finals where they would face the Eastern Conference juggernaut Detroit Shock.

Game One of the Finals was a true nail-biter, with the Mercury trailing by just four points in the waning minutes of the game. Phoenix was unable to overcome the deficit and fell, 100-108. Game Two was all Mercury as they enjoyed a 48-23 halftime lead. Diana Taurasi led the Mercury to victory with a playoff career-high 30 points, and Phoenix evened the series at 1-1 heading back to the Valley of the Sun. The Mercury struggled from the floor in Game Three and were defeated 83-88. It was now a must-win situation for Phoenix, who needed to win Game Four at home in order to force a fifth in Detroit. As the lead went back-and-forth in the closing minutes of Game Four, Deanna Nolan hit a jump shot to go up, 76-75. Pondexter, the eventual WNBA Finals MVP, came back and hit a close bank shot with 21.7 seconds to go, and the Mercury defeated the Shock, 77-76. Game Five belonged to the Mighty Mercury, who got out to an early 30-17 lead, shooting 73.3% from the field in the first quarter. The Mercury never trailed as they went on to win 108-92. For the first time in WNBA history a champion was crowned on the road. For the sixth time in the 11-year league history, the WNBA scoring champion went on to become the eventual WNBA champion.

The Sun shines brightly in the Land of the Mighty Mercury.

2008 SEASON

Phoenix kicked off its 12th season with Championship Saturday, where at the Mercury's home opener on May 17, 2008, the team received its 2007 championship rings while a banner was raised to commemorate the city's first WNBA championship. The 13,749 fans at US Airways Center marked the second-highest home opener attendance in franchise history, second only to the Mercury's inaugural game on June 22, 1997. The season concluded with overall increases in attendance, television ratings, and website traffic.

Behind first-year head coach Corey Gaines, the Mercury started the season 0-4. However, Phoenix turned it around by winning eight of its next 11 games to improve to 8-7 on July 1. That stretch included a five-game East Coast road trip on which Phoenix went 4-1.

The Mercury continued its high-scoring ways in 2008, becoming the first team in WNBA history to lead the league in scoring in three consecutive seasons. The club averaged 88.5 points per game and missed setting a WNBA record in scoring for the third-straight season by just a half-point. Phoenix recorded back-to-back 100-point games for the third time in franchise history, defeating the Connecticut Sun 102-81 on June 18 and the Chicago Sky 112-105 on June 20, the third highest-scoring game in WNBA history. The Mercury's 112 points matched the club's franchise record for points in a game as well.

Phoenix brought in a few new faces to help with rebounding and post scoring, an area the team looked to improve in 2008. Veteran post Barbara Farris was signed, as well as Le'Coe Willingham, who finished the season with the league's highest field goal percentage. The Mercury selected North Carolina's LaToya Pringle with the 13th overall pick in the 2008 WNBA Draft. Pringle became the first rookie in WNBA history to record five blocks in consecutive games, doing so on June 11 and 14.

The WNBA took a month-long hiatus in 2008 while the Olympic Games took place in Beijing, China. At that point, the Mercury owned a 12-15 record. Phoenix was one of just two teams in the league to have two players represent USA in the Olympics. Phoenix All-Stars Diana Taurasi and Cappie Pondexter helped the U.S. Olympic Women's Basketball Team to an undefeated 8-0 record and gold medal in the games, the second gold medal for Taurasi and first for Pondexter.

After a loss to San Antonio in the first game back from the break on August 28, the Mercury went on a three-game win streak from September 3-7. Phoenix went 4-3 after the month-long break, and finished 16-18 on the season, barely missing the postseason. Taurasi and Pondexter finished as the league's top two scorers, averaging 24.1 and 21.2 points per game, respectively. It was the first time in league history that teammates have finished a season No. 1 and 2 in scoring. Taurasi was named the 2008 WNBA Peak Performer in scoring after leading the league in scoring for the second time in her career (2006).

With the fifth overall pick in the 2009 WNBA draft and behind the fast-paced offense of coach Gaines, the Mercury look to return to the Western Conference playoffs in 2009.

2009 SEASON

The 2009 WNBA season began the way the Mercury had hoped in a few ways. First, the Mercury selected Auburn guard/forward DeWanna Bonner with the fifth overall pick in the 2009 WNBA Draft. The Mercury would later state that the club would've selected her had they owned the first overall selection. General Manager Ann Meyers Drysdale made a number of moves in the offseason to bring in players like Temeka Johnson and Nicole Ohlde to surround the team's core with talented role players. Pair these offseason transactions with the opportunity to take advantage of a full training camp and preseason complete with stars Diana Taurasi and Cappie Pondexter, and the Mercury was prepared for a championship-caliber 2009 campaign.

Phoenix started off with a league-best 5-1 record through its first six games. That start included four 90-point games and a 115-104 overtime victory over the Sacramento Monarchs at US Airways Center on June 13. The Mercury's 115 points marked the most points scored in a single game (non-regulation) in WNBA history. Behind second-year Head Coach Corey Gaines, the Mercury won 14 of its first 19 games, marking the team's best 19-game start in franchise history. The Mercury lost consecutive games just once in 2009 on June 21 and 23. After those two losses, Phoenix won 18 of its last 26 games overall.

On July 17, 2009, the Mercury announced the return of one of the world's highest-profile players, Penny Taylor, to its lineup. Taylor had been a pivotal contributor to the club's championship success in 2007, and after her absence from the team for the 2008 WNBA season, the Mercury felt she was the missing piece needed for another championship run.

Diana Taurasi continued to make her mark on the franchise and WNBA in 2009. On Aug. 8 vs. Indiana, Taurasi became the franchise's all-time leader in games played, giving her the top spot on the club's lists for tenure, games and minutes played, scoring, field goals made, defensive rebounds and blocks. On Sept. 5, 2009, Taurasi became the fastest player in WNBA history to record 4,000 career points. DT3 eclipsed the milestone in 197 games, 12 games faster than any other player in WNBA history.

In 2009, the Mercury not only led the league in scoring for an unprecedented fourth-straight season, but set a new WNBA record for scoring average for the third time in four seasons with its blistering 92.8 points per game. The Mercury reached the century mark nine times in 2009, more than any other team in the league has in their respective franchise history. Phoenix also became the first franchise in WNBA history to lead the league in scoring, field goal percentage and free throw percentage in multiple seasons, joining the 2007 Mercury and 2000 Houston Comets. From the charity stripe, the 2009 Mercury shot an astonishing 85.5 percent, better than any team in the history of the WNBA or NBA.

Head Coach Corey Gaines guided the Mercury to a franchise-record tying 23-11 mark, earning the top overall seed in the 2009 WNBA Playoffs and home court advantage throughout. After narrowly missing the postseason in his first season as head coach in 2008, Phoenix became the first team in the WNBA to clinch a playoff berth in 2009.

The Mercury took on the San Antonio Silver Stars in the Western Conference Semifinals. In Game One of the best-of-three series at AT&T Center on Sept. 17, Phoenix fell 91-92 to the Silver Stars despite a 13-point fourth quarter from Penny Taylor. Heading back to Phoenix facing elimination, the Mercury handed the Silver Stars a 106-78 loss at US Airways Center on Sept. 19, thanks to 16 points and 13 rebounds in just 22 minutes from first-round draft pick and 2009 WNBA Sixth Woman of the Year DeWanna Bonner. Despite trailing after three quarters in Game Three on Sept. 21, Phoenix outscored San Antonio 34-23 in the final period to earn a 100-92 victory and advance to the Western Conference Finals.

On deck for the Mercury in the Western Conference Finals were the Los Angeles Sparks. In Game One, played at UCLA's Pauley Pavilion, the Mercury's three-point prowess helped the club earn a 103-94 victory to take a 1-0 lead in the best-of-three series heading back to Phoenix. Game Two was a different story, with the Mercury trailing from start to finish and suffering a low-scoring, 76-87 defeat, forcing another decisive Game Three. With a trip to the WNBA Finals on the line in Game Three on Sept. 26, the Mercury held the Sparks to just seven first quarter points and enjoyed a 15-point lead at the end of the first half. In Lisa Leslie's last WNBA game before retiring, Phoenix's defense scored 21 points off of 16 Los Angeles turnovers and held 2008 MVP Candace Parker to just six points, earning an 85-74 victory and the club's second WNBA Finals appearance in three seasons.

The Mercury faced the Eastern Conference's most elite team, the Indiana Fever, in the WNBA Finals. Game One at US Airways Center on Sept. 29 will not soon be forgotten. Tied 105-105 going into overtime, the Mercury trailed (115-116) with just 1:40 remaining before Cappie Pondexter, the 2007 WNBA Finals MVP, scored five-straight to push the game out of reach and secure a 120-116 victory in the highest-scoring game in WNBA history. In Game Two, Phoenix struggled from the field and lost Penny Taylor midgame due to injury, suffering an 84-93 defeat to even the series heading to Indiana for Games

Three and Four. The Mercury was dealt a one-point (85-86) loss in a controversial Game Three at Conesco Fieldhouse and faced elimination going into Game Four on Oct. 7. With their backs against the wall, Phoenix evened the series, earning a 90-77 victory in Game Four and bringing the series back to the Valley of the Sun for a winner-take-all Game Five. On Oct. 9, in front of a sold-out US Airways Center crowd of 17,313 (the largest postseason attendance in Mercury history), the Mercury and Fever gave fans their money's worth. Tied 80-80 with less than five minutes remaining, Phoenix outscored Indiana 14-6 the rest of the way to seal a 94-86 victory and hoist the club's second WNBA championship trophy in three years.

The Mercury, with two championship trophies in-hand and a world-class core of players and coaches, looks to continue its championship success in 2010.

2010 SEASON

The foundation of the defending champion Phoenix Mercury seemed to be rocked just prior to the start of the 2010 season when All-Star guard Cappie Pondexter requested a trade to New York after winning two championships in four years in the Valley of the Sun, but General Manager Ann Meyers Drysdale quickly reassembled the club from inside out. As part of the three-team deal involving Pondexter, the Mercury acquired All-Star forward Candice Dupree from the Chicago Sky on March 30 and two-and-a-half weeks later forward Penny Taylor and guard Temeka Johnson re-signed multi-year deals with the club. It appeared then that the two-time WNBA champions had all of the right pieces to repeat in 2010.

The season tipped off on May 15 when the players and coaches received their rings as part of Championship Saturday and promptly defeated Los Angeles 78-77 thanks to a pair of made free throws by Taylor with 1.5 seconds left. It was a promising start as the Mercury has made the playoffs each year it has won the season opener.

After an overtime loss to Seattle a week later and a win over the relocated Tulsa Shock in the first of four record-setting matchups, the Mercury went on to win just three of its next 13 games stumbling to a 5-11 start. Similar to its two championship seasons, though, the month of July became the bright spot of the regular season and the Mercury seemed to round into championship form.

Racing to a 6-3 record for the month, the league's most potent offense averaged 105.3 points in those nine games highlighted by a WNBA record seven consecutive 90-point performances and back-to-back record nights. On July 22 the Mercury scored 123 points in a win at Tulsa, a WNBA record that lasted all of 48 hours. In its next game at Minnesota on July 24, the Mercury overcame a 14-point fourth quarter deficit to force overtime and eventually win 127-124 in 2OT. The 251 combined points shattered the previous WNBA record for most points scored in a game set in 2006 during a triple overtime matchup between Phoenix (111) and Houston (110).

Sandwiched between the bombshell outings was another burst of fireworks coming in the form of a trade. After defeating the Shock on Thursday night, the Mercury acquired Tulsa forward Kara Braxton on Friday. The 6-6 forward added a physical presence that was absent from the Mercury front court and wasted no time making an impact. In her first game in front of the X-Factor on July 29, the same game Phoenix scored a WNBA record 69 first half points, Braxton poured in 20 points and grabbed six rebounds in just 18 minutes of play helping the Mercury to a 110-92 win over Minnesota.

An even larger factor in the club's turnaround was the emergence of Dupree who finally caught up to the Mercury's up-tempo pace. Through nine games in July, the 6-2 forward topped her previous season high in scoring five times, including a career-high 32 points at Minnesota, and recorded three double-doubles to average 22.3 points and 9.3 rebounds per game. On her way to setting a franchise record for highest field goal percentage in a season (.664), Dupree made 69.7% of her shots during the month and won her third career Player of the Week award.

The momentum carried into the first week of August when the Mercury won a season-best four consecutive games to cap off nine wins in a span of 11 games and moved above .500 (14-13) for the first time since starting the year 2-1. However, injuries and the decision to rest key players for the playoffs left the club with just one win in its final seven games.

Despite the 15-19 record, the Mercury still secured the second seed in the Western Conference and hosted San Antonio in the first round of the playoffs. Making the first postseason appearance of her career, Dupree led the Mercury to a Game One win with 32 points, the most ever scored by a postseason rookie. She followed that performance with a 19-point, 11-rebound double-double in Game Two to help Phoenix sweep San Antonio and advance to the Western Conference Finals.

The Western Conference Finals became the matchup every WNBA fan was anticipating: the defending champion Phoenix Mercury vs. the league-leading Seattle Storm. After a hard-fought Game One loss in Seattle the Mercury was forced into its eighth must-win situation in the last three postseasons (7-0). Playing in front of a raucous US Airways Center crowd for Game Two, the home team used a 20-1 run to take a 15-point first half lead and a 48-40 advantage into the break. The Mercury led by as many as 19 in the second half and by 13 with 5:35 left in the game behind Taurasi's game-high 28 points. The Storm took over from there, though, finishing the game on a 15-0 run capped by a Sue Bird three-pointer with 2.8 seconds left to steal the 91-88 win and the series.

Aside from the final record, the changes in personnel did not seem to slow the 2010 edition of the Phoenix Mercury. Living up to reputation, head coach Corey Gaines' squad led the league in scoring for the fifth consecutive season with 93.9 points per game, setting a new WNBA record for the fourth time in the last five years. The league's most potent offense eclipsed the century mark 10 times during the regular season surpassing its record set in 2009. Along with 22 WNBA and franchise single game records tied or broken in four meetings with Tulsa, Phoenix also shot that franchise best 47.3% from the field and dished out a WNBA record 20.2 assists per game.

After winning championships in 2007 and 2009, optimism was high for 2011 based on the Phoenix Mercury's recent success in odd years. Adding to the apparent luck of the calendar, the team returned its core group from the 2010 squad that advanced to the Western Conference Finals and held a full training camp with its full complement of players, a rarity in the WNBA. Diana Taurasi and Penny Taylor received an unexpected, and much-needed, extended rest prior to the start of the season, Candice Dupree was entering her second full season in "The System" and Kara Braxton had a full training camp to condition for the up-tempo style.

All of the pieces seemed to be in place but the season got off to a slow start, both in schedule - the Mercury played just three games in the first three weeks of the WNBA season, and in success - Phoenix started 0-3. But then things began to click as the club won 10 of its next 11 games including a season-high six-game winning streak. The 11-game stretch started with an overtime win at home against perennial Eastern Conference power Indiana followed by a road win over San Antonio, handing the then-undefeated Silver Stars their first loss of the season. Highlighting the back end of the six-game win streak was a 39-point home win over the Tulsa Shock, the largest margin of victory in franchise history, and a 112-105 win at Minnesota, the highest scoring regulation game in WNBA history, that left the Mercury with the best record in the WNBA (10-4).

A week later, however, the Lynx entered the US Airways Center and snapped the Mercury's six-game winning streak in the final game before the All-Star Break, a game that featured six of the 12 West All-Stars. The Mercury lost four of its next five games after the break, but endured a more crucial loss on Aug. 4 when it traded starting center Braxton to the New York Liberty, two days after she was suspended for conduct detrimental to the team. In return Phoenix received reserve guard/forward Sidney Spencer but ultimately lost the interior presence acquired in 2010 that was expected to deliver the club's third championship.

So, Head Coach Corey Gaines adjusted and reserve players filled holes. The always high-octane Mercury played even faster, increasing the number of possessions and shots attempted and decreasing its number of turnovers; veteran center Nakia Sanford entered the starting lineup and served the role of the hard-working post player; and DeWanna Bonner emerged to win her third consecutive WNBA Sixth Woman of the Year award, becoming the only player in league history to win a voted-on postseason award three straight years. A sleeper in the first half of the season (9.5 points and 6.1 rebounds per game), Bonner increased her averages to 12.3 points and 8.2 rebounds per game in the 15 games following the trade.

The highlight win of the second half of the season came Aug. 16 when the Mercury defeated the Seattle Storm 81-79 at US Airways Center, snapping a nine-game series losing streak in the regular season and playoffs. Phoenix trailed by as many as 18 points in the game, tying it for the second-largest comeback in franchise history. Breaking the streak proved to be even more valuable come the postseason when the third-seeded Mercury drew the second-seeded Storm in a best-of-three first-round series.

Seattle routed the Mercury 80-61 at Key Arena in Game 1 holding the league's best shooting team to just 29.7 percent shooting from the field. Penny Taylor, who missed five of the last six regular season games with back spasms, led the Mercury with 13 points. With its back against the wall, the Mercury found renewed life in Phoenix, leading Game 2 from start to finish evening the series at 1-1. Candice Dupree, who was held to just eight points in Game 1, erupted for 29 points and seven rebounds, and DeWanna Bonner, who started every game in the 2011 postseason, added a double-double with 13 points and 13 rebounds. The win forced a decisive Game 3 at Key Arena where the Mercury had not won since 2009.

Phoenix trailed 20-9 after the first quarter and fell behind by as many as 18 points midway through the second quarter, but crawled back to within nine, 39-30, at the half. The Mercury eventually took its first lead 60-59 with 6:56 remaining in the game, but one possession later Taurasi fouled out of the game. With the league's leading scorer out, Taylor filled the vacancy scoring 11 of her 19 points in the final 6:00 and grabbing a franchise postseason record 17 rebounds in the game. Tied at 75 with 10.5 seconds remaining, Taylor drove baseline and missed the potential game winner, but the rebound bounced into Dupree's hands who hit a six-foot jumper with 1.9 seconds on the clock to seal the win and the series for Phoenix.

The Mercury advanced to the Western Conference Finals for the third straight year and ran into league-leading Minnesota who ended the best-of-three series convincingly in two games. The Lynx won Game 1 in Minnesota 95-67 and Game 2 in Phoenix 103-86.

2012 SEASON

A front office realignment following the 2011 season assigned Amber Cox as President and Chief Operating Officer, Corey Gaines as General Manager, in addition to his head coaching duties, and Ann Meyers Drysdale as Vice President; the trio immediately went to work, reshaping the roster to remain in title contention. Among the first acquisitions were plucking guard Alexis Hornbuckle and forward Chardé Houston from the league-champion Minnesota Lynx in a pair of sign-and-trade deals. While expected to be important contributors in the rotation, they became even more crucial when in March All-Star forward Penny Taylor suffered an ACL tear in her left knee while playing overseas, sidelining her for the entire WNBA season. It was a significant blow but three-time Sixth Woman of the Year DeWanna Bonner was poised to take on a starting role and Hornbuckle and Houston would bolster the team's depth. In April's Draft, the Mercury, eyeing a point guard to run the trademark up-tempo style offense, selected Big 10 Player of the Year Samantha Prahalis with the sixth overall pick.

The Mercury opened the 2012 season in Minnesota against the defending champion Lynx, but did so without the services of Diana Taurasi, who sustained a strained left hip flexor during training camp. Taurasi managed just 36 minutes in the season's first three games combined before the club shut her down indefinitely in favor of a more comprehensive rehabilitation.

Without the two leading scorers from 2011 (a combined 38.3 points per game from Taurasi and Taylor), the Mercury managed just four wins in the first half of the season and received two more injury blows before the Olympic break. Candice Dupree, who averaged 17.3 points and 6.5 rebounds through the season's first eight games, and Chardé Houston, who was having the best season of her career through the first half, both suffered left knee injuries that required surgery. Dupree missed 21 total games before returning and Houston missed seven. All in all, Mercury players combined to miss 107 games due to injury from nine different players.

One silver lining in all of the absences was the unprecedented opportunity for younger players to make a place in the league. Rookie point guard Samantha Prahalis started all 28 games she appeared in and played 31.6 minutes per game. She was named Rookie of the Month for June and averaged 11.6 points and 4.5 assists per game for the season, on her way to a second-place finish in Rookie of the Year voting.

DeWanna Bonner, promoted to a full-time starter after three seasons as the league's Sixth Woman of the Year, cemented herself as a star, averaging a career-high 20.6 points per game, second-most in the WNBA. She jumped nearly 10 points per game from 2011 (10.7), the fourth-highest scoring jump in league history.

Second-year center Krystal Thomas also made the most of an opportunity. After being waived on the final day of training camp, Thomas returned to the team a week into the regular season and was thrust into the starting lineup for the season's seventh game. Thomas started the final 25 games, after appearing in just 15 totals games in all of 2011, and graced the record books by closing the season with five straight double-digit rebounding efforts, the longest such streak in franchise history. Thomas soared in her sophomore campaign, averaging 8.0 rebounds per contest, the second-highest single-season average in franchise history and the fifth-best rate in the WNBA in 2012, trailing Olympians Tina Charles, Sylvia Fowles, Candace Parker and Rebekkah Brunson.

Despite the depleted roster, the Mercury earned big road victories against Western Conference-rival Seattle and the Eastern Conference regular season champion, Connecticut Sun, in the second half of the season.

The 7-27 finish left the Mercury with the second-worst record in the league and in the WNBA Draft Lottery for the first time since 2008. Broadcast on ESPN during the primetime edition of SportsCenter for the first time in league history, the Lottery took place just three days after the conclusion of the regular season. The Mercury owned a 27.6 percent chance at winning the top pick and in the end overcame the odds, securing the top pick in the draft for the third time in franchise history. The Mercury looks to return a fully healthy and experienced roster in 2013 and add the top player in arguably the most anticipated draft in league history.

2013 SEASON

A year that began with sky-high expectations after the drafting of dunking phenom Brittney Griner saw the Mercury go through peaks and valleys in 2014, a season that ended in the Western Conference Finals for the third time in four seasons.

Phoenix opened the season with three-straight losses, then won eight of its next nine games before losing seven times in the subsequent nine games, a skid that caused the dismissal of head coach and general manager Corey Gaines. Former University of Arizona and Grand Canyon University Head Coach Russ Pennell took the reins, and the Mercury responded, winning his first three games, and compiling a 9-4 (.692) mark in his interim tenure to secure the third playoff seed in the Western Conference. After Pennell took over on Aug. 8, in his 13-game tenure, the Mercury's revamped defense surrendered the lowest field goal percentage in the WNBA.

Phoenix was led by the All-Star and First Team All-WNBA selection Diana Taurasi, who became the first player in league history to average at least 20.0 points and 6.0 assists in a single season. Taurasi finished second in the league in scoring (20.3) and second in assists (career-high 6.2), becoming the first player in WNBA history to finish in the top two in those categories in the same season – only Nate Archibald, Oscar Robertson and Bob Cousy have accomplished that feat in the history of the NBA.

The Mercury faced rival Los Angeles in the first round of the playoffs, stealing Game 1 on the road in thrilling fashion behind a playoff career-high tying 30 points from Taurasi. Phoenix then dropped Game 2 at home. Returning to LA for a back-and-forth, series-deciding Game 3, Phoenix surrendered the lead with 11 seconds remaining, but a turnaround jumper by Griner in the closing seconds put Phoenix back on top, and a clutch defensive stop at the buzzer gave Phoenix the series win. Griner's dramatic winner capped a season in which she was voted an All-Star starter as a rookie, led the league in blocks with a franchise-record 3.00 blocks per game, highest average in the WNBA since 2002. Phoenix fell in the Western Conference Finals to the eventual champion Minnesota Lynx.

A new era in Phoenix Mercury history began in the 2014 season with Jim Pitman taking over general manager duties and Sandy Brondello taking over the reins as head coach. As leaders of the organization, they built an unforgettable team that point guard Diana Taurasi appropriately called "the best team in history."

Behind a WNBA regular-season record 29 wins, the Mercury won the third championship in franchise history in memorable fashion. Things took a turn for the Mercury during a six-game road trip in early June. The team entered the trip with a 4-1 record and looked to close the trip with a win at Minnesota on June 15. The Mercury had lost 10 straight to the Lynx, including six straight on the road. That game was also a turning point for the team as guard Penny Taylor was inserted to the starting lineup for the first time all season. In front of a national TV audience on ESPN2, Phoenix snapped both losing streaks and also kicked off a streak of their own, beating the Lynx 92-79.

That win in Minnesota started a dominant 16-game winning streak for the Mercury--the second-longest win streak in WNBA history. During the streak, Phoenix dominated opponents outscoring them by an average of 13.75 points and shooting 50.3-percent. Phoenix led for 83.3-percent of game action and trailed for only 9 minutes and 19 seconds of fourth quarter action. The streak ended right where it started with a 75-67 loss at Minnesota on July 31.

Following that loss, the Mercury finished the regular season winners in seven of their last eight games, closing the season with a WNBA-record 29 regular season wins. The Mercury also ended the season with a team-record 15-game home winning streak to finish 2014 with a 16-1 home record--the best in team history. Phoenix also set a league record by shooting 48.4-percent as a team for the season.

In addition to the numerous team records set by the Mercury in 2014, a number of individuals set personal milestones. In a 87-69 win over Chicago on July 2, Taurasi moved into second place on the WNBA All-Time scoring list. That same game, Candice Dupree joined the 4,000 point club, becoming the 20th player in league history to achieve that mark. Taylor reached the 4,000 point plateau on June 10 in a 81-66 win at Washington.

Brittney Griner set major strides in her sophomore season as she set the WNBA single-season record for blocked shots with 129. Her total blocked shots eclipsed the total of eight other WNBA teams. She became the first player in team history to be named WNBA Defensive Player of the Year. On June 29 at Tulsa, Griner set a league record for blocks in a game with 11.

Griner and Taurasi were each named First Team All-WNBA while Brondello became the first coach in team history to garner WNBA Coach of the Year honors.

Phoenix went 7-1 in their playoff run en route to the title. They swept Los Angeles in the first round and were able to get by Minnesota in the Western Conference Finals for the first time in team history. The magical season was capped off with a three-game sweep of Chicago in the WNBA Finals. Taurasi picked up WNBA Finals MVP honors for the second time in her career.

The Mercury hosted the WNBA All-Star Game and had three players represent the team--Dupree, Griner and Taurasi. A crowd of 14,685 at US Airways Center saw the East edge the West 125-124 in the first WNBA All-Star Game to go into overtime.

2015 SEASON

For the third time in franchise history, the Phoenix Mercury tipped-off a season with a championship celebration, as the 2014 WNBA Champions received their rings in front of more than 11,000 fans on opening night 2015. After the rings were distributed and the banner was raised, the Mercury opened the season with a win over San Antonio, the first of 20 regular season wins—the first time in team history Phoenix tallied consecutive 20-win seasons.

The Mercury's quest to repeat as champions was made more difficult with the offseason announcement that Diana Taurasi would sit-out the entire 2015 season. Championship backcourt mate Penny Taylor followed suit, and the Mercury were without All-Star Brittney Griner for the season's first seven games due to a league suspension. But a re-tooled roster that added veterans Monique Currie, Leilani Mitchell and Noelle Quinn, and WNBA first-timers Cayla Francis and Marta Xargay, was still led by mainstays Griner, Candice Dupree and Brittney Griner—all three of whom started the 2015 WNBA All-Star Game in Connecticut for West Head Coach Sandy Brondello.

After serving as the defensive stopper on a 2014 Mercury squad that led the league in defensive efficiency, DeWanna Bonner earned her first career All-Star berth and first career All-WNBA First Team nod in 2015 by posting one of the best all-around statistical seasons in the WNBA, elevating her game in Taurasi's absence. Bonner and Finals MVP Maya Moore were the only players in the WNBA to average at least 15.0 points, 5.0 rebounds and 3.0 assists, and Bonner teamed with Brittney Griner to make the Mercury one of only two WNBA teams in 2015 with a pair of teammates in the top-10 in scoring.

After a 3-5 start (3-4 without Griner), Phoenix tore off six-straight wins and won 11 of 13 games with BG back in the lineup. Just as it appeared Phoenix was the league's hottest team, the Mercury dropped six of its next nine games. Finishing the season with wins in three of its final four games earned the Mercury the second seed in the West playoffs, where they would sweep the Tulsa Shock in two games. Griner blocked a league-record 11 shots in Game 1 of the opening round series, the night she was named the WNBA's Defensive Player of the Year for a second consecutive season.

Unfortunately, Phoenix was swept in the Western Conference Finals by the eventual champion Minnesota Lynx, a series that included a Game 2 loss in Phoenix on a last-second free-throw by Moore.

The game is set for May 29, 2011 vs. Standard Life Team GB (Great Britain's national team) at Manchester Evening News Arena. The partnership will promote women in sport and encourage participation in team sports.
- March 3, 2011 At a press conference at the AT&T Center in San Antonio, the WNBA announces that the Silver Stars will host the 2011 All-Star Game for the first time in franchise history. The contest, set for Saturday, July 23, is to be the second WNBA All-Star Game played in a Western Conference venue and the first since the 2000 game was held in Phoenix.
- March 8, 2011 In honor of Women's History Month and International Women's Day, the WNBA officially announced plans to celebrate its 15th season. Among those would be the selection of the Top 15 Players and the Top 15 Moments in league history. Key among other planned celebrations would be a nationally televised game (ESPN2) in which the New York Liberty would visit the Los Angeles Sparks on June 21, fifteen years to the date of the league's inaugural game in 1997 featuring those same two teams.

WNBA TIMELINE

- March 28, 2011 Sheryl Swoopes, 40, returns to the WNBA, signing to play with the Tulsa Shock after a two-year hiatus. An inaugural member of the WNBA and a member of the league's All-Decade Team selected in 2006, Swoopes resume includes four WNBA championships as a member of the Houston Comets (1997-2000), three league MVP awards (2000, '02, '05) and three Defensive Player of the Year honors (2000, '02, '03).
- April 7, 2011 The Washington Mystics sign a marquee partnership with Inova Health System, becoming the fifth WNBA team to have such a partnership. Players will wear Inova Hospital System's name and logo on the front of their home and away jerseys during the 2011 WNBA season.
- April 7, 2011 The WNBA and partner adidas unveiled new uniforms for all 12 teams featuring Revolution 30 technology and women's basketball specific TECHFIT base layers.
- April 11, 2011 The WNBA becomes the first professional sports league to conduct its annual Draft at ESPN headquarters in Bristol, Conn. The Minnesota Lynx made Maya Moore the top overall selection of the 2011 WNBA Draft presented by adidas. Australian native Elizabeth Cambage, selected second by the Tulsa Shock, and Courtney Vandersloot, tapped third by the Chicago Sky, rounded out the top three picks.
- April 21, 2011 Laurel J. Richie, a veteran of more than three decades in consumer marketing, corporate branding, public relations and corporate management, is appointed President of the WNBA, NBA Commissioner David Stern announced. Laurel leaves her post as Senior Vice President and Chief Marketing Officer for Girl Scouts of the USA to join the WNBA.
- June 21, 2011 The Los Angeles Sparks host the New York Liberty at STAPLES Center in the WNBA's 15th Anniversary Game, played 15 years to the day of the league's inaugural matchup between the same two teams in LA. The Sparks win, 96-91.
- July 23, 2011 In honor of the WNBA's 15th season, the league unveiled its "Top 15 Players of All Time" during a halftime ceremony live on ABC at the 2011 WNBA All-Star Game presented by adidas. With consideration given to on-court performance and ability, leadership, sportsmanship, and community service, as well as to contributions to team success and women's basketball, voting was conducted by fans, select national and WNBA-market media, and by current players and coaches. The players named were: Sue Bird, Tamika Catchings, Cynthia Cooper, Yolanda Griffith, Becky Hammon, Lauren Jackson, Lisa Leslie, Ticha Penicheiro, Cappie Pondexter, Katie Smith, Dawn Staley, Sheryl Swoopes, Diana Taurasi, Tina Thompson, and Teresa Weatherspoon.
- August 9, 2011 In a road game at the Phoenix Mercury, Minnesota Lynx all-stars Lindsay Whalen and Seimone Augustus become the 35th and 36th players to surpass the 3,000-point mark for their respective careers, but the first pair of teammates to eclipse the mark in the same game. In the process, Augustus also tied the Mercury's Diana Taurasi as the fastest player in WNBA history to reach 3,000 (151 games).
- August 22, 2011 The WNBA and Boost Mobile, an industry leader in no-contract wireless service, announced a landmark multiyear marketing partnership that made Boost Mobile the first league-wide marquee partner of the WNBA. As part of the deal, the Boost Mobile brand logo was subsequently featured on the front of the game jerseys of 10 of the WNBA's 12 teams. It marked the first time the WNBA had a league partner with jersey branding for multiple teams throughout the season other than adidas, the league's official outfitter.
- October 2, 2011 Despite falling to the host Minnesota Lynx in Game 1 of the WNBA Finals, Atlanta Dream forward Angel McCoughtry set Finals records for points in a quarter (19 in the third), points in a half (27 in the second), and consecutive points (14 from late in the first half into the third quarter).
- October 5, 2011 The Atlanta Dream's Angel McCoughtry surpasses the WNBA Finals record (set by her in 2010) for most points in a single game with 38 in a loss to the host Minnesota Lynx.
- October 7, 2011 In a celebration of its 15th season, the WNBA and partner Boost Mobile unveiled the Top 15 Moments in league history as voted by fans. The top moment was Teresa Weatherspoon's half-court shot at the buzzer to win Game 2 of the 1999 WNBA Finals for the New York Liberty and send that series to a decisive third game. Ranking second was the WNBA's first ever game (NY Liberty at LA Sparks, June 21, 1997); third was Sparks' center Lisa Leslie throwing down the first dunk in WNBA history in the first half of a game vs. the Miami Sol.
- October 7, 2011 The Minnesota Lynx captured their first WNBA title with a 73-67 win over the Atlanta Dream. Lynx guard/forward Seimone Augustus was named Finals MVP after leading the Lynx to a sweep in the best-of-five series. Augustus posted 22 points and seven assists in Game 1 and had a franchise-playoff record 36 points in Game 2, including 15 in the fourth quarter.

- April 16, 2012 The 2008 WNBA Draft presented by Boost Mobile took place at ESPN headquarters in Bristol, CT, marking the second straight year that the draft was held on the campus of the league's broadcast partner. Stanford's Nnemkadi Ogwumike (Sparks), Tennessee's Shekinna Stricklen (Storm), Notre Dame's Devereaux Peters (Lynx), Tennessee's Glory Johnson (Shock), and Miami's Shenise Johnson (Silver Stars) were the top five picks.
- June 3, 2012 Angel McCoughtry of the Atlanta Dream sets the WNBA's single-game mark for most successful free throws without a miss, going 17-for-17 vs. Chicago.
- June 15, 2012 With a win over Phoenix on June 15, the defending champion Minnesota Lynx set a WNBA record for the best start to a season, going 10-0 out of the gate before being upended by Seattle.
- June 16, 2012 Already the WNBA's career steals leader, Tamika Catchings also took over the top spot in league history for career free throws made when she hit six of eight from the charity stripe against Chicago.
- June 17, 2012 Connecticut's Tina Charles, with 23 points and 22 rebounds at Atlanta, became the first player in WNBA history to log three 20-20 games in a career.
- July 14-Aug. 15, 2012 The WNBA temporarily stops play to give players the opportunity to compete in the 2012 Olympic Games in London. The U.S. Olympic Women's Basketball Team - comprised of 12 WNBA players - defeated France in the gold medal game. The win gave the United States women their fifth consecutive Olympic gold medal and, dating back to the bronze medal game in 1992, stretched the team's winning streak to 41 games.
- Sept. 18, 2012 Already the WNBA's all-time leading scorer, Tina Thompson (Seattle) became the first player in the history of the league to surpass 7,000 career points with her jump shot at the 9:03 mark of the second quarter of the Storm's victory over visiting Chicago at KeyArena. The milestone capped a season in which Thompson also became the first WNBA player to top 15,000 minutes played and 2,450 field goals made.
- Aug. 28, 2012 A put-back basket against San Antonio by Minnesota Lynx center McWilliams-Franklin, moved the 14-year veteran and six-time All-Star into first place on the WNBA's career list for offensive rebounds, surpassing the 1,049 of Yolanda Griffith.
- Sept. 22, 2012 Temeka Johnson of the Tulsa Shock finished the regular season with the league's best single-season mark in history for three-point FG percentage (.531, 34 of 64). On the same day, Ticha Penicheiro of the Chicago Sky plays the final game of her career and, with two assists, increases her WNBA career record to 2,599.
- Sept. 26, 2012 The WNBA Draft Lottery (to determine the order of selection of the 2013 WNBA Draft) was held for the first time at ESPN's studios in Bristol, Conn., live during the 6 p.m. ET edition of SportsCenter. The Phoenix Mercury ultimately won the top pick, followed in succession by the Chicago Sky, Tulsa Shock, and Washington Mystics.
- Oct. 21, 2012 Indiana defeated the defending champion Minnesota Lynx 3-games-to-1, giving the Fever its first WNBA championship in franchise history. Following Game 4, an 87-78 home win at Indianapolis' Bankers Life Fieldhouse, Indiana forward Tamika Catchings was named MVP of the WNBA Finals presented by Boost Mobile. Catchings, a three-time Olympic gold medalist and the league's 2011 MVP, averaged 22.3 points, 6 rebounds, and 2 steals during the Finals.
- Dec. 13, 2012 Following the league's Board of Governor's Meeting, the WNBA announces it will implement new rules regarding flopping and defensive three-seconds, while also extending the three-point line from 20 feet, 6 1/4 inches to 22 feet, 1 3/4 inches, consistent with the distance inherent in all FIBA competitions. The rules will go into effect beginning with the 2013 season.
- March 28, 2013 The WNBA and ESPN announce an extension of their partnership for another six years, paving the way for WNBA games to be televised on ABC, ESPN, and ESPN2 through 2022. The announcement, made by John Skipper, President of ESPN, Inc. and Co-Chairman of the Disney Media Networks, and Laurel J. Richie, WNBA President, extends the WNBA's television relationship with ESPN to 26 years. With the deal, up to 30 live games will be televised on ABC, ESPN or ESPN2 each season, including exclusive telecasts of the WNBA Finals presented by Boost Mobile.

WNBA TIMELINE

- March 28, 2013 On the same day as the WNBA and ESPN announce an extension of their partnership, the league also introduced a new brand identity. The refreshed identity reflects how far the level of play has come in 16 years as stronger, more agile players have made the game more competitive. The cornerstone of the new WNBA visual identity is a more modern "Logowoman" - the player silhouette within the logo - that better embodies the athleticism and diversity of current WNBA players while leveraging the distinctive orange-and-oatmeal color scheme of the league's iconic game ball.
- April 15, 2013 For the first time in the WNBA's 17 seasons, the league's Draft is televised live in primetime. The 2013 WNBA Draft presented by State Farm takes place for the third straight year at ESPN headquarters in Bristol, Conn., this time airing live at 8 p.m. ET on ESPN2. One of the most anticipated draft classes in league history is led by the "3 to See" - Brittney Griner of Baylor, Elena Delle Donne of Delaware and Notre Dame's Skylar Diggins. The Phoenix Mercury select Griner with the No. 1 overall pick; the Chicago Sky then take Delle Donne with the No. 2 selection and the Tulsa Shock claim Diggins third.
- May 27, 2013 While the WNBA's 17th season officially tipped off on May 24, it was a May 27 Memorial Day TV doubleheader on ESPN2 that introduced the "3 to See" - Phoenix center Brittney Griner, Chicago guard/forward Elena Delle Donne, and Tulsa guard Skylar Diggins - to WNBA fans. Griner, Delle Donne, and Diggins, the first, second, and third overall draft picks in the 2013 Draft, were the featured players as Tulsa first hosted the Washington Mystics and Phoenix then hosted Chicago.
- May 27, 2013 Brittney Griner, the No. 1 overall pick in the 2013 Draft, registered two dunks in her very first game, becoming the first WNBA player ever to dunk multiple times in the same game.
- June 8, 2013 The WNBA becomes the first U.S. professional basketball league to implement "Ref Cam" as part of a game telecast. A wireless, HD, mini point of view camera positioned at eye-level on game official Lamont Simpson, "Ref Cam" allowed viewers to virtually be on the court during the live ABC broadcast when Indiana hosted Phoenix.
- July 6, 2013 Mike Thibault moved ahead of Van Chancellor to become the head coach with the most regular-season victories in WNBA history. Thibault reached the milestone with the Washington Mystics' 62-59 win over the Seattle Storm. The win was Thibault's 212th regular-season victory as a WNBA head coach.
- July 27, 2013 The Los Angeles Sparks' Candace Parker was crowned MVP of the 2013 Boost Mobile WNBA All-Star Game after setting an All-Star Game record with 23 points, topping the mark of 22 set by Swin Cash in 2009. Parker shot 10-for-13 from the field and chipped in 11 rebounds. Leading into the All-Star Game, the Chicago Sky's Elena Delle Donne became the first rookie ever to lead all vote-getters for the event.
- August 18, 2013 Chicago's Sylvia Fowles became the first player in league history to post two 20-20 games in the same season. Fowles, who scored 20 points and added 21 rebounds vs. Connecticut on this date, had previously posted 24 points and 22 rebounds vs. Connecticut on May 31.
- September 8, 2013 Second-year guard Riquna Williams sets a WNBA single-game scoring record with 51 points in the Tulsa Shock's win at San Antonio. The 51-point effort surpassed the previous mark of 47 set by Phoenix's Diana Taurasi in 2006 and Seattle's Lauren Jackson in 2007.
- September 15, 2013 Guard Katie Smith, a veteran of 15 WNBA seasons and a seven-time WNBA All-Star, finishes her illustrious career ranked No. 1 in league history in three-point shots made (906); second in total points (6,452, trailing only Tina Thompson) and minutes played (15,725); fourth in free throws made (1,440); and fifth in field goals made (2,053).
- September 22, 2013 Forward Tina Thompson, the only player to play in each of the WNBA's first 17 seasons, plays her final game as Seattle is eliminated from the playoffs by Minnesota in the Western Conference Semifinals. The nine-time WNBA All-Star selection ended her career ranked as the league's all-time leader in points (7,488), field goals made (2,630), and minutes played (16,088); second in free throws made (1,480) and total rebounds (3,070); and fourth in three-point field goals made (748).
- October 10, 2013 After advancing to the WNBA Finals for the third consecutive season, the Western Conference champion Minnesota Lynx toppled the Atlanta Dream 3-games-to-0, giving Minnesota its second WNBA title in franchise history and its second crown in a three-year span. Following an 86-77 Game 3 victory at Gwinnett Arena in suburban Atlanta, Lynx forward Maya Moore, the runner-up for the regular-season MVP award, was named the MVP of the Finals. The Georgia native averaged 20 points, 6 rebounds, and over 2 assists during the Finals series.

- December 10, 2013 The 13th annual WNBA Draft Lottery (to determine the order of selection of the 2014 WNBA Draft presented by State Farm) was conducted in a televised event live on ESPN during SportsCenter for the second straight year. The Connecticut Sun, which had 442 chances out of 1,000 to receive the first overall selection, the most of any of the four teams in the lottery mix, ultimately won the top pick, followed in succession by the Tulsa Shock, San Antonio Silver Stars, and New York Liberty.
- January 14, 2014 The WNBA's San Antonio franchise officially changes its nickname from Silver Stars to Stars.
- February 5, 2014 The WNBA and NBA Board of Governors unanimously approved the purchase of the Los Angeles Sparks by an investment group led by Earvin "Magic" Johnson and controlling owner of the Los Angeles Dodgers, Mark R. Walter. The investment group includes Dodger co-owners Todd L. Boehly, Robert L. Patton and Stan Kasten.
- March 7, 2014 The Women's National Basketball Association (WNBA) and the Women's National Basketball Players Association (WNBPA) entered into a new eight-year collective bargaining agreement, commencing with the 2014 season and continuing through 2021. The new collective bargaining agreement includes an additional 12th roster spot, salary cap increases and reduced revenue sharing thresholds, making it more likely that the players will share in league revenue growth. In addition, a new "Time Off Bonus" (up to $50,000 per team) can be earned by a player who limits the amount of time she will play professional basketball (and/or play for a national team) during the off-season.
- July 19, 2014 Phoenix hosts the WNBA All-Star Game in front of a crowd of 14,685 at US Airways Center. The East edged the West 125-124 in what was the first ever WNBA All-Star Game to see overtime. Atlanta Dream guard Shoni Schimmel won MVP honors. The Mercury were represented by three players--Candice Dupree, Brittney Griner and Diana Taurasi.
- August 17, 2014 With a win over Seattle on the last day of the regular season, the Phoenix Mercury finish the season with 29 wins, the most in WNBA history.
- September 12, 2014 The Phoenix Mercury win their third WNBA Championship completing a three-game sweep of the Chicago Sky in Chicago. Mercury guard Diana Taurasi wins the Finals MVP Award. Mercury head coach Sandy Brondello becomes the first former WNBA player to win a championship as a head coach.
- July 23, 2015 The WNBA approves Tulsa's request to relocate to Dallas-Fort Worth for the 2016 season. The team later announced on November 2 that the new name for the team would be the Dallas Wings. The team will play at College Park Center, a 7,000-seat arena located on the University of Texas at Arlington's campus.
- October 15, 2015 The Minnesota Lynx cut down the nets after winning their third WNBA title in franchise history, topping the Indiana Fever, 69-52, in game five of the WNBA Finals. Silvia Fowles was named the Finals MVP after finishing with 20 points and 11 rebounds in the game-five win.
- November 4, 2015 The WNBA announces that Laurel Richie will step down as President of the league to pursue other interests. Richie served five years as WNBA President, leading the league into an eight-year Collective Bargaining Agreement and extending its partnership with ESPN through 2025.
- January 28, 2016 The WNBA approves significant changes to the regular-season and playoff formats. The changes, which will go into effect for the 2016 season, include a reconfigured postseason schedule and more balanced regular-season schedule. The eight teams with the highest winning percentage, regardless of conference, will qualify for the playoffs and be seeded based on their record. The playoffs will now consist of four rounds, with the top two seeds receiving a bye to the semifinals (third round) and the third and fourth seeds receiving a bye to the second round. Teams will be re-seeded after each round, while the first and second rounds will each be single elimination. The semifinals and WNBA Finals will both consist of a best-of-five format, with the Finals continuing to follow the same 2-2-1 format. In the newly balanced regular-season format, teams will now play four games against one team in their conference, and play three games apiece against the four remaining teams on their side of the league. Teams will also play three games against all six teams on the opposite side of the conference.
- February 10, 2016 Lisa Borders is named President of the WNBA by NBA Commissioner Adam Silver. Borders recently served as Chair of The Coca-Cola Foundation and was instrumental in bringing the WNBA to Atlanta in 2008. She replaces Laurel Richie, who spent five years as WNBA President, and will join the WNBA on March 21.
- March 15, 2016 WNBA announces its new leaguewide partnership with Verizon, making the wireless provider the league's most prominent marketing partner.

WNBA TIMELINE

- June 24, 2016 Diana Taurasi became just the third player in WNBA history to reach 7,000 career points, joining Tina Thompson and Tamika Catchings. Taurasi reached the milestone at Washington on June 24 in the Mercury's 91-79 win after knocking down a 30-foot three-pointer with 1:09 remaining in the third quarter. Reaching 7,000 points in only 348 career games, she became the fastest player to reach the mark as it took Thompson 460 games and Catchings 428 games.
- August 20, 2016 Team USA wins its eighth gold medal (sixth straight) at the 2016 Rio Olympics after defeating Spain in the gold medal game. Diana Taurasi, Sue Bird and Tamika Catchings each won their fourth Olympic gold medals, joining Lisa Leslie and Teresa Edwards as the only five players in Olympic history (both men and women's basketball) with four Olympic gold medals.
- September 21, 2016 Tamika Catchings plays her final WNBA game after falling to the Phoenix Mercury, 78-89, in the first round of the WNBA Playoffs. Catchings finished with a double-double after recording 13 points and 10 rebounds in the game. She finished her career as the all-time leader in rebounds (3,316) and steals (1,074) ranked second on the all-time scoring list (7,380 points) and first in free throws made (2,004). Catchings was a ten-time WNBA All-Star, a four-time Olympic gold medalist with Team USA, a ten-time member to the WNBA All-Defensive First Team, a seven-time selection to the All-WNBA First Team, the five-time WNBA Defensive Player of the Year, the league's MVP in 2011, a WNBA champion in 2012 and the 2012 WNBA Finals MVP.
- October 20, 2016 The Los Angeles Sparks defeated the Minnesota Lynx in Game 5 to win the 2016 WNBA Finals. It was the Sparks' third WNBA title in franchise history, joining the Phoenix Mercury and Lynx for the second-most WNBA titles in league history (Houston Comets have the most with four). Candace Parker was named the Finals MVP.

SERIES-BY-SERIES PLAYOFF HISTORY

PHOENIX/NEW YORK 1997 SEMI-FINALS

In the inaugural WNBA season, the Phoenix Mercury made it all the way to the WNBA playoffs. With eight teams in the league and four in each conference, only four teams would advance to the playoffs. The East was made up of Charlotte, Cleveland, New York and Houston, while the West was made up of Phoenix, Los Angeles, Sacramento and Utah. The playoff series included two rounds of single elimination games. Phoenix faced New York in their first playoff appearance in front of a sold out crowd at America West Arena on 8/28. The closest the Mercury came to the lead was in the first half when they were down by one point (8-7). Phoenix fought a losing battle as they went on a 6-0 run late in the second half, but it wasn't enough momentum to keep the Mercury alive. Phoenix only came within five points the second half as New York defeated Phoenix 59-41. Phoenix was led by the efforts of Jennifer Gillom scoring nine points and grabbing seven rebounds while Marlies Askamp added nine points. New York went on to meet Houston in the WNBA Finals. The Comets defeated the Liberty, 65-51, at the Compaq Center on 8/30.

SERIES-BY-SERIES PLAYOFF HISTORY

PHOENIX/CLEVELAND 1998 SEMI-FINALS

The WNBA playoffs changed for the better in 1998. The same rules applied from the 1997 season, with four teams with the best records advancing, but the series changed from two rounds of single elimination games to two rounds of the best of three series. For the second year, Phoenix made it into the post season. In front of their home crowd, the Mercury posted a 78-68 victory over the Rockers in Game One on 8/22. Phoenix dominated the second half, with Jennifer Gillom posting 13 points. Phoenix then traveled to Cleveland on 8/24 for Game Two of the series. The Mercury came out strong in the first half but the Rockers slowly took the lead. Phoenix had a one-point advantage and a minute left to play when Merlakia Jones of Cleveland hit a lay-up for 67-66 win. Gillom hit 19 of her 27 points in the second half but it was not enough to give the Mercury the victory. The series was tied at one game a piece and the Mercury needed a win to advance to the WNBA Finals. Game Three was a battle at Cleveland on 8/25. The first half was a war with neither team being ahead by more than seven points at a time. The high energy from Bridgett Pettis in the first half carried over into the second half as the Mercury dominated and won, 71-60. Pettis ended the game with 27 points, 14 points in the first half, and 11 rebounds, helping Phoenix get to the WNBA Finals. Gillom led the Mercury in the Cleveland series posting 19.7 ppg and 7.3 rpg in three games. The Mercury won the semi-final series, 2-1 and advanced themselves to the WNBA Finals, where they would face their season rivals, the Houston Comets.

SERIES-BY-SERIES PLAYOFF HISTORY

PHOENIX/HOUSTON 1998 WNBA FINALS

Head Coach Cheryl Miller led her team to the WNBA Finals where they met Houston in a best of three game series. In Game One of the Finals, in front of a packed America West Arena, Phoenix defeated Houston 54-51 on 8/27. With two minutes left to play, a lay-up by Jennifer Gillom and a free throw by Michelle Griffiths, secured the Mercury win. The Mercury then traveled to Houston for what would be a battle till the end. Phoenix dominated Game Two on 8/29, until Houston went on an 11-0 run with two minutes left to play. Michele Timms was fired up as she led the Mercury with 21 points, 12 of which came in the first half. Then with under a minute left to play, Cynthia Cooper kept Houston alive with a jump shot, which sent the game into overtime (66-66). The Mercury fought to stay on top but Gillom's three points were the only numbers they posted in overtime. The Mercury fell 74-69 in overtime. With the series tied at one a piece, Phoenix had to defeat Houston at a sold out Compaq Center on 9/1 to capture the WNBA title. The battle continued in Game Three as Phoenix and Houston traded baskets for the first five minutes but the Mercury ended the first half down by six. Phoenix jumped out in the second half with an 11-2 run to take over the lead but could not hold on till the end, losing 80-71. Gillom led the Mercury in the Finals, scoring 14.3 ppg and rebounding 7.7 rpg in three games.

SERIES-BY-SERIES PLAYOFF HISTORY

PHOENIX/LOS ANGELES 2000 FIRST ROUND

Phoenix made it to the post-season for the third time in four years and for the first time since the 1998 season. With the addition of four expansion teams in 2000, the playoffs featured the top four teams in each conference and three rounds of best-of-three game series. Phoenix entered the First Round as the fourth seed in the Western Conference and faced the top team in the league, the Los Angeles Sparks. The Sparks dominated the first game, never trailing, and building its biggest lead to 23 en route to an 86-71 victory at America West Arena. Lisa Leslie led L.A. with 20 points and 11 rebounds as the Sparks shot .515 from the field. Brandy Reed paced Phoenix with 17 points and was one of five Mercury players who scored in double figures. In the second game, the Sparks came out even stronger, shooting .557 from the field, including .640 in the second half, as they topped the Mercury 101-76 in Los Angeles. Phoenix led 10-8 at the 16:23 mark in the first half, but L.A. took the lead and never relinquished it as they swept the Mercury and advanced to the Western Conference Semi-Finals. Leslie again led the Sparks with 29 points, on 12-of-17 shooting, and 8 rebounds, and Mwadi Mabika added 15 points and 8 boards.

SERIES-BY-SERIES PLAYOFF HISTORY

PHOENIX/SEATTLE 2007 FIRST ROUND

Phoenix ended the longest postseason drought in WNBA history and made the playoffs for the first time since the 2000 season. Entering the postseason as the No. 1 seed in the Western Conference, Phoenix went up against the Seattle Storm in a best-of-three series. In Game One of the series at Key Arena, the Mighty Mercury won their first postseason game in almost nine years as they defeated the Storm, 101-84. Penny Taylor and Diana Taurasi both contributed a team-high 22 points as Phoenix turned 18 Seattle turnovers into 32 points. In Game Two in front of a home crowd at US Airways Center, the Mercury jumped ahead to an early 27-14 lead at the end of the first quarter. In the second and third quarters the two teams traded baskets, but in the fourth quarter the Storm outscored the Mercury, 26-19. The fourth quarter push was not enough, however, as the Mercury won, 95-89. The Storm was over as the Mercury ended Seattle's playoff run, winning the series 2-0. Cappie Pondexter led the team in the series, scoring 23.0 points per game. Phoenix would advance to the Western Conference Semi-Finals where they would face the San Antonio Silver Stars.

PHOENIX/SAN ANTONIO 2007 WESTERN CONFERENCE FINALS

The Mercury headed to San Antonio for Game One of a best-of-three series at the AT&T Center. The Mercury and Silver Stars traded baskets in the first quarter and were tied, 20-20 at the quarter break. At halftime Phoenix was up, 50-47 thanks to Diana Taurasi's 13 first-half points. With two seconds left in the fourth quarter, however, Becky Hammon hit a three-pointer to tie the game at 100. As the Mercury in-bounded the ball, Shanna Crossley fouled Cappie Pondexter, sending her to the free throw line. Pondexter hit both free throws, and the Mercury went on to win a true nail-biter, 102-100. Pondexter's team-high 26 points were crucial in a game which saw the lead change 14 times. The battle continued in Game Two in front of an electric Mercury home crowd. Although Pondexter contributed 16 first-half points, the Mercury trailed, 47-42 at halftime. Tied at 84 with 2:26 left in the final quarter, Phoenix used a 12-2 run to go up, 96-86 in the last minute. The Mercury went on to defeat the Silver Stars, 98-92 and won the series, 2-0. Pondexter's 33 points were a 2007 Mercury Playoff high. Phoenix advanced to the WNBA Finals for the first time since 1998, where they would face the Eastern Conference powerhouse Detroit Shock.

PHOENIX/DETROIT 2007 WNBA FINALS

Head Coach Paul Westhead led his team to the WNBA Finals where they met Detroit in a best-of-five series. In Game One at the Palace of Auburn Hills the Mercury trailed, 35-41 at halftime. With three minutes to go in regulation, Phoenix trailed by just four points. The Mercury was forced to foul in the final minutes and could not overcome the deficit, losing 100-108. Kara Braxton led the Shock in rebounds with 12 as Detroit outrebounded Phoenix, 48-30. Penny Taylor tied a WNBA Finals record for most points in a game with her game-high 32 points. Game Two at the Palace was a different story. The Mercury enjoyed a 48-32 halftime lead as the Shock struggled from the field. Phoenix recorded team playoff highs in both three-point field goals attempted and made, going 16-of-44 from behind the arc, while Detroit shot a meager 3-of-20 from three-point range. Diana Taurasi led the way with a playoff career-high 30 points as the Mercury won, 98-70, evening the series at 1-1. The two teams headed back to Phoenix for Game Three at US Airways Center. The Mercury trailed, 45-50 at the half and struggled from the field, shooting 16.1% from behind the arc. Diana Taurasi led the Mercury with 22 points and six rebounds, as the Mercury fell, 88-83. It was now a must-win situation for Phoenix, who would now have to win the next two games against the Shock. Game four at US Airways Center saw another close game, with both teams neck-and-neck late in the game. As both teams exchanged baskets in the closing minutes, Deanna Nolan hit a jump shot to go up, 76-75. Cappie Pondexter came back and hit a close bank shot with 21.7 seconds to go, sealing a 77-76 Mercury win. Pondexter led the team with a game-high 26 points. Game Five at the Palace of Auburn Hills saw a charged-up Mercury squad. Out to an early 30-17 first-quarter lead, Phoenix shot 73.3% from the field in the opening period, a WNBA Finals record for highest field goal percentage in a quarter by one team. The Mercury never trailed as Phoenix went on to win, 108-92, becoming the first team ever to win a WNBA Championship on the road.

PHOENIX/SAN ANTONIO 2009 WESTERN CONFERENCE SEMIFINALS

The Mercury entered the 2009 postseason as the No. 1 overall seed and faced the San Antonio Silver Stars in the best-of-three Western Conference Semifinals. In Game One at AT&T Center on Sep. 17, Phoenix fell 91-92 in a nail-biter. Facing elimination heading back to Phoenix, the Mercury retaliated, showing its offensive prowess defeating the Silver Stars in a 28-point landslide (106-78) thanks to a franchise postseason record 63.9 percent field goal shooting. Rookie sensation and WNBA Sixth Woman of the Year DeWanna Bonner poured in 16 points and 13 rebounds in just 22 minutes of play as the Phoenix bench outscored their San Antonio counterparts 44-13. In a decisive Game Three at US Airways Center two days later, Phoenix trailed going into the fourth quarter (66-69), but outscored San Antonio 34-23 in the final period to take a 100-92 come-from-behind victory and advance to the Western Conference Finals where they'd face the Los Angeles Sparks.

PHOENIX/LOS ANGELES 2009 WESTERN CONFERENCE FINALS

The Mercury advanced to the Western Conference Finals where they faced the Los Angeles Sparks led by the WNBA's all-time leading scorer, Lisa Leslie. Game One was played at Pauley Pavilion in Los Angeles on Sept. 23, where Phoenix stole a 103-94 victory behind Diana Taurasi's 28 points. Game Two at US Airways Center on Sept. 25 saw the Mercury struggle offensively, managing just 76 points on 39.7 percent shooting and losing 76-87, pushing the series to a third game. Game Three (the next day) was also a low-scoring contest by the Mercury's record-setting offensive standards, but Phoenix held Los Angeles to just 25 first-half points on 24.1 percent shooting and stifled 2008 WNBA MVP Candace Parker, holding her to just six points on the night, earning an 85-74 victory and a trip to the WNBA Finals to face the East's top-seeded team, the Indiana Fever.

SERIES-BY-SERIES PLAYOFF HISTORY

PHOENIX/INDIANA 2009 WNBA FINALS

Behind second-year Head Coach Corey Gaines, the Mercury advanced to the WNBA Finals for the second time in three seasons, where it faced the Eastern Conference's most elite team, the Indiana Fever. Game One of the best-of-five series would not soon be forgotten, as the two teams battled in an overtime thriller. After four quarters, the game was knotted at 105-105 heading into the extra period. There, the Mercury trailed (115-116) with just 1:40 remaining before Cappie Pondexter scored five-straight points to push the game out of the Fever's reach. Phoenix earned a 1-0 series lead, defeating Indiana 120-116 at US Airways Center in the highest-scoring WNBA game to date. The Mercury suffered an 84-93 loss in Game Two due in part to poor field goal shooting and the loss of Penny Taylor, who suffered an injury to the face and mouth, and now faced a two-game trip to Indiana with the series tied 1-1. Phoenix dropped a controversial Game Three, 85-86, and faced elimination heading back to the Valley of the Sun for a "win or go home" Game Four. The Mercury displayed its prolific shooting at US Airways Center on Oct. 7, winning the long-ball battle (10-2) and shooting better from three-point range than Indiana shot overall (41.7-40.8). Holding MVP candidate Katie Douglas to just seven points (2-of-14 shooting), the Mercury earned a 90-77 victory to force a decisive Game Five. Two days later, in front of a sold-out US Airways Center crowd of 17,313 (the largest postseason attendance in Phoenix history), Game 5 was tied (80-80) with just 4:29 left in regulation. From then on, Phoenix outscored Indiana 14-6, sealing a 94-86 victory and the Valley's second WNBA title in three years.

Nobel a double-edged sword

Peace Prize gives prestige to Obama but may complicate his foreign policy

By Tom Ichniowski
 PHOENIX — President Barack Obama on Friday won the 2009 Nobel Peace Prize, bringing the highest honor in the world to one of the most popular presidents in American history. The award, which is presented annually to individuals or organizations for their contributions to peace, was bestowed on Obama for his efforts to end the Iraq war and his efforts to establish a new framework for U.S. relations with Iran.

PHOENIX/SAN ANTONIO 2010 WESTERN CONFERENCE SEMIFINALS

Despite a 15-19 regular season record, the Mercury captured the No. 2 seed in the West and faced the San Antonio Silver Stars in the Conference Semifinals for the second consecutive season. Unlike the 2009 playoffs, however, Phoenix opened the series at home thanks to a new playoff format. Feeding off the home crowd in her first career postseason, fifth-year veteran Candice Dupree dropped in a game-high 32 points setting a WNBA record for points scored in a playoff debut. The performance paced the Mercury to a 106-93 Game One victory. In San Antonio for Game Two, Dupree continued her torrid pace with 19 points and 11 rebounds joining four starters in double figures, led by Diana Taurasi's game-high 23. The Mercury never trailed in the contest and cruised to a convincing 92-73 win to clinch the series and advance to the Conference Finals vs. top-seeded Seattle.

PHOENIX/SEATTLE 2010 WESTERN CONFERENCE FINALS

The Mercury advanced to the Western Conference Finals for the third time in four seasons and faced top-seeded Seattle, which defeated Phoenix in each of five meetings during the regular season. Featuring the league's best record at 28-6 and a healthy WNBA MVP Lauren Jackson, the Storm posed a formidable challenge. In a defensive slugfest that saw neither team shoot better than 39% from the field, the Mercury suffered an eight point loss in Seattle in Game One. Candice Dupree once again filled up the stat sheet with her second straight double-double scoring 15 points and grabbing 11 rebounds. Back home for Game Two and facing elimination, the Mercury was poised to force a game three extending its lead to as many as 19 points in the second half and 13 with 5:35 remaining. However, the Storm closed the game on a 21-5 run including a game-winning three-pointer from Sue Bird with 2.8 seconds left ending Phoenix's season.

PHOENIX/SEATTLE 2011 WESTERN CONFERENCE SEMIFINALS

With a 19-15 record for the season, the Mercury finished third in the Western Conference and faced second-seeded Seattle in the Conference Semifinals. Phoenix opened the series with a 19-point loss on the road after the Storm held the league's most potent offense to just 61 points for the game, its lowest output during the 2011 season. Returning home for Game 2, Candice Dupree scored a game-high 29 points on a franchise-record-tying 12 made field goals (12-of-14) to lead the Mercury to a 92-83 victory, a game in which Phoenix led from start to finish. Back to Seattle for Game 3, the Mercury overcame an 18-point deficit to knock off the defending champion Storm and advanced to its third consecutive Western Conference Finals. After scoring 19 points, Diana Taurasi fouled out of the game with 6:38 remaining and Phoenix trailing 60-59, but Penny Taylor scored 11 of her 19 points in the final six minutes to lead the Mercury. She also added a franchise postseason record 17 rebounds in the contest. Dupree scored a team-high 20 points, including a game-winning offensive rebound basket with 1.5 seconds remaining. It marked the Mercury's first win at Key Arena since the 2009 regular season.

PHOENIX/MINNESOTA 2011 WESTERN CONFERENCE FINALS

The Mercury advanced to the Western Conference Finals for the fourth time in five seasons and faced top-seeded Minnesota. The Lynx hosted Game 1 of the Conference Finals and controlled the entire contest, never trailing to Phoenix and leading by as many as 30 points. Much like Game 1 of the Conference Semifinals against Seattle, the Mercury sputtered out of the gate, shooting just 3-of-18 from the field in the first quarter. Diana Taurasi led all scorers with 22 points on 7-of-15 shooting. Facing elimination at home in Game 2, the Mercury played an even first half with the Lynx and entered the halftime break trailing by just two points but Minnesota outscored Phoenix 60-41 in the second half to secure its berth into the WNBA Finals. Taurasi and DeWanna Bonner scored a game-high 22 points each, combining for 44 of the team's 86 points. Candice Dupree contributed a game-high 11 rebounds.

PHOENIX/LOS ANGELES 2013 WESTERN CONFERENCE SEMIFINALS

A 19-15 regular season record earned the third-seeded Mercury a Western Conference Semifinals matchup with the second-seeded Los Angeles Sparks. Days earlier, in the regular season finale in Los Angeles, the Mercury lost a meaningless game by 20-plus points, but Phoenix opened the first-round series on the road with a dramatic 11-point victory, stealing Game 1 and homecourt advantage behind a playoff career-high tying 30 points from Diana Taurasi. Los Angeles took homecourt back, though, as Candace Parker's 31-point performance helped the Sparks stave off elimination in front of more than 11,000 Mercury fans. The series-deciding Game 3 saw the Sparks take the lead with 11 seconds remaining on a Candace Parker layup, but the Mercury's All-Star rookie, Brittney Griner, hit a game-winning turnaround jumper with 4.9 seconds left, and the Mercury advanced to the Western Conference Finals for the fourth time in five seasons.

PHOENIX/MINNESOTA 2013 WESTERN CONFERENCE FINALS

The Mercury advanced to the Western Conference Finals for the fourth time in five seasons and the fifth time in the last seven, only to earn a matchup with the top-seeded Minnesota Lynx. The Mercury provided little resistance in Game 1, falling 85-62 on the road. A return to US Airways Center for Game 2 saw the Mercury lead after one quarter but fall behind after the Lynx dominated both the second and third quarters. A team-high 21 points from Diana Taurasi in Game 2 was not enough to keep the Mercury's season alive, and the Lynx advanced to the WNBA Finals, where they would win their second title in three seasons.

PHOENIX/LOS ANGELES 2014 WESTERN CONFERENCE SEMIFINALS

The Mercury entered the 2014 WNBA playoffs as the one-seed having capped off a historic 29-win regular season. The Western Conference Semifinals opened at US Airways Center with the Mercury as the favorite against the Sparks, a familiar foe and one the Mercury beat five times during the regular season. Game 1 of the series, however, went down to the wire. The Sparks went on 10-2 run to open the game, but the Mercury stormed back and held a one point lead at the end of the first quarter. The teams went back and forth throughout the rest of the game that saw a total of 18 lead changes and six ties. The score was tied with 40.8 seconds left and Phoenix connected on eight-of-eight free throws the rest of the way and took Game 1 behind Diana Taurasi's 34 points and six three-pointers. The series shifted to Los Angeles for Game 2 where the Mercury opened the game outscoring the Sparks 30-14 in the first quarter and never looked back. Phoenix shot 53.5-percent for the game and led by as many as 30 points. The Mercury advanced to the Western Conference Finals for the fifth time in six seasons.

PHOENIX/MINNESOTA 2014 WESTERN CONFERENCE FINALS

The Mercury saw themselves in familiar territory in the 2014 Western Conference Finals. It was the fifth time in six seasons and sixth time in the last eight they have been just one step from the WNBA Finals. This series also marked the third straight Western Conference Finals matchup against the Minnesota Lynx for Phoenix. The Mercury entered the series having lost four straight playoff games against the Lynx but the 2014 edition of this marquee matchup would have a different twist as Phoenix held homecourt advantage. The Mercury came out focused and aggressive in Game 1, scoring the first nine points of the game. Phoenix led by as many as 25 points in Game 1 and never trailed. All five starters scored in double figures and Penny Taylor's career-high 13 rebounds were a game-high. The Mercury kept the pedal to the metal to open Game 2, outscoring Minnesota 22-9 in the first quarter. Phoenix held a six point lead at the start of the fourth quarter, but couldn't overcome Maya Moore's 13 fourth quarter points as Minnesota closed the game on a 7-2 run to even the series and force a deciding third game. Phoenix had lost only one game at US Airways Center in 2014 and that homecourt advantage was in full force for Game 3. The Mercury took the lead for good five minutes into the game and led by as many as 22 points. Strong performances from Diana Taurasi (31 points, 7 assists) and Brittney Griner (22 points) helped the Mercury take Game 3 and advance to the WNBA Finals for the fourth time in franchise history. Phoenix had gotten Minnesota off their backs and were just three wins from the third title in franchise history.

PHOENIX/CHICAGO 2014 WNBA FINALS

Phoenix entered the 2014 WNBA Finals as the favorite facing a young Chicago Sky team that recorded two series upsets to advance to their first ever championship round. Game 1 showed the offensive firepower of Phoenix would be difficult to overcome as Phoenix shot 58.5-percent en route to a 83-62 win. Led by Candice Dupree's 13-of-17 shooting from the floor, the hot shooting of the Mercury put plenty of points on the board while the tough defense of Phoenix held Chicago to just 20 points in the first half. Brittney Griner set a WNBA Finals record with eight blocks in Game 1. The tone of Game 2 was much more physical as Chicago showed they weren't going down without a fight. Griner was knocked to the floor twice during the first half. The first time she was poked in the eye during a rebound attempt. Later in the second quarter, Griner took an elbow to the face that resulted in a chipped tooth. Despite the physical nature of the game, and the star center shuffling back and forth between the court and the training room, the Mercury used a balanced offensive attack to take a commanding 2-0 series lead. Griner's status for Game 3, however, was up in the air as the All-Star center remained in Phoenix for further tests on her right eye. As it turned out, the Defensive Player of the Year underwent a minor procedure on her eye and was ruled out for Game 3 in Chicago. On the court, Game 3 was close for the entire 40 minutes. Seven lead changes and 12 ties in the game kept everyone on the edge of their seats. The Mercury led by five points with five minutes left before a late Chicago rally tied the game with 33 seconds left. That set the stage for what will forever be one of the most memorable clutch shots in league history. Coach of the Year Sandy Brondello drew up a play that the team executed to perfection as Diana Taurasi drove right and hit a fading, one-handed leaner—and was fouled—with 14.3 seconds on the clock. The free throw made it a three-point game and the Mercury never looked back, completing a three-game sweep of Chicago and winning their third WNBA Championship in franchise history.

Phoebus took over in last round victory to lead the Phoenix Mercury to their first WNBA title. Phoenix defeated Chicago in the first two games of the best-of-three series, winning by 21 and 29, but the third game was a nail-biter with center Brittney Griner on the bench with an eye injury. With the score tied, Durant held a stop and foul with 34 seconds left and then made her free throw. Penny Taylor then hit free throws to take the game, 97-92, and finish the series sweep. The Mercury also won titles in 2007 and 2008.

PHOENIX/TULSA 2015 WESTERN CONFERENCE SEMIFINALS

The Mercury captured the No. 2 seed in the West and entered the 2015 Playoffs having won three of its final four games of the regular season. Game 1 of the Western Conference Semifinals was held at Talking Stick Resort Arena where the Mercury faced off against the Tulsa Shock, a team they went 3-1 against during the regular season. Behind 13 points by DeWanna Bonner in the opening half, the Mercury opened up the game outscoring the Shock, 52-22, in the first half before going on to win 88-55. Brittney Griner finished with 18 points, a new WNBA Playoff record 11 blocks and eight rebounds. The 33-point win also set a new WNBA record for the largest margin of victory in a Playoff game. After the big win, the Mercury followed up its Game 1 performance with a 91-67 win in Game 2 on the road at Tulsa. Griner recorded her second-straight double-double with game highs in points (23), rebounds (12) and blocks (5). Also posting a double-double was Bonner, who knocked down all three of her three-point attempts en route to a 20 point, 11 rebound performance. Phoenix shot a blistering 53.4 percent (31-of-58) from the field, while connecting on 58.3 percent (7-of-12) from long range. The Game 2 win solidified the Mercury's appearance in its sixth Western Conference Finals in seven seasons.

SERIES-BY-SERIES PLAYOFF HISTORY

PHOENIX/MINNESOTA 2015 WESTERN CONFERENCE FINALS

The Mercury once again found themselves in the Western Conference in 2015 for the sixth time in seven seasons, and the seventh time in the last nine years. What also came as a familiar site was the Minnesota Lynx, as the 2015 WNBA Western Conference Finals marked the fourth straight year Phoenix and Minnesota squared off for a spot in the WNBA Finals. The Mercury entered the series with Minnesota having won the regular season series, 3-2, and had claimed a 2-1 series win over the Lynx in the 2014 Western Conference Finals just a year ago. In Game 1 in Minnesota, DeWanna Bonner played all 10 minutes for Phoenix in the first quarter to help open up a 21-14 Mercury lead. The Lynx quickly stormed back in the next quarter, outscoring Phoenix 21-11 in the second after the Mercury shot just 23.1 percent in the second stanza. Trailing by three entering the final quarter, Bonner, Candic Dupree and Brittney Griner played all 10 minutes, but were unable to overcome Maya Moore's 10, fourth quarter, points to give Minnesota the Game 1 win. After Bonner was the only Mercury player to score in double-figures in Game 1, four Mercury members reached double-figures in Game 2. Maya Moore, however, accounted for 40 of Minnesota's 72 points, which led to a one-point win over the Mercury in Game 2 to sweep the series. After trailing by ten following the opening quarter, the Mercury outscored the Lynx, 26-16, in the second behind Griner's 13 points in the second ten minutes of play to tie the game up at 41-apiece at the half. The game remained close throughout the second half, as no team led by more than six in the final 20 minutes of play. With the Mercury up one entering the fourth quarter, Moore scored nine of her points to seal the win in the end. With the game tied at 71-71, Moore stole a bad pass and was fouled with 1.5 seconds on the clock. The forward sank the first free throw to seal the series for Minnesota, taking Game 2, 72-71.

PHOENIX/INDIANA 2016 WNBA PLAYOFFS ROUND 1

After claiming the eighth, and final, seed in the 2016 WNBA Playoffs with a win on September 16 against Seattle, the Mercury played the waiting game to learn its first-round opponent. That news came late Sunday evening on September 18, as Phoenix learned it would play a single-game, win-or-go-home, series in Indiana against the Fever due to the WNBA's new playoff format. After dropping two of the three matchups with Indiana in the regular season, the Mercury entered the contest as a slight underdog. Diana Taurasi and Brittney Griner, however, had other plans, as the two Olympic gold medalists led the Mercury to an 89-78 win. Taurasi scored a game-high 20 points, knocking down three of her seven three-point attempts and converting on all nine of her free throws. Griner added 18 points and a team-high nine rebounds, to go along with three blocks in the win. In addition to their performances, Mercury forward, DeWanna Bonner, was instrumental down the stretch to seal the win for Phoenix. After shooting just two-of-five from the field in the first half, Bonner scored 11 of her 18 points in the fourth quarter to secure the Mercury's place in the second-round of the Playoffs.

PHOENIX/NEW YORK 2016 WNBA PLAYOFFS ROUND 2

In addition to a one-game series in the first round of the new WNBA Playoffs format, second round games also included a one-game series on the higher-seeded team's home court. For Phoenix, this meant a trip to Madison Square Garden to take on the New York Liberty, a team the Mercury also finished 1-2 against in the regular season. Playing for just the second time against one another in the Playoffs (New York topped Phoenix, 59-41, in a 1997 WNBA Semifinal game), the Mercury jumped out to a hot start to lead for the majority of the first quarter. New York claimed its first lead of the game with 55 seconds remaining in the opening stanza, but Phoenix quickly responded with a Brittney Griner jump shot to even the game at 25. After leading by as many as 15 in the second quarter, the Mercury found themselves up at the half, 52-41, but a strong start by the Liberty in the second half quickly erased the visiting team's lead and tied the game up at 54 less than three minutes into the third quarter. The game remained tight over the next 17 minutes, but the world's greatest women's basketball player ended that with 1:29 to play, as Diana Taurasi buried a three-pointer to put Phoenix up 93-86 and seal the win. Taurasi scored a game-high 30 points in the game, moving past Lisa Leslie's into second place on the league's all-time leading scorers list in postseason play. The win also moved Taurasi to a career record of 13-3 in WNBA elimination games, including a 6-0 mark on the road. Griner again had a monster performance, posting a double-double with 22 points and 10 rebounds. Playing in her final game at Madison Square Garden, Penny Taylor added 20 points and five rebounds, while knocking down four of her six three-point attempts.

PHOENIX/MINNESOTA 2016 WNBA PLAYOFFS SEMIFINALS

Even with the league's new Playoff format put in place, it was only fitting Phoenix and Minnesota would meet once again in the Semifinals with a berth to the WNBA Finals on the line, doing so for the fourth-consecutive year. It was also the Mercury's seventh time in the last eight seasons, and eighth in the last ten, that Phoenix found itself in the Semifinals Round. After Minnesota had two weeks off with a first and second round bye in the Playoffs, it appeared the Lynx may have had a little rust in the opening minutes of Game 1, as the Mercury jumped out to a 14-8 lead after a pair of Diana Taurasi three-pointers. That lead did not last long, as Minnesota's bench helped spark a 12-3 run, then another 19-4 run to begin the second quarter to take a commanding lead. The Lynx led by as many as 25 in the game, as Taurasi, who had a team-high 25 points, Brittney Griner, Penny Taylor and Candice Dupree did not play in the entire fourth quarter. In Game 2, the Mercury found themselves in trouble less than two minutes into the game, as Brittney Griner picked up two fouls in the first 1:41 of the game. She later picked up her third foul with just under 51 seconds in the first quarter, leading to very minimal action in the first half. Minnesota took advantage of the Mercury being without its rim protector, as the Lynx scored 35 points in the opening quarter. Phoenix was able to chip into that league before the half, but still found themselves down by eight heading into the intermission. Throughout the second half, the Mercury made multiple runs, cutting the Minnesota lead to six midway through the third quarter. But for every run the Mercury made, the Lynx responded with points on the scoreboard, never allowing Phoenix to trim to lead to anything less than six. Taurasi again led the Mercury with a game-high 31 points, while Penny Taylor added 16 points and five assists in the 86-96 loss. Entering Game 3 down 0-2, Phoenix finally got its chance to play in front of its home fans at Talking Stick Resort Arena after playing the first four playoff games on the road. The Mercury had played 10 of its last 12 games on the road over the last 32 days and was playing just its second home game in 17 days. Phoenix managed to hold a 23-18 lead after the opening quarter, but trailed by one going into halftime. Fatigue finally caught up with the Mercury, as Minnesota went on to outscore Phoenix 26-15 in the third quarter, and then limited the Mercury to only 14 points in the fourth. Taurasi and DeWanna Bonner led the Mercury with 12 points each, as Penny Taylor finished with four points and four rebounds in her final WNBA game.

2017 PHOENIX MERCURY MEDIA GUIDE

MISCELLANEOUS

BE HEARD

Through WNBA Cares, the WNBA is deeply committed to creating programs that improve the quality of life for all people with a special emphasis on education, youth and family development and health and wellness.

Whether it's working with schools or community-based organizations, partnering with service-based volunteer organizations, teams maximize their impact in the local communities throughout the season.

FIT

WNBA FIT

The WNBA FIT platform is the league's comprehensive health and wellness program that encourages physical activity and healthy living for children and families. In cooperation with well-established health and wellness organizations, WNBA FIT informs, educates and engages children and families in healthy living practices.

INSPIRING WOMEN

INSPIRING WOMEN

The Inspiring Woman platform celebrates women who demonstrate their ability to inspire others through their commitment, passion and dedication to work, family and community.

BREAST HEALTH AWARENESS

The WNBA Breast Health Awareness program focuses on generating awareness and educating women about breast cancer in addition to raising funds for the initiative.

HOOPS FOR TROOPS

WNBA CARES HOOPS FOR TROOPS

The WNBA is committed to supporting our active and retired service men and women and their families around the world. Through the WNBA Cares Hoops for Troops program, teams and players honor military and their families through a variety of activation including in-arena nights, military base visits, ticket programs, in-game activation and meet & greets with Wounded Warriors.

COMMUNITY ASSIST

WNBA CARES COMMUNITY ASSIST AWARD

The WNBA Cares Community Assist Award presented by State Farm recognizes a WNBA player for their outstanding efforts in the community, and for ongoing philanthropic work during each month of the 2017 WNBA season.

MERCURY COMMUNITY RELATIONS

The Phoenix Mercury has placed a huge emphasis on supporting our local community throughout the years. Since the team first stepped onto the court in 1997, community outreach has been a cornerstone of who we are as a team and organization. The Mercury works tirelessly to create opportunities and serve as ambassadors for all girls and women in sports. Throughout the season, Mercury players participate in approximately 40 community events and partner with many Valley non-profits such as Be The Match, Playworks, Valley of the Sun United Way, Save the Family, American Cancer Society, The Boys and Girls Clubs of Metropolitan Phoenix and numerous local schools.

The Phoenix Mercury remains committed to aiding and inspiring everyone to stay true to who they are, supporting the community, and promoting awareness for all kinds of different initiatives, including: healthy living, women's health, anti-bullying, and equality. The Phoenix Mercury strives to give back to the community that continues to support the team. Last season alone, the Phoenix Mercury's work in the community reached approximately 20,000 people.

Additionally, each year thousands of kids and their families attended Mercury games as part of the Give the Gift program. Give the Gift is an avenue for women and men to support the Mercury by sending families, who otherwise would not have the means to attend, to Phoenix Mercury games. The goal of the program is to build confidence and self-esteem in the kids who attend, exposing them to Mercury players and giving them positive role models to emulate.

In addition, the 2017 season will mark the Mercury's tenth year of the Adopt-A-Team program. Adopt-A-Team is a mentorship program in which a Title I high school girls' varsity basketball team is selected to take part in year-round basketball and life skills lessons as well as attend Phoenix Mercury games. The program seeks to increase confidence, prepare students for life after high school graduation and encourage healthy living. The team also receives new equipment, uniforms and more.

TALKING STICK RESORT ARENA

From its planning inception in 1988 and eventual opening in June of 1992, Talking Stick Resort Arena (formerly US Airways Center, as of October 2015) was the benchmark for other cities and other sports facilities. Its design boasted innovations that had not been seen in arenas of its day including multi-story suite levels, attached premium parking facilities and integrated team practice facility. Both public and private critics saw Talking Stick Resort Arena as a catalytic project capable of stimulating urban growth.

In its first full year of operation, the arena received every award a new venue of its kind was afforded, including Best New Concert Venue by Performance Magazine and Best NBA Facility by acclaim of those who know best, the players themselves.

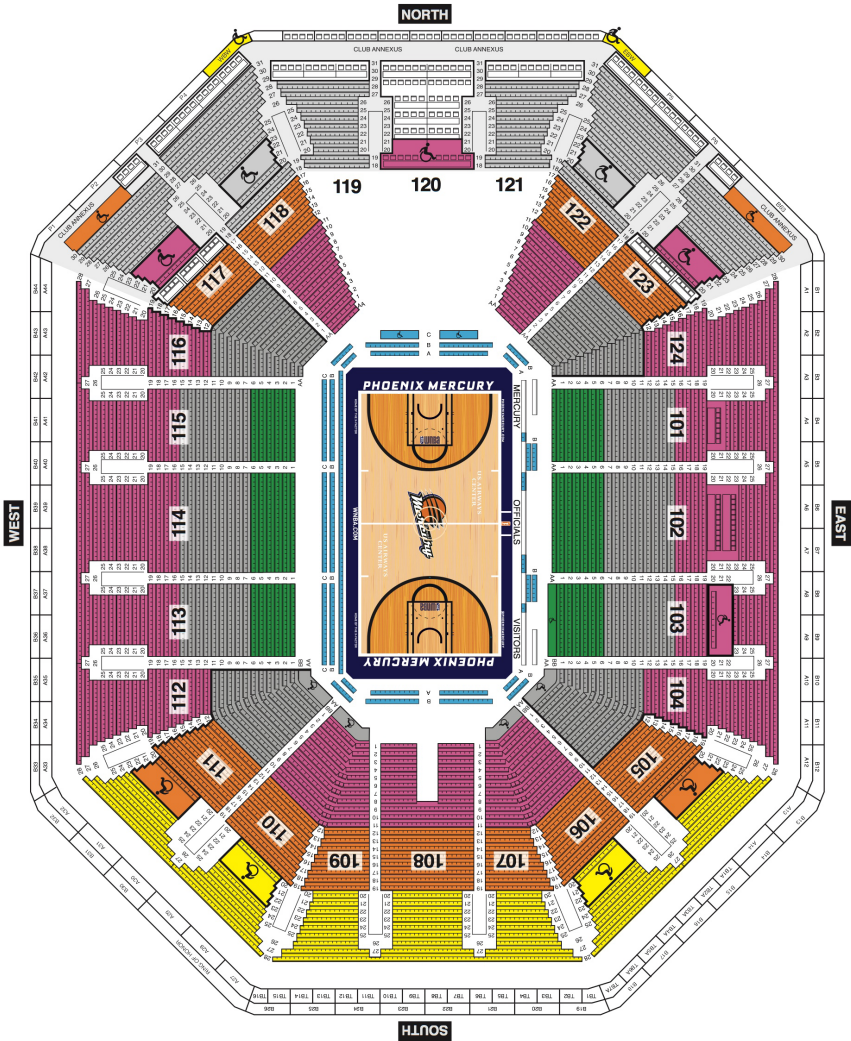

Through the course of the 90's, new facilities around the country followed the example of Talking Stick Resort Arena and new projects sprung up in nearly all the major western state metropolitan areas: Denver, Portland, Seattle, Salt Lake City and in 1999, Los Angeles and Dallas with dramatic new STAPLES Center and American Airlines Center. Technology changed, entertainment options proliferated and the city's emerging new downtown continued to evolve in positive ways.

Talking Stick Resort Arena has completed a major $70 million expansion and improvement project in 2004. Gone is the block exterior, replaced with soaring glass walls. The outdoor ticket office is now enclosed inside the 14,000 square foot Casino Arizona Pavilion, serving as a grand entrance highlighted by a 12 x 20 foot video wall. On the east side, the Coors Light Cold Zone is a flexible outdoor entertainment venue covered by a football field-length canopy featuring state-of-the-art sound and video projection systems, as well as the stylish Coors Light Cold Zone bar area and facilities that double as television studio facilities for Suns telecasts and a performance stage for music events. Other improvements include new technology installed in the bowl including a 900-foot LED ribbon, a center-hung scoreboard with HDTV screens, a new sound system, a new Courtside Club, Blue Moon Club and Verve Energy Lounge nightclub, and the APS Gorilla Green House, a 7,000 square foot family-friendly active home to the Phoenix Suns Gorilla. At street level, Talking Stick Resort Arena features a Carl's Jr., an expanded Team Shop and the Blue Moon Club. In 2012, US Airways Center opened Theatre Boxes on the Club Suite Level in the south end of the arena, featuring first-class amenities including a four-person suite and a reserved table in the all-inclusive lounge.

Why is it important to get WNBA League Pass this season?

WNBA League Pass is the perfect complement to the full slate of regular season and post season games offered on TV by ESPN2, ABC and NBA TV.

Will WNBA League Pass stream all WNBA games lives this season?

WNBA League Pass will offer approximately 185 live games, which will complement the 80+ games on ESPN, ESPN2 and NBA TV. Games airing on ESPN2 and ABC, as well as other games taking place during the telecast windows of ESPN2 and ABC games, will be subject to live blackout rules. Local blackouts may apply for each WNBA market depending on the local TV schedule.

What are some of the features offered by WNBA League Pass?

WNBA League Pass provides multi-game viewing, which allows fans to watch up to four games at once. Fans are able to activate statistical overlays when watching games. All games streamed live are archived and then made available on demand. WNBA League Pass provides a live game DVR, enabling viewers to pause and rewind game action, as well as a timeline feature to jump directly to game highlights. A subscription allows game viewing on multiple devices, including smartphones, tablets and computers.

Can I watch WNBA League Pass games on my mobile device?

WNBA League Pass is available as part of WNBA Center Court-the free WNBA mobile application available on iPhone, iPad and Android. Once you have purchased your subscription online, you go to the app settings and log in.
